Territorio Comanche Comanche Territory:

Great Spanish Films Since 1950 Ronald Schwartz, 2008-09-05 When it began modern Spanish cinema was under strict censorship forced to conform to the ideological demands of the Nationalist regime In 1950 the New Spanish Cinema was born as a protest over General Francisco Franco's policies a new series of directors and films began to move away from the conformist line to offer a bold brand of Spanish realism In the 1950s and early 1960s filmmakers such as Juan Antonio Bardem Luis García Berlanga and Luis Buñuel expressed a liberal image of Spain to the world in such films as Muerte de un ciclista Death of a Cyclist Bienvenido Se or Marshall Welcome Mr Marshall and Viridiana The emergence of new directors continued into the sixties and seventies with Carlos Saura José Luis Borau Víctor Erice and others After Franco's death in 1975 censorship was abolished and films openly explored such formerly taboo subjects as sexuality drugs the church the army and the Civil War The Spanish cinema was no longer escapist and entertaining but at long last mirrored the society it depicted While established directors like Saura Bardem and Berlanga continued to produce distinguished work the new wave of Spanish cinema included brilliant films by the likes of Montxo Armendáriz Tasio Fernando Trueba First Work Imanol Uribe The Death of Mikel and Pedro Almodóvar Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown In the last couple of decades exciting works by established filmmakers and newcomers alike continue to be produced including Alejandro Amenábar's Thesis José Luis García's The Grandfather and Almodóvar's Talk to Her and Volver In Great Spanish Films Since 1950 Ronald Schwartz presents a compendium of outstanding Spanish films from the pre Francoist era through the Spanish New Wave of the 80s and 90s and into the present day Schwartz provides background plot and commentaries of key films from six decades of Spanish cinema In addition to identifying Live Flesh Santiago Fouz-Hernández, Alfredo Martínez-Exposito, 2007-06-29 In post Franco Spain a re-shaping of notions of the masculine has been under way for some time The authors of Live Flesh demonstrate how contemporary Spanish films during this modern period have contributed to this process They do so by visualizing the ways in which Spanish men have been abandoning old self images and adopting new ones and they explain and explore the complexity and diversity of these fresh cinematic creations of masculine identities The book's point of focus is Spanish films of the democratic period both popular and auteur made by directors of national and international prominence such as Pedro Almodóvar Alejandro Amenábar Bigas Luna or Julio Medem as well as films featuring acclaimed actors who have contributed to the construction of contemporary ideas of the masculine in their country including Antonio Banderas and Javier Bardem Using a fresh theoretical framework embracing queer and feminist theory and concepts of nation race and class each chapter examines key films that represent the male body highlighting notable elements young muscular homosexual disabled foreign and so on and goes on to focus on recent case studies from the early 1990s to the present An increasingly transnational Spanish cinema is a most promising field in which to explore questions of how male bodies are represented and mediated in film Live Flesh more than fulfils this promise and goes further to reveal how these representations have intervened in the Spanish cultural imagination Arturo Pérez-Reverte Anne L. Walsh, 2007 The complex narrative technique of one of Spain's most renowned contemporary authors The writings of Arturo Pérez Reverte one of Spain's most renowned contemporary authors have been described as a minefield This monograph examines the complexities behind the narrative technique employed in creating such a minefield including an analysis of the role played by both male and female characters the relevance of the past as a motif and aspects of the role of storytelling in creating mystery where none should exist Both Revertian novels and journalistic writing are seen to be part of an overall game which is played between their author and his readers Film too forms part of the material reviewed as though Pérez Reverte is not a script writer many films have been based on his novels The text centred analysis concludes that the themes of interest in all Revertian output revolve around two main areas the significance of the past whether historical cultural or literary and the role of the written word in communicating in rescuing and in challenging versions of that past in order to combat what Pérez Reverte terms dismemory ANNE L WALSH lectures in Hispanic Studies at University College Cork Fictional Portrayals of Spain's Transition to Democracy Anne L. Walsh, 2017-08-21 This manuscript looks at a selection of narratives published in Spain during the transition to democracy and compares them with more recent publications The main focus here is how fiction brings an extra dimension to the recreation of the past by adding imagination to historical fact One effect of this is to challenge readers or spectators to question the effect the reliability of the narrator has on conviction about the events told By using a specific moment in time Spain's Transition it will be seen that memory history and imagination all blend together to create very different stories but all are linked with the idea that the past will always haunt the present and actions from the past will have far reaching consequences Texts analysed here include work by Javier Cercas Eduardo Mendoza Manuel Vázquez Montalbán Rosa Montero Arturo Pérez Reverte and Gonzalo López Alba as well as episodes from two popular TV series Cuántame cómo pasé and Protagonistas de la Transición Cinema of Flames Dina Iordanova, 2019-07-25 First study of cinema media and the Balkan wars Wide ranging view of politics and culture of the region The break up of Yugoslavia triggered a truly international film making project Underground Ulysses Gaze Before the Rain Pretty Village Pretty Flame and Welcome to Sarajevo were amongst a host of films created as the conflicts in the region unravelled These conflicts restored the Balkans as a centrepiece of Western imagery and the media especially cinema assumed a leading but ambiguous role in defining it for global consumption through a narrow range of selectively defined images Simultaneously a lot of the high quality cinematic and television work made in the region much of it discussed in this book remains relatively unknown Cinema of Flames attempts to go deeper than the imagery and address some of the general concerns of the cross cultural representation and self representation of the Balkans narrative strategies within the context of Balkan exclusion from the European cultural sphere the cosmopolitan image of Sarajevo diaspora and the representations of villains victims women and ethnic minorities all considered in the general context of Balkan cinema encyclopaedic in scope and brilliance making excellent use of the scholarly literature whilst interweaving analysis of films and other mass media The book will be a superb addition to the literatures on Bosnia and Yugoslavia It will also serve as a standard reference on Balkans film Robert Hayden University of Pittsburgh

Screening Bosnia Stephen Harper, 2017-03-09 The Bosnian war of 1992-1995 was one of the most brutal conflicts to have erupted since the end of the Second World War But although the war occurred in Europe's backyard and received significant media coverage in the West relatively little scholarly attention has been devoted to cultural representations of the conflict Stephen Harper analyses how the war has been depicted in global cinema and television over the past quarter of a century Focusing on the representation of some of the war's major themes including humanitarian intervention the roles of NATO and the UN genocide rape and ethnic cleansing Harper explores the role of popular media culture in reflecting reinforcing and sometimes contesting nationalist ideologies
