Sunshine Muse:

Sunshine Muse Peter Plagens, 1974 Postborder City Michael Dear, Gustavo Leclerc, 2013-11-12 The postborder metropolis of Baja California stretches from Los Angeles in the north to Tijuana and Mexicali in the south Immigrants from all over the globe flock to Southern California while corporations are drawn to the low wage industry of the Mexican border towns echoing developments in other rapid growth areas such as Phoenix El Paso and San Antonio This incredibly diverse transnational megacity is giving birth to new cultural and artistic forms as it rapidly evolves into something unique in the world Postborder City is a genuinely interdisciplinary investigation of the hybrid culture on both sides of the increasingly fluid U S Mexico border spanning the disciplines of art and art history urban planning geography Latina o studies and American studies Welcome to Painterland Anastasia Aukeman, 2016-08-09 The Rat Bastard Protective Association was an inflammatory close knit community of artists who lived and worked in a building they dubbed Painterland in the Fillmore neighborhood of midcentury San Francisco The artists who counted themselves among the Rat Bastards which included Joan Brown Bruce Conner Jay DeFeo Wally Hedrick Michael McClure and Manuel Neri exhibited a unique fusion of radicalism provocation and community Geographically isolated from a viable art market and refusing to conform to institutional expectations they animated broader social and artistic discussions through their work and became a transformative part of American culture over time Anastasia Aukeman presents new and little known archival material in this authorized account of these artists and their circle a colorful cultural milieu that intersected with the broader Beat scene Junk Gillian Whiteley, 2010-11-30 Trash garbage rubbish dross and detritus in this enjoyably radical exploration of Junk Gillian Whiteley rethinks art s historical and present appropriation of junk within our eco conscious and globalised culture She does this through an illustrated exploration of particular materials key moments and locations and the telling of a panoply of trash narratives Found and ephemeral materials are primarily associated with assemblage object based practices which emerged in the mid 1950s and culminated in the seminal exhibition The Art of Assemblage in New York in 1961 With its deployment of the discarded and the filthy Whiteley argues assemblage has been viewed as a disruptive transgressive artform that engaged with narratives of social and political dissent often in the face of modernist condemnation as worthless kitsch In the Sixties parallel techniques flourished in Western Europe the US and Australia but the idiom of assemblage and the re use of found materials and objects with artist as bricoleur is just as prevalent now This is a timely book that uncovers the etymology of waste and the cultures of disposability within these economies of wealth Art, Politics and Dissent Francis Frascina, 1999 Art Politics and Dissent provides a counter history to conventional accounts of American art Close historical examinations of particular events in Los Angeles and New York in the 1960s are interwoven with discussion of the location of these events normally marginalized or overlooked in the history of cultural politics in the United States during the postwar period City of Quartz Mike Davis, 2006-09-17 No metropolis has been more loved or more hated To its official boosters Los Angeles brings it all together To detractors LA is a sunlit mortuary where you can rot without feeling it To Mike Davis the author of this fiercely elegant and wide ranging work of social history Los Angeles is both utopia and dystopia a place where the last Joshua trees are being plowed under to make room for model communities in the desert where the rich have hired their own police to fend off street gangs as well as armed Beirut militias In City of Quartz Davis reconstructs LA s shadow history and dissects its ethereal economy He tells us who has the power and how they hold on to it He gives us a city of Dickensian extremes Pynchonesque conspiracies and a desperation straight out of Nathaniel West a city in which we may glimpse our own future mirrored with terrifying clarity

The Cinema of Urban Crisis Lawrence Webb,2025-10-01 In the 1970s cities across the United States and Western Europe faced a deep social and political crisis that challenged established principles of planning economics and urban theory At the same time film industries experienced a parallel process of transition the effects of which rippled through the aesthetic and narrative form of the decade s cinema The Cinema of Urban Crisis traces a new path through the cinematic legacy of the 1970s by drawing together these intertwined histories of urban and cultural change Bringing issues of space and place to the fore the book unpacks the geographical and spatial dynamics of film movements from the New Hollywood to the New German Cinema showing how the crisis of the seventies and the emerging postindustrial economy brought film and the city together in new configurations Chapters cover a range of cities on both sides of the Atlantic from New York Philadelphia and San Francisco to London Paris and Berlin Integrating analysis of film industries and production practices with detailed considerations of individual texts the book offers strikingly original close analyses of a wide range of films from New Hollywood The Conversation The King of Marvin Gardens Rocky to European art cinema Alice in the Cities The Passenger Tout va Bien and popular international genres such as the political thriller and the crime film Focusing on the aesthetic and representational strategies of these films the book argues that the decade s cinema engaged with and helped to shape the passage from the urban crisis of the late sixties to the neoliberal urban renaissance of the early eighties Splicing ideas from film studies with urban geography and architectural history the book offers a fresh perspective on a rich period of film history and opens up new directions for critical engagement between film and urban studies

Pacific Standard Time Martin-Gropius-Bau (Berlin, Germany),2011 This comprehensive richly illustrated book explores postwar American art from a new perspective Southern California Grounded in more than a decade of research Pacific Standard Time analyzes L A s art scene from the end of World War II to the beginning of the 1980s demonstrating the pioneering role Southern California artists played in the twentieth century s most influential art movements Page 4 of cover

A Spiritual Bridge Mzia Kvirikashvili Lawrence,2021-05-06 With this book I wanted to give at least a glimmer of joy to my eternally tormented country which for decades has been so preciously owed by the freedom gained through its blood I wanted to introduce to the English speaking world how a Georgian person thinks primarily a Georgian poet who are so numerous in Georgia And poetry after all it is a bridge between people s hearts Then walk on this bridge and connect our desires kind people Art and the City Sarah Schrank,2011-01-01 Art and the City explores the contentious relationship between civic politics and visual culture in Los Angeles Struggles between civic leaders and modernist artists to define civic identity and control public space highlight the significance of the arts as a site of political contest in the twentieth century The Future Is Present Philip Glahn,Cary Levine,2024-06-18 A critical history of the pioneering art and technology group Mobile Image and their prescient work in communications networking and information systems In The Future Is Present Philip Glahn and Cary Levine tell the fascinating history of the visionary art group Mobile Image founded by Kit Galloway and Sherrie Rabinowitz in 1977 which appropriated emerging technologies from satellites to electronic message platforms Based in Los Angeles this under studied collective worked amid urban crisis a techno boom consolidating media power and ascendant neoliberal politics Mobile Image challenged fundamental conventions of the public sphere democracy communication and political participation as well as notions of power representation and identity Glahn and Levine argue not only for the historical importance of Mobile Image but also for a critical artistic process that is at once analytic and transformative They weave themes such as embodiment and its mediation public private dialectics and techno utopian vision throughout the book binding these projects to discourses around race gender and class as well as margin and center the local and the global In today s world of ubiquitous digital re production networking and social media The Future Is Present shows how the work of Mobile Image continues to have profound implications for art technology and the politics of public and private experience Frank Lobdell Frank Lobdell,Timothy Anglin Burgard,2003 The first comprehensive overview of Frank Lobdell s paintings drawings prints and sketchbooks and his long career as artist and teacher in the San Francisco Bay Area American Countercultures: An Encyclopedia of Nonconformists, Alternative Lifestyles, and Radical Ideas in U.S. History Gina Misiroglu,2015-03-26 Counterculture while commonly used to describe youth oriented movements during the 1960s refers to any attempt to challenge or change conventional values and practices or the dominant lifestyles of the day This fascinating three volume set explores these movements in America from colonial times to the present in colorful detail American Countercultures is the first reference work to examine the impact of countercultural movements on American social history It highlights the writings recordings and visual works produced by these movements to educate inspire and incite action in all eras of the nation s history A Z entries provide a wealth of information on personalities places events concepts beliefs groups and practices The set includes numerous illustrations a topic finder primary source documents a bibliography and a filmography and an index Creating the Future Michael Fallon,2017-05-30 Conceived as a challenge to long standing conventional wisdom Creating the Future is a work of social history cultural criticism that examines the premise that the progress of art in Los Angeles ceased during the 1970s after the decline of the Ferus Gallery the scattering of its stable of artists Robert Irwin Ed Kienholz Ed Moses Ed Rusha and others and the economic struggles throughout the decade and didn't resume until sometime around 1984 when Mark Tansey, Alison Saar, Judy Fiskin, Carrie Mae Weems, David Salle, Manuel Ocampo, among others, became stars in an exploding art market. However, this is far from the reality of the L.A. art scene in the 1970s. The passing of those fashionable 1960s era icons, in fact, allowed the development of a chaotic array of outlandish and independent voices, marginalized communities, and energetic, sometimes bizarre, visions that thrived during the stagnant 1970s. Fallon's narrative describes and celebrates through twelve thematically arranged chapters the wide range of intriguing artists and the world, not just the objects they created. He reveals the deeper, more culturally dynamic truth about a significant moment in American art history, presenting an alternative story of stubborn creativity in the face of widespread ignorance and misapprehension among the art cognoscenti who dismissed the 1970s in Los Angeles as a time of dissipation and decline. Coming into being right before their eyes was an ardent local feminist art movement which had lasting influence on the direction of art across the nation, an emerging Chicano Art movement spreading Chicano murals across Los Angeles and to other major cities, a new and more modern vision for the role and look of public art, a slow consolidation of local street sensibilities, car fetishism, gang and punk aesthetics into the earliest version of what would later become the Lowbrow art movement, the subversive co-opting in full view of Pop Art of the values, aesthetics, and imagery of Tinseltown by a number of young and innovative local artists who would go on to greater national renown, and a number of independent voices who, lacking the support structures of an art movement or artist cohort, pursued their brilliant artistic visions in near isolation. Despite the lack of attention, these artists would later reemerge as visionary signposts to many later trends in art. Their work would prove more interesting, more lastingly influential, and vastly more important than ever imagined or expected by those who saw it or even by those who created it in 1970s Los Angeles.

Creating the Future is a visionary work that seeks to recapture this important decade and its influence on today's generation of artists.

Understanding Reproduction in Social Contexts Caitlin Killian, 2025-06-12

In today's post-Roe world, U.S. maternal mortality is on the rise, and laws regarding contraception, involuntary sterilization, access to reproductive health services, and criminalization of people who are gestating are changing by the minute. Using a reproductive justice framework, Understanding Reproduction in Social Contexts walks students through the social landscape around reproduction through the life course. Chapters by cutting-edge reproductive scholars, practitioners, and advocates address the social control of fertility and pregnancy, the promises and perils of assisted reproductive technologies, experiences of pregnancy, miscarriage, abortion, and birth, and how individuals make sense of and respond to the cultural, social, and political forces that condition their reproductive lives. The book takes an intersectional approach and considers how gender, sexuality, fatness, disability, class, race, and immigration status impact both an individual's health and the healthcare they receive. The inclusion of timely topics such as increased legal limitations on abortion, transpeople and reproduction, and new developments in assisted reproduction and family formation speaks to the current generation of students. An essential text for undergraduate and graduate courses.
