the outsourcing of heavy industry overseas is the cause arguing that a Third Industrial Revolution driven by new information and communication technologies has played a major stabilizing role Power to the People offers new perspectives on the challenges posed today by climate change and peak oil demonstrating that although the path of modern economic development has vastly increased our energy use it has not been a story of ever rising and continuous consumption The book sheds light on the often lengthy and complex changes needed for new energy systems to emerge the role of energy resources in economic growth and the importance of energy efficiency in promoting growth and reducing future energy demand

The Land and the People of Nineteenth-Century Cork James S. Donnelly Jr, 2017-07-06 First published in 1975 Using estate records local newspapers and parliamentary papers this book focuses upon two central and interrelated subjects the rural economy and the land question from the perspective of Cork Ireland's southernmost country The author examines the chief responses of Cork landlords tenant farmers and labourers to the enormous difficulties besetting them after 1815 He shows how the great famine of the late 1840s was in many ways an economic and social watershed because it rapidly accelerated certain previous trends and reversed the direction of others He also rejects the conventional view of the land war of the 1880s arguing that in Cork it was essentially a revolution of rising expectations in which tenant farmers struggled to preserve their substantial material gains since 1850 by using the weapons of agrarian trade unionism civil disobedience and unprecedented violence This title will be of interest to students of rural history and historical geography
