difficult to locate and unreliable particularly for some of the newer authors and their contents are inconsistent and often inaccurate Although there are a number of reference works on African American writers the emphasis tends to be on historical and literary authors Here s a single volume containing 100 profiles of your favorite contemporary African American writers along with lists of their works Short profiles provide an overview of the author s life and summarize his or her writing accomplishments Many are accompanied by black and white photos of the author The biographies are followed by a complete list of the author s published works Focusing on writers who have made their mark in the past 25 years this guide covers African American writers of popular and genre literature from Rochelle Alers Octavia Butler and Samuel Delaney to Walter Mosley Omar Tyree and Zane A few classic literary giants who are popular with today s readers are also included e g Maya Angelou Toni Morrison and Richard Wright Readers who want to know more about their favorite African American authors or find other books written by those authors students researching AA authors for reports and papers and educators seeking background information for classes in African American literature will find this guide invaluable High school and up

Domestic Abuse in the Novels of African American Women Heather Duerre Humann,2014-05-23 The literary tradition begun by Zora Neale Hurston in the 1930s has since flourished and taken new directions with a diverse body of fiction by more contemporary African American women writers This book examines the treatment of domestic violence in Hurston s Their Eyes Were Watching God Gayl Jones s Corregidora Gloria Naylor s The Women of Brewster Place and Linden Hills Alice Walker s The Color Purple Toni Morrison s The Bluest Eye and Love Terry McMillan s Mama and A Day Late and a Dollar Short and Octavia Butler s Seed to Harvest These novels have given voice to oppressed and abused women The aims of this work are threefold to examine how female African American novelists portray domestic abuse to outline how literary depictions of domestic violence are responsive to cultural and historical forces and to explore the literary tradition of novels that deal with domestic abuse within the African American community Icons of African American Literature Yolanda Williams Page,2011-10-17 The 24 entries in this book provide extensive coverage of some of the most notable figures in African American literature such as Alice Walker Richard Wright and Zora Neale Hurston Icons of African American Literature The Black Literary World examines 24 of the most popular and culturally significant topics within African American literature s long and immensely fascinating history Each piece provide substantial in depth information much more than a typical encyclopedia entry while remaining accessible and appealing to general and younger readers Arranged alphabetically the entries cover such writers as Maya Angelou James Baldwin and August Wilson major works such as Invisible Man Native Son and Their Eyes Were Watching God and a range of cultural topics including the black arts movement the Harlem Renaissance and the jazz aesthetic Written by expert contributors the essays discuss the enduring significance of these topics in American history and popular culture Each entry also provides sidebars that highlight interesting information and suggestions for further reading Black Professional Women in Recent American Fiction

Carmen Rose Marshall, 2015-01-24 The last three decades of the 20th century have marked the triumph of many black professional women against great odds in the workplace. Despite their success, few novels celebrate their accomplishments. Black middle class professional women want to see themselves realistically portrayed by protagonists who work to achieve significant productivity and visibility in their careers, desire stability in their personal lives, aspire to accrue wealth and live elegantly though not consumptively. The author contends that most recent American realistic fiction fails to represent black professional women protagonists performing their work effectively in the workplace. Identifying the extent to which contemporary novels satisfy the readerly desires of black middle class women readers, this book investigates why the readership wants the texts as well as what they prefer in the books they buy. It also examines the technical and cultural factors that contribute to the lack of books with self-empowered black professional female protagonists and considers The Salt Eaters by Toni Cade Bambara and Waiting to Exhale by Terry McMillan, two novels that function as significant markers in the development of contemporary black women writers' texts. The Cambridge History of the American Novel Leonard Cassuto, Clare Virginia Eby, Benjamin Reiss, 2011-03-24 This ambitious literary history traces the American novel from its emergence in the late eighteenth century to its diverse incarnations in the multi-ethnic, multi-media culture of the present day. In a set of original essays by renowned scholars from all over the world, the volume extends important critical debates and frames new ones. Offering new views of American classics, it also breaks new ground to show the role of popular genres such as science fiction and mystery novels in the creation of the literary tradition. One of the original features of this book is the dialogue between the essays highlighting cross-currents between authors and their works as well as across historical periods. While offering a narrative of the development of the genre, the History reflects the multiple methodologies that have informed readings of the American novel and will change the way scholars and readers think about American literary history.
