The Cancer Epidemic Shadow Of The Conquest Of Nature:

The Cancer Epidemic Gotthard Booth,1979 Supported by the New York Psychosomatic Cancer Study Group and the Gotthard Booth Society for Holistic Health The wide publicity given to statistical surveys of cigarette and other tobacco habits in terms of an aetiological factor in lung cancer has relegated to the background many other possible components particularly in the sphere of personality and emotional constellations This work presents Gotthard Booth s studies of persons who developed cancer with observations and an experimental approach the results of which are given in categories of Rorschach responses in order to gain information about the subjects personalities in terms of intellectual function emotional control present content mental conflicts creative imagination and fundamental instinctive drives From these studies and from the known aspects of the cancer situation the author suggests that cancer is an expression of the personality type and that the cancer patient is dominated by anal components Rich in new ideas with a wealth of informative material to be considered in practical applications not only in the field of psychopathology but also in general medicine Naturally There's Always Hope Neil McKinney,2008-06 Fats that Heal, Fats that Kill Udo Erasmus,1993 In Fats that Heal Fats that Kill expert Udo Erasmus takes an in depth look at the oil industry Read about the politics of health and the way our bodies assimilate oil Learn about modern healthful oils like flax evening primrose and hemp Medically Speaking C.C. Lawson,2005-01-01 The thesis of A Gorgon s mask The Mother in Thomas Mann s Fiction depends upon three psychoanalytic concepts Freud s early work on the relationship between the infant and its mother and on the psychology of artistic creation Annie Reich s analysis of the grotesque comic sublimation and Edmund Bergler s analysis of writer s block Mann s crisis of sexual anxiety in late adolescence is presented as the defining moment for his entire artistic life In the throes of that crisis he included a sketch of a female as Gorgon in a book that would not escape his mother s notice But to defend himself from being overcome by the Gorgon mother s stare he employed the grotesque comic sublimation hiding the mother figure behind fictional characters physically attractive but psychologically repellent all the while couching his fiction in an ironic tone that evoked humor however lacking in humor the subtext might be In this manner he could deny to himself that the mother figure always lurked in his work and by that denial deny that he was a victim of oral regression For as Edmund Bergler argues the creative writer who acknowledges his oral dependency will inevitably succumb to writer s block Mann s late work reveals that his defense against the Gorgon is crumbling In Doctor Faustus Mann portrays Adrian Leverk hn as ultimately the victim of oral regression but the fact that Mann was able to compete the novel despite severe physical illness and psychological distress demonstrates that he himself was still holding writer s block at bay In Confessions of Felix Krull

Confidence Man a narrative that he had abandoned forty years before Mann was finally forced to acknowledge that he was depleted of creative vitality but not of his capacity for irony brilliantly couching the victorious return of the repressed in ambiguity This study will be of interest to general readers who enjoy Mann s narrative art to students of Mann s work especially its psychological and mythological aspects and to students of the psychology of artistic creativity Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1980 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports
