Suicide As A Learned Behavior:

Suicide as a Learned Behavior David Lester, 1987 Suicide in Later Life Nancy J. Osgood, 1992-01-01 Using statistical data and case studies including the deaths of such figures as Ernest Hemingway and Bruno Bettelheim Dr Nancy Osgood realistically portrays the problem of late life suicide and examines how we as a nation might change our behavior toward the elderly to reduce their risk of suicide

THEORIES OF SUICIDE John F. Gunn, David Lester, 2015-06-01 Some researchers in the field of suicidology think that the old theories of suicide are too constraining and impede advances in the understanding of suicide However the book's authors are not quite so critical of past theories In the book they review the classic theories of suicide both psychological and sociological because they are the foundation of our current theories and also propose the skeletons of possible future theories The goal of the text is to present researchers with theories to guide their research encourage them to modify these theories perhaps meld them together in some cases and think how they might propose new theories Presented in three sections the first reviews significant psychological theories including Suicide as Escape Interpersonal Psychological theory The Role of Defeat and Entrapment in Suicidal Behavior Suicide Ethology and Sociobiology Stress Diatheses Cognitive Theories Learning Perspective on Suicide Theories of Personality and Suicide Typological Theories and the Pathophysiology of Suicide The second section of the text addresses Sociological and Economic Theories including Suicide as Deviance Naroll's Thwarting Disorientation Theory three classic sociological theories as well as several minor theories A comprehensive chapter on economic theories is offered by Bijou Yang The final section concentrates on Critical Thoughts About Theories of Suicide a new and growing influence in academia and scholarship

Suicide and Self-Damaging Behavior Denys deCatanzaro, 2013-10-22 Suicide and Self Damaging Behavior A Sociobiological Perspective reviews the status of suicide and other exceptions to the prevailing regularities of behavior This book discusses the apparent anomaly of self destructive behavior current incidence of suicide and self injury self destructiveness in other species and biological fitness and social ecology of suicide The pro suicidal gene expression and natural selection death concept breakdown of other life preserving factors with coping failure and selection processes and altruism are also elaborated This text likewise covers the chronic self abuse risk taking and self injurious or self mutilative behavior This publication is a good source for anthropologists psychologists sociologists and social scientists concerned with self destructive behavior

Suicide Among the Armed Forces Antoon Leenaars, 2016-12-05 Not since the great military suicide epidemic of the American Civil War have we seen so many of our heroes our soldiers and veterans die by suicide Why War is violence There is intent to cause death or serious injury or threat to the physical and psychological integrity of others War stress is unforgiving Suicide is an all too frequent response Today one member of the military dies by suicide every day This is a new epidemic This book addresses some tough questions What do we know about suicides in the military Are rates high Or low Is military suicide the same or different in the United States and Canada Is military culture relevant Do we know the causes patterns and associations Is suicide among the armed forces similar to or different from suicide among civilians Can it be altruistic Through individual case studies and general population approaches we attempt to understand the cost of military service It is especially through the personal stories of the great Civil War hero General Emory Upton Admiral of the Navy Mike Boorda and Hospital Corpsman Chris Purcell that we find answers We learn there is a relative lack of understanding about military suicides mainly due to the very complexity of suicide The nature of suicide is not monolithic it is multi determined Military service we find is a risk factor for suicide and suicidal behavior Military veterans are twice as likely as civilians to die by suicide Posttraumatic stress disorder PTSD and traumatic brain Injury TBI are especially noted to be huge risk factors but so are other physical and psychological injuries Sadly the aftershocks of war include not only suicides but also incarceration motor vehicle accidents homicides homicide s suicides and many more faces of violence And there are many more uncounted wounded and dead The families of traumatized soldiers and veterans too are indirect victims of their traumatic experience and for some their suicides there is secondary traumatization Yet as this book shows we must not forget that despite the unbearable pain of war soldiers veterans and their military families including children are typically resilient They can survive Without question our vulnerable heroes and veterans are at risk for suicide But there is secrecy surrounding this which may well be the biggest barrier The government the Department of Defense the military veterans groups survivors health providers and other stakeholders need to develop and support more research more programs and more care for suicidal and disabled armed services personnel veterans and survivors This war stress needs to stop

Handbook of Contemporary Behavioral Economics Morris Altman, Offering the comprehensive articulation of behavioral economics theory this book includes coverage of critical areas such as the Economic Agent Context and Modeling Decision Making Experiments and Implications Labor Issues Household and Family Issues Life and Death Taxation Ethical Investment and Tipping and more Understanding Suicide Philippe Courtet, 2016-03-05 In this book international experts address a range of key current issues relating to suicide The opening chapters discuss nosology definitions clinical determinants and conceptual models of the suicide process and consider the evidence regarding potential biomarkers of suicide risk based on neuroscientific research Adopting a neo Durkheimian perspective the role of various social factors in the genesis of suicidal behavior is then explored in depth Practical user friendly tools that facilitate risk assessment by clinicians are provided and detailed consideration is given to efficient and innovative strategies for the prevention of suicide and the treatment of suicidal behavior such as psychotherapy psychopharmacological approaches and effective organization of care including surveillance and the use of online tools The final part of the book focuses on the need for and development of a personalized approach within the field of suicide prevention Suicide and Self-Harm in Prisons and Jails Christine Tartaro, David Lester, 2010-07-12 Police and corrections personnel must always be mindful of the possibility that those in their custody may attempt suicide or commit an act of self mutilation Persons housed in prisons jails and police lockups tend to be at a higher risk for such destructive behavior than members of the general population Reasons for this can be found by examining the mental health substance abuse and physical sexual abuse histories of inmates in addition to deficits in their coping skills and the stress and uncertainty generated by incarceration This book explores several topics pertaining to suicide and deliberate self harm in the corrections setting including who tends to commit these acts where when and how these incidents occur screening mechanisms the role of environmental stimuli in facilitating or preventing acts of self harm interpersonal relations among inmates and between inmates and staff and the role of the courts in setting and ruling on suicide prevention policies The authors discuss the role of prevention techniques that offer a balance between strict opportunity reduction and softer motivation reduction strategies The book also includes suggestions for diversion programs that can keep mentally ill inmates out of prisons and jails and transition planning programs to better prepare outgoing inmates for their re entry into the community

The Psychological Autopsy Antoon Leenaars, 2017-02-10 The best way to grasp the essence of death scene investigation DSI is to witness its application called the psychological autopsy by an expert forensic scientist clinician This remarkable book affords the opportunity to delve into the challenges that the forensic mental health specialist and public safety professional confront in DSI Suicides and often death are complex multidetermined events People whether police investigators or mental health professionals are generally perplexed and even confused when they are confronted by the equivocal case Was it a suicide Homicide Accident These are critical questions Dr Leenaars shows that DSI is however not mysterious the reader can learn the generally accepted evidence based protocols of the psychological autopsy Illuminated by individual idiographic case studies and general nomothetic research this definitive guide allows the investigator to uncover the bare bones of a suicide or death

Suicide Ronald V. Clarke, 2017-07-12 Suicide prevention is a major goal of the Public Health Service of the US government This has been the case since the 1960s when the National Institute of Mental Health established a center for the study and prevention of suicide Since then however the knowledge and research gathered has not bought about the reduction of suicide Suicide Closing the Exits was written to change this trend This book reports a program of research concerned with preventing suicide by restricting access to lethal agents such as guns drugs and carbon monoxide It may seem implausible that deeply unhappy people could be prevented from killing themselves by closing the exits but the idea is not a new one and has been discussed widely in the literature The authors argue that restricting access to lethal agents should be considered a major preventive strategy along with the psychiatric treatment of depressed and suicidal individuals and the establishment of suicide prevention centers to counsel those in crisis Suicide represents a major contribution to the literature As such it should be read by all medical practitioners policy makers and psychologists
