The Text of Paradise Lost R. G. Moyles, 1985 The Text of Paradise Lost R. G. Moyles, 1985 Paradise Lost and the Making of English Literary Criticism David A. Harper, 2023-12-20 Paradise Lost and the Making of English Literary Criticism identifies the early reception of Paradise Lost as a site of contest over the place of literature in political and religious controversy Milton's earliest readers and critics Dryden Addison Dennis Hume and Bentley confronted a poem and author at odds with the prevailing culture and the revanchist conservatism of the restored monarchy Grappling with the epic required navigating Milton's reputation as a fanatic who had called in print for Charles I's execution inveighed openly against monarchy on the eve of Charles II's return and held heretical views on the trinity baptism and divorce Harper argues that foundational figures in English literary criticism rose to this challenge by innovating new ways of reading producing creative and subversive rewritings of Paradise Lost articulating new theories of the sublime explaining the poem in the first substantial body of annotations for an English vernacular text and by pioneering early forms of textual criticism and editing

A Concise Companion to the Study of Manuscripts, Printed Books, and the Production of Early Modern Texts Edward Jones, 2015-08-14 Bringing together a broad range of case studies written by a team of international scholars this Concise Companion establishes how manuscripts and printed books met the needs of two different approaches to literacy in the early modern period Features essays illustrating the particular ways a manuscript and a printed book reflect the different emphases of an elite private and an egalitarian public culture both of which account for the literary achievements of the Renaissance Includes wide ranging essays from printing the Gospels in Arabic to a contemporary reconceptualization of Shakespeare's Titus Andronicus Increases accessibility through a rubric organized around archival and manuscript studies the provenance of texts and the authority of editions and studies of genre religion and literary history Announces the recovery of archival documents which in some instances are over four hundred years old Places translations of Milton's Latin Greek and Italian alongside the original texts to increase accessibility for a wide audience of students and scholars Provides an invaluable platform for highlighting on going attention to the history of the book and its corollary subjects of reading and writing practices in the 1500s and 1600s Shakespeare, Milton and Eighteenth-Century Literary Editing Marcus

Bryson, 2016-03-23 Basing his contention on two different lines of argument Michael Bryson posits that John Milton possibly the most famous Christian poet in English literary history was in fact an atheist First based on his association with Arian ideas denial of the doctrine of the Trinity his argument for the de Deo theory of creation which puts him in line with the materialism of Spinoza and Hobbes and his Mortalist argument that the human soul dies with the human body Bryson argues that Milton was an atheist by the commonly used definitions of the period And second as the poet who takes a reader from the presence of an imperious monarchical God in Paradise Lost to the internal almost Gnostic conception of God in Paradise Regained to the absence of any God whatsoever in Samson Agonistes Milton moves from a theist with God to something much more recognizable as a modern atheist position without God in his poetry Among the author's goals in The Atheist Milton is to account for tensions over the idea of God which in Bryson's view go all the way back to Milton's earliest poetry In this study he argues such tensions are central to Milton's poetry and to any attempt to understand that poetry on its own terms
