The Bristol Landscape The Watercolours Of Samuel Jackson 17941869:

The Bristol Landscape Francis Greenacre, Sheena Stoddard, Samuel Jackson, 1986 British Landscape Watercolors, 1750-1850 Jane Munro, 1994 Rarely exhibited and in superb condition the watercolor collection in the Fitzwilliam Museum Cambridge is one of the finest in the world This book contains the gems of that collection approximately 150 all of them reproduced large and in color mostly for the first time The most famous artists of this the Golden Age of British watercolor art are all represented Turner Cotman DeWint Cox Cozens Girtin Palmer Constable Ruskin Sandby Towne Varley together with some less well known or better known for work in other media Wilson Wright of Derby Romney Gainsborough Holland for example But the collection is most remarkable for the outstanding quality of the individual paintings and Jane Munro Senior Assistant Keeper at the Museum emphasizes this in a text that closely examines each particular work and locates it in the artist's career Construction as Depicted in Western Art Michael Tutton, 2021-01-30 The Art of Building has captured the interest of artists from the Roman period to today The process of construction appears in western art in all its details trades and operations Michael Tutton investigates the representation of building processes and materials through an examination of paintings illuminated manuscripts watercolours prints drawings and sculpture Technical terms are explained and detailed interpretations of each work are provided with insights into the artists inspiration and themes Even paintings not wholly or principally devoted to construction sites may give tantalising glimpses of building activity How do these images convey meaning How much is imagined how much is authentic Fully referenced endnotes bibliography and glossary complement the text and captions informing not only the architectural and construction historian but also those simply interested in art The Great Age of British Watercolours, 1750-1880 Andrew Wilton, Anne Lyles, Royal Academy of Arts (Great Britain), National Gallery of Art (U.S.), 1993 The revolution in watercolours of the later eighteenth century and its Victorian aftermath is acknowledged to be one of the greatest triumphs of British art Its effect was to transform the modest tinted drawing of the topographer into a powerful and highly flexible means of expression for some of the Romantic era's greatest artists among them Thomas Girtin J M W Turner and John Constable The painters of the next generation were no less ambitious and the range of subject matter and technical inventiveness that was sustained for much of the Victorian period was to set a standard in watercolour painting that was without equal abroad In this magnificently illustrated survey of the great age of British watercolours Andrew Wilton and Anne Lyles trace the development of attitudes to landscape and to the human figure in the landscape from 1750 to 1880 They show how once the traditional pen and ink drawing and its augmented washes of colour had been abandoned in order to paint directly in watercolours without pen outlines the way was open for the powerful Romantic landscapes of the following decade and beyond many of which were painted in the wild mountainous regions of Wales and Scotland During the nineteenth century as the gilt framed exhibition watercolour began to challenge the long established oil painting in terms of size and in brilliance of colour and effect the range of subject matter was broadened to include scenes of country and town life from every part of Britain and increasingly from the Continent too By mid century the Near East was attracting many of the greatest Victorian watercolourists including J E Lewis David Roberts and Edward Lear Other leading Victorians who regularly worked in watercolour include the Pre Raphaelite painters John Everett Millais and William Holman Hunt and the American born James McNeill Whistler all of whom are included in this book BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved British Watercolors ,1987 Transactions - Bristol and Gloucestershire Archaeological Society Bristol and Gloucestershire Archaeological Society,1986 Landscape, Association, Empire Philip Hutch,Elaine Stratford,2023-12-02 This book tells a compelling story about invasion settler colonialism and an emergent sense of identity in place as seen through topographical and landscape images by seven fascinating artists Their ways of imagining the Vandemonian landscape are part of a much larger story about how aesthetic forces shaped empire and colony place and migration and people s lives They remain intriguing through lines of global significance and local meaning
