Anishinaabe Songs for a New Millennium Marcie R. Rendon, 2024-07-16 Poem songs summon the voices of Anishinaabe ancestors and sing to future generations The ancestors that walk with us sing us our song When we get quiet enough we can hear them sing and make them audible to people today In Anishinaabe Songs for a New Millennium Marcie R Rendon a member of the White Earth Nation summons those ancestors songs and so begins the dream singing for generations yet to come The Anishinaabe heard stories in their dream songs Ojibwe author Gerald Vizenor wrote and like those stories once inscribed in pictographs on birch bark scrolls Rendon's poem songs evoke the world still unfolding around us reflecting our place in time for future generations Through dream songs and poem songs responding to works of theater choral music and opera Rendon brings memory to life the senses to attention to see the moonbeams blossoming on the windowsill to feel the hold of the earth to hear the echo of grandmother's breath to lie on the bones of ancestors and feel the rhythms of silence running deep Her singing breaking the boundaries that time would impose carries the Anishinaabe way of life and way of seeing forward in the world

Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies Cary Nelson, Dilip Gaonkar, 2013-10-28 First published in 1996 As recently as the early 1990s people wondered what was the future of cultural studies in the United States and what effects its increasing internationalization might have What type of projects would cultural studies inspire people to undertake Would established disciplines welcome its presence and adapt their practices accordingly Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies answers such questions It is now clear that while striking and innovative work is underway in many different fields most disciplinary organizations and structures have been very resistant to cultural studies Meanwhile cultural studies has been subjected to repeated attacks by conservative journalists and commentators in the public sphere Cultural studies scholars have responded not only by mounting focused critiques of the politics of knowledge but also by embracing ambitious projects of social political and cultural commentary by transgressing all the official boundaries of knowledge in a broad quest for cultural understanding This book tracks these debates and maps future strategies for cultural studies in academia and public life The contributors to Disciplinary and Dissent in Cultural Studies include established scholars and new voices In a series of polemic and exploratory essays written especially for this book they track the struggle with cultural studies in disciplines like anthropology literature and history and between cultural studies and very different domains like Native American culture and the culture of science Contributors include Arjun Appadurai Michael Denning Lawrence Grossberg Cary Nelson Constance Penley Andrew Ross and Lynn Spigel
