Agroforestry: Science, Policy and Practice Fergus L. Sinclair, 2013-03-09 Agroforestry research is central to developing methods for the sustainable use of natural renewable resources evolving to address the needs of the coming century It is now necessary to consolidate the scientific gains now being made in process oriented research and to develop a policy framework to encourage the adoption of sustainable land use practices Agroforestry plays an important role in conserving forest resources reducing the need for deforestation Further if forest is broadly defined as tree cover agroforestry will also increase the proportion of woody biomass in farming landscapes The papers selected for inclusion in Agroforestry Science Policy and Practice establish agroforestry as an interdisciplinary science focused on the practical imperative of assisting farmers forest dwellers and landscape level planners to achieve sustainable food fuel and timber production into the 21st century Agroforestry Land-use Systems Erin E. Moore,1990 Impact of Contour Hedgerows ,2004 Asian Studies in Hawai'i Laurianne Chun,1997 This is a fully annotated bibliography of more than 2000 Asia related masters theses and doctoral dissertations published at the University of Hawaii from 1925 to 1994 It should be a useful tool for identifying research material on Asia and on Asians overseas at the University Indonesian Agricultural Research & Development Journal ,1987
