The Bulgarian Cinema:

The Bulgarian Cinema Ronald Holloway, 1986 This survey of Bulgarian cinema from its beginning to its present situation under the current government reveals this country's vital and original filmmakers at work expressing and continuing their nation's rich artistic and cultural heritage The Conformists Evgenija Garbolevsky, 2011-05-25 The complexities and paradoxes of the Bulgarian film industry during the era of Communist rule 1945-1989 are explored This influential industry was mobilized for the needs of the state During its creation and development cultural institutions and those involved in film production operated within a relatively closed system based on rewards and punishments imposed by the Communist bureaucratic apparatus Sub-textual content in films produced in Bulgaria during this period highlights the attitude of the elite towards the regime Understanding this multifaceted relationship helps explain why so many intellectuals found the film industry to be an attractive field in which to work and decided to remain loyal to the regime instead of leaving or openly rebelling against it This work challenges the historiographical perception that the arts in the Eastern Bloc during the Cold War were largely unsuccessful vehicles of propaganda and dissent By using a comparative methodological approach the cinema arts in the East and West are shown following similar paths despite the Iron Curtain Provided by publisher

Presentday Bulgarian Cinema Marii Racheva, 1969 Presentday Bulgarian Cinema (Classic Reprint) Maria Racheva, 2017-11-22 Excerpt from Presentday Bulgarian Cinema It would have been sad indeed if Bulgaria had not had its Don Quixotes I should like to add that the prospects of our cinematography were really dim for 15 years after Griffith and Eisenstein five years after The Great Game and The Grand Illusion and at the time of Welles's Citizen Kane it was shooting films with cameras whose noise was a cross between the clanking of a dilapidated sewing machine and the roar of a stone crusher When all film producing equipment was taken over by the state in 1948 luck gave way to security enthusiasm to professionalism and the film makers by chance became film makers by calling This act launched the Bulgarian national cinema art on its speedy and surprising development This is what film director Zahari Zhandov a contemporary wrote about it About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Bulgarian Cinema Today, 1981 The Bulgarian Cinema Today, 196? New Bulgarian Cinema Dina Iordanova, 2008 Cinema, State Socialism and Society in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, 1917-1989 Sanja Bahun, John Haynes, 2014-07-25 This book presents a comprehensive re-examination of the cinemas of the Soviet Union and Central and Eastern Europe during the communist era It argues that since the end of communism in these countries film scholars are able to view these cinemas in a different way no longer bound by an outlook relying on binary Cold War terms With the opening of archives in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union much more is known about these states and societies at the same time the field has been reinvigorated by its opening up to more contemporary concepts themes and approaches in film studies and adjacent disciplines Taking stock of these developments this book presents a rich varied tapestry relating specific films to specific national and transnational circumstances rather than viewing them as a single monolithic Cold War Communist cinema

The Palgrave Handbook of Comparative New Cinema Histories

Daniela Treveri Gennari,Lies Van de Vijver,Pierluigi Ercole,2024-01-22 This Handbook offers new and previously unexplored comparative approaches to the field of New Cinema History The volume brings together contributions focussing on historical and contemporary comparative case studies of cinema going practices cinema distribution exhibition and reception from a global perspective Engaging with a wealth of empirical and archive based sources the volume explores a wide range of methodological and theoretical approaches This Handbook is a key addition to debates on the relationship between film industry and cinema going practices across different political and cultural geographical dimensions Chapter s Chapter 8 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com

Cinema of Flames Dina Iordanova,2019-07-25 First study of cinema media and the Balkan wars Wide ranging view of politics and culture of the region The break up of Yugoslavia triggered a truly international film making project Underground Ulysses Gaze Before the Rain Pretty Village Pretty Flame and Welcome to Sarajevo were amongst a host of films created as the conflicts in the region unravelled These conflicts restored the Balkans as a centrepiece of Western imagery and the media especially cinema assumed a leading but ambiguous role in defining it for global consumption through a narrow range of selectively defined images Simultaneously a lot of the high quality cinematic and television work made in the region much of it discussed in this book remains relatively unknown Cinema of Flames attempts to go deeper than the imagery and address some of the general concerns of the cross cultural representation and self representation of the Balkans narrative strategies within the context of Balkan exclusion from the European cultural sphere the cosmopolitan image of Sarejevo diaspora and the representations of villains victims women and ethnic minorities all considered in the general context of Balkan cinema encyclopaedic in scope and brilliance making excellent use of the scholarly literature whilst interweaving analysis of films and other mass media The book will be a superb addition to the literatures on Bosnia and Yugoslavia It will also serve as a standard reference on Balkans film Robert Hayden University of Pittsburgh

The BFI Companion to Eastern European and Russian Cinema Richard Taylor,Nancy Wood,Julian Graffy,Dina Iordanova,2019-07-25 This work maps the rich varied cinema of Eastern Europe Russia and the former USSR Over 200 entries cover a variety of topics spanning a century of endeavour and turbulent history from Czech animation to Soviet montage from the silent cinemas dating back to World War I through to the varied responses to the conflicts in the former Yugoslavia It includes entries on actors and actresses film festivals studios genres directors film movements critics producers and technicians taking the coverage up to the late 1990s In addition to the historical material of key figures like Eisenstein and Wadja the editors provide separate accounts of the trajectory of the cinemas of Eastern Europe and of Russia in the wake of the collapse of communism Jews, Nazis and the Cinema of Hungary David Frey, 2017-02-28 Between 1929 and 1942 Hungary's motion picture industry experienced meteoric growth It leapt into Europe's top echelon trailing only Nazi Germany and Italy in feature output Yet by 1944 Hungary's cinema was in shambles internal and external forces having destroyed its unification experiments and productive capacity This original cultural and political history examines the birth unexpected ascendance and wartime collapse of Hungary's early sound cinema by placing it within a complex international nexus Detailing the interplay of Hungarian cultural and political elites Jewish film professionals and financiers Nazi officials and global film moguls David Frey demonstrates how the transnational process of forging an industry designed to define a national culture proved particularly contentious and surprisingly contradictory in the heyday of racial nationalism and antisemitism Historical Dictionary of Bulgaria Raymond Detrez, 2014-12-18 Bulgaria is a country of extraordinary beauty with high wild mountains and gentle valleys and with picturesque cities and idyllic villages It's bordered by Romania Serbia Macedonia Greece Turkey and the Black Sea After many years of communist rule Bulgaria adopted a democratic constitution and began the process of moving toward political democracy and a market economy while combating inflation unemployment corruption and crime The country joined NATO in 2004 and the EU in 2007 This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Bulgaria covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Bulgaria Cinema of Small Nations Mette Hjort, 2007-11-21 Within cinema studies there has emerged a significant body of scholarship on the idea of National Cinema but there has been a tendency to focus on the major national cinemas Less developed within this field is the analysis of what we might term minor or small national cinemas despite the increasing significance of these small entities with the international domain of moving image production distribution and consumption The Cinema of Small Nations is the first major analysis of small national cinemas comprising twelve case studies of small national and sub national cinemas from around the world including Ireland Denmark Iceland Scotland Bulgaria Tunisia Burkina Faso Cuba Singapore Taiwan Hong Kong and New Zealand Written by an array of distinguished and emerging scholars each of the case studies provides a detailed analysis of the particular cinema in question with an emphasis on the last decade considering both institutional and textual issues relevant to the national dimension of each cinema While each chapter contains an in depth analysis of the particular cinema in question the book as a whole provides the basis for a broader and more properly comparative understanding of small or minor national cinemas particularly with regard to structural constraints and possibilities the impact of globalization and internationalisation and the role played by economic and cultural factors in small nation contexts

Theorising National Cinema Valentina Vitali, Paul Willemsen, 2019-07-25 Why do we think of clusters of films as national cinema Why has the relationship between the nation and film become so widely and uncritically accepted Theorising National Cinema is a major contribution to work on national cinema by many of the leading scholars in the field It addresses the knotty and complex relationship between cinema and national identity showing that the nationality of a cinema production company and the films that it has made have not always been seen as pertinent The volume begins by reviewing and rethinking the concept of national cinema in an age of globalisation and it goes on to chart the parallel developments of national film industries and the idea of a nation state in countries as diverse as Japan South Korea Russia France and Italy The issues of a national cinema for nation states of contested status with disputed borders or displaced peoples is discussed in relation to film making in Taiwan Ireland and Palestine The contributors also consider the future of national cinema in an age of trans national cultural flows exploring issues of national identity and cinema in Latin America Asia the Middle East India Africa and Europe Theorising National Cinema also includes a valuable bibliography of works on national cinema The Most Important Art Mira Liehm, Antonín J. Liehm, 1980-01-01 Literary and Artistic Japan behind the Iron Curtain Irina Holca, George T. Sipos, 2025-09-30 This book examines the public perception scholarly reception and critical analysis of Japan through translations of its literature and artistic endeavors within the temporal frame and geopolitical confines of the countries that were either occupied or left under the influence of the Soviet Union after World War II By engaging with literary translations from Japanese into languages such as Romanian Russian Czech Hungarian German and Slovenian alongside art exhibits and performance shows focused on Japan this book provides an original contribution to the field of Japanese studies in Eastern and Central Europe and the former Soviet space In addition by offering a multifaceted multilingual and multicultural approach to the diverse realities of countries from the former communist bloc the book sheds light on the unique relationships they created with literary and artistic Japan as well as the unique ways in which they attempted to lift the Iron Curtain and gaze at the Asian Other a subject of both fascination and identification Approaching the subject of Japanese culture through the unique lens of former communist bloc nations this book will appeal to students and scholars of Japanese studies and Japanese literature particularly in the context of translations Politics, Art and
