The Burning Forest Nandini Sundar, 2019-04-09 The Burning Forest is an empathetic moving account of what drives indigenous peasants to support armed struggle despite severe state repression including lives lost homes and communities destroyed Over the past decade the heavily forested mineral rich region of Bastar in central India has emerged as one of the most militarized sites in the country The government calls the Maoist insurgency the biggest security threat to India In 2005 a state sponsored vigilante movement the Salwa Judum burnt hundreds of villages driving their inhabitants into state controlled camps drawing on counterinsurgency techniques developed in Malaysia Vietnam and elsewhere Apart from rapes and killings hundreds of surrendered Maoist sympathisers were conscripted as auxiliaries The conflict continues to this day taking a toll on the lives of civilians security forces and Maoist cadres In 2007 Sundar and others took the Indian government to the Supreme Court over the human rights violations arising out of the conflict In a landmark judgment the Court in 2011 banned state support for vigilantism The Burning Forest describes this brutal war in the heart of India and what it tells us about the courts media and politics of the country The result is a granular and critical ethnography of Indian democracy over a decade

The Burning Forest Phillip Mann, 2011-09-29 In its northern fastness Britannia despite all the benefits of the Pax Romana with its technology and brutally rationalist philosophy has kept its mysterious secrets hidden deep in the wild forests that still cover much of the land As the Empire gathers its forces three young people hold the future in their hands the Roman Viti now known as Coll Angus the mechanic turned revolutionary and Mirana the student now in touch with strange powers And as the cold rational imperatives of Rome meet the wild magic of an older world the Empire's dominion will at last be challenged The Burning Forest the triumphant conclusion to the magical epic A Land Fit for Heroes The Burning Forest, 2016 The Life History of Lodgepole Burn Forests Frederic Edward Clements, 1910 The Burning Forest Simon Leys, 1985

Abraham Sutzkever is the greatest living poet in Yiddish and one of the great poets of the twentieth century Born in Smargon near Vilna in 1913 Sutzkever entered the world of Yiddish literature in the 1930s with his first book simply titled Lider Poems It was immediately recognized that he was a poet whose personality world view and approach to image sound and rhythm were unique and original His poetry is full of love of nature and love of beauty it deals too with the mystery of creation and the secrets of the cosmos He was tempered by the fires of the Holocaust during which he lost nearly all of his family and during which he fought as a partisan in the forest near Vilna he became a poetic witness to the Jewish people's suffering and destruction his Holocaust poems are distinguished by their personal dimension and intimacy Since his emigration to Israel in 1947 Sutzkever has become the poetic symbol of Jewish revival and the standard bearer of Yiddish literature in Israel and the rest of the world he is the editor of Di Goldene Keyt the world's pre eminent Yiddish literary journal In the present volume Sutzkever deals with a broad range of subjects from childhood to mature love to the beauties of nature to the Holocaust His unique poetic presence is clearly palpable in these poems written in deceptively simple but highly evocative language Though a translation never quite renders the full impact of the original enough shines through to the English reader to provide a sense of its greatness BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
