Mental Hygiene Ray Robertson, 2009-10-19 One of today's best young novelists Ray Robertson is also one of its ablest critics Mental Hygiene is a collection of his most entertaining insightful controversial and funniest reviews and essays written over the last five years Believing that writers have a responsibility to help maintain the mental hygiene of their time Robertson following in the footsteps of Mordecai Richler and other novelist critics such as Anthony Burgess Kingsley and Martin Amis and John Updike is at the front line of contemporary literary debate Whether castigating the bland cabal he refers to as McCanlit poking fun at the trendy ephemera of intellectual fashion or arguing for his own unique fictional aesthetic Robertson pulls no punches and suffers no fools Inside Kenneth J. Harvey, 2007 After fourteen years in prison Myrden is proven innocent by DNA evidence only to return to an old neighborhood in which he finds himself out of place clinging to his young granddaughter and a former girlfriend as he awaits a financial settlement from the government

Narratology in the Age of Cross-Disciplinary Narrative Research Sandra Heinen, Roy Sommer, 2009-09-04 Narrative Research once the domain of structuralist literary theory has over the last 15 years developed into an international and interdisciplinary field It is now commonly agreed that storytelling functions as a fundamental cognitive tool for sense making and meaning production and that human beings structure and communicate lived experience through oral written and visual stories Entitled Narratology in the Age of Cross Disciplinary Narrative Research this volume collects fifteen essays which look at narrative and narrativity from various perspectives including literary studies and hermeneutics cognitive theory and creativity research metaphor studies film theory and intermediality as well as memory studies musicology theology and psychology The topics touch on a wide range of issues such as the current state of narratology and its potential for development narrativity in visual and auditive art forms the cultural functions of narrative and the role of narrative concepts across the disciplines The volume introduces interested newcomers to the ongoing debate reflecting the diversity of research questions and methodological approaches involved It takes a critical yet cautiously optimistic stance with regard to the potential for interdisciplinary collaboration between narrative researchers and invites experienced readers from any discipline interested in narrative to join this important debate which promotes the exchange of ideas concepts and methods between the humanities and the social sciences Blackstrap Hawco Kenneth J.
