Balopoulos, 1967      A Comparative Study of Islamic Finance in Australia and the UK Imran Lum, 2021-09-28 This book provides valuable insights into the practical challenges faced by the nascent Islamic finance industry and compares the Australian experience to developments in the UK It contributes to a greater understanding of how Muslims living as a minority in Australia and the UK negotiate Islamic doctrine in secular societies by focusing on one aspect of this negotiation namely the prohibition of rib There is little debate in the Islamic tradition on the prohibition of rib The differences however lie in the interpretation of rib and the question of how Muslims live in a society that is heavily reliant on interest and conventional banking yet at the same time adhere to Islamic guidelines Through the words of religious leaders Muslim professionals and university students Imran Lum provides real accounts of how Muslims in Australia and the UK practically deal with conventional banking and finance products such as home loans savings accounts and credit cards He also explores Muslim attitudes towards Islamic finance and queries whether religion is the sole determining factor when it comes to its uptake Drawing on his own unique experience as a practitioner responsible for growing an Islamic business in a conventional bank Lum provides a firsthand account of the complexities associated with structuring Islamic finance products that are not only sharia compliant but also competitive in a non Muslim jurisdiction Using uk k bonds as a case study he highlights the tangible and non tangible barriers to product development such as tax and regulatory requirements and the rise of Islamophobia Combining academic and industry experience Lum unpacks the relationship of Islamic finance with Muslim identity construction in the West and how certain modalities of religiosity can lead to an uptake of Islamic finance while others can lead to its rejection      Financial Regulation in Africa Iwa Salami, 2016-04-15 In the wake of the global financial crisis there has been a worldwide search for alternative investment opportunities away from advanced markets The African continent is now one of the fastest growing economic regions in the world and represents a viable destination for foreign direct and portfolio investment This book which is the first comprehensive analysis of financial integration and regulation in Africa fills a huge gap in the literature on financial regulation and would constitute an invaluable source of information to policy makers investors researchers and students of financial regulation from an emerging and frontier markets perspective It considers how financial integration can facilitate African financial markets to achieve their full potential and provides a comparative study with the EU framework for financial integration and regulation It assesses the implementation of effective and regional domestic infrastructures and how these can be adapted to suit the African context The book also provides an assessment of government policies towards the integration of financial regulation in keeping with
