Social and Economic Management in the Competitive Society Edgar Krau,1997-12-31 In many countries of the world there is a growing feeling of uneasiness about the economic situation and its related social consequences Every day the newspapers tell us that the recession is over but we see only that scores of organizations go bankrupt while others are struggling hard to stay in business that many people have lost their jobs but welfare measures are being reduced or abolished altogether By now we should have become aware that our society is not facing temporary market difficulties but a much deeper and wider crisis with only one root in worldwide economic developments while other roots are social and psychological in nature These factors are intertwined and therefore the answer to the crisis cannot merely be an economic cost benefit analysis of organizational management Sociocultural factors participate in the economic process even at the level of individual organizations and what happens in them has backlash influences on the entire society Therefore the problem is not the management of the individual organization but the macroconception of management which in the Western world of today separates the economic aspects from the social ones and the individual organizations from society Social and Economic Management in the Competitive Society begins by analyzing the management models of today to determine which characteristics yield the best results on the economic and social levels The second step is to indicate the necessary changes of managerial thinking and acting in order to boost economic results with reasonable profits while minimizing social costs Finally the potential ramifications of such changes are explored

Industrial Relations in Europe B.C. Roberts, 2022-12-09 First published in 1985 Industrial Relations in Europe examines the development of trade unions and their relations with the employers and employers organisations in a number of Western European countries in the 1980s The shared characteristics of these systems are common heritage of political democracy market economies the right of employers to manage the business for which they are responsible and the right of employees to belong to unions which are free to bargain and to seek political goals which will advance the interests of their members With case studies from Denmark Germany France Great Britain Norway etc the volume showcases the major structural changes brought about by technological economic and social factors which had significant implications for trade unions and traditional patterns of industrial relations A major response was the erosion of centralized processes of decision making and a return to the individual local initiative and an increased interest in entrepreneurship This book is a must read for scholars of political economy industrial economy and economics in general

The Last Half-Century Morris Janowitz, 1978 The Last Half Century represents the culmination of a lifetime of scholarship by Morris Janowitz In this comprehensive and systematic analysis of the major trends in American society during the past fifty years he probes the weakening of popular party affiliations and the increased inability of elected representatives to rule Centering his work on the crucial concept of social control Janowitz orders and assesses a vast amount of empirical research to clarify the failure of basic social institutions to resolve our chronic conflicts For Janowitz social control denotes a society's capacity to regulate itself within a moral framework that transcends simple self interest He poses urgent questions Why has social control been so drastically weakened in our advanced industrial society And what strategies can we use to strengthen it again The explanation rests in part on the changes in social structure which make it more and more complicated for citizens to calculate their political self interest At the same time complex economic and defense problems also strain an already overburdened legislative system making effective responsive political rule increasingly difficult Janowitz concludes by assessing the response of the social sciences to the pressing problem of social control and asserts that new forms of citizen participation in the government must be found

Competition Stefan Arora-Jonsson,Nils Brunsson,Raimund Hasse,Katarina Lagerström,2021 The spread of competition into all areas of society is one of the master trends of modern society Yet social scientists have played a surprisingly modest role in the analysis of its implications as the discussion of competition has largely been confined to the narrow context of economic markets This book opens up competition for the study of social scientists The central message of the book is that competition seems ubiquitous but it should not be taken for granted or be naturalized as an inevitable aspect of human existence Its emergence maintenance and change are based on institutions and organizational efforts and a central challenge for social science is to learn more about these processes and their outcomes With the use of a novel definition of competition more fundamental questions can be addressed than merely whether or not competition works How is competition constructed and by whom Which institutional and organizational foundations need to be considered Which behaviours result from competition What are its consequences Can competition be removed And how do these factors vary with the object of competition be it money attention status or other scarce and desired objects The chapters in the book investigate these and more questions in studies of competition among and within schools universities multinational corporations auditors waste disposal firms and fashion designers and users The chapters are written by scholars from several social science fields management organization studies sociology anthropology and education Publisher s website

The Dynamic Society Graeme Snooks,2002-09-11 This book discusses the nature and process of change in human society over the past two million years The author draws on economic historical and biological concepts to examine the driving forces of change and looks to likely developments in the future This analysis produces some very thought provoking and controversial conclusions

Comparative Approaches to Old and New Institutional Economics Akansel, Ilkben,2019-10-18 As today s world develops and evolves so does its economics New economic approaches have begun to emerge but traditional methods are still being implemented As both systems provide different solutions to society s economic issues thoughtful research and analysis is required regarding the tactics and strategies that both theories utilize Comparative Approaches to Old and New Institutional Economics is an essential reference source that discusses the sequential history of these two economic theories as well as their application to global fiscal disputes Featuring research on topics such as international relations business management and institutionalism this book is ideally designed for economists analysts managers researchers practitioners academicians and students seeking coverage on the parallel methods of these economic philosophies      European Competition Law Annual 2005 Claus-Dieter Ehlermann, Isabela Atanasiu, 2007-03-12 This is the tenth in a series of volumes based on the annual workshops on EU Competition Law and Policy held at the Robert Schuman Centre of the European University Institute in Florence The volume reproduces the materials of the roundtable debate which examined the interaction between competition law and intellectual property law The workshop participants a group of senior representatives of the Commission and the national competition authorities of some EC Member States renowned international academics and legal practitioners discussed the economic and legal issues that arise in this particular area of application of the EC competition rules under the following headings 1 whether the characteristics of intellectual property products markets justify special treatment under the competition rules 2 a critical assessment of the Block Exemption Regulation and corresponding Guidelines recently adopted in this area of EC competition law enforcement 3 the specific enforcement issues that arise in relation to patent pools and collecting societies and 4 specific problems related to IP in the domains of merger control and application of Article 82 EC      A Meta-Psychological Perspective on the Individual Course of Life Edgar Krau, 2003-11-26 At one time or another everyone experiences an occult phenomenon It is not a matter of imagination or faith This book uses scientific knowledge from physics physiology psychology and other domains to both analyze and understand occult phenomena The author's basic position is to accept as real the forebodings and causal occurrences of unknown nature that can be verified in practice      Resources in Education, 1994      Managing FDI for Development in Resource-Rich States L. Barclay, 2015-04-28 This book is a timely study in light of the resurgence of resource nationalism that is currently occurring in several resource rich developing countries It moves away from the traditional explanations for the disappointing economic performance of resource rich developing countries notably those advanced by key researchers      Sustainability Strategies R. Orsato, 2016-01-13 By analysing the rationales for sustainability strategies this book addresses a timely question for managers academics and MBAs when does it pay to be green Based on solid theoretical foundations and empirical research it clarifies the elements involved in the formation and evaluation of sustainability strategies in firms      American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1998 R R Bowker Publishing, 1999-03
