Chuku, 2016-04-27 In this groundbreaking collection leading historians Africanists and other scholars document the life and work of twelve Igbo intellectuals who educated within European traditions came to terms with the dominance of European thought while making significant contributions to African intellectual traditions History, Time, Meaning, and Memory Barbara Jones Denison, 2011-07-12 This volume addresses the conjoint problem of history and sociology History has seen religion hold varied places within the timeline of the sociology of religion The increase in world fundamentalisms religious movements private spiritualities and other indicators in the millennial age have today brought a renaissance to the field Overcoming Women's Subordination in the Igbo African Culture and in the Catholic Church Rose N. Uchem, 2001 When African scholars lament over the near destruction of African cultures they do not reflect the reality of African women s historical traditions of empowerment and inclusion in pre colonial pre Christian African societies which were also lost in the same process of Western Christian cultural imperialism Similarly most male Church theologians writing or speaking about inculturation do not address the deeper cultural issues which impact heavily on African women from back cover Development In Modern Africa Martin S. Shanguhya, Toyin Falola, 2019-10-08 Development in Modern Africa Past and Present Perspectives contributes to our understanding of Africa's experiences with the development process. It does so by adopting a historical and contemporary analysis of this experience. The book is set within the context of critiques on development in Africa that have yielded two general categories of analysis: skepticism and pessimism. While not overlooking the shortcomings of development, the themes in the book express an optimistic view of Africa's development experiences, highlighting elements that can be tapped into to enhance the condition of African populations and their states. By using case studies from precolonial, colonial, and postcolonial Africa, contributors to the volume demonstrate that human instincts to improve material, social, and spiritual worlds are universal. They are not limited to the Western world, which the term and process of development are typically associated with. Before and after contact with the West, Africans have actively created institutions and values that they have actively employed to improve individual and community lives. This innovative spirit has motivated Africans to integrate or experiment with new values and structures, challenges, and solutions to human welfare that resulted from contact with colonialism and the postcolonial global community. The book will be of interest to academics in the fields of history, African studies, and regional studies.

The Literary History of the Igbo Novel Ernest N. Emenyonu, 2020-02-07 This book looks at the trends in the development of the Igbo novel from its antecedents in oral performance through the emergence of the first published novel, Omenuko in 1933 by Pita Nwana, to the contemporary Igbo novel. Defining Igbo literature as literature in Igbo language and Igbo novel as a novel written in Igbo language, the author argues that oral and written literature in African indigenous languages hold an important foundational position in the history of African literature. Focusing on the contributions of Igbo writers to the development of African literature in African languages, the book examines the evolution, themes, and distinctive features of the Igbo novel, the historical circumstances of the rise of the African novel in the pre-colonial era, and their impact on the contemporary Igbo novel. This book will be of interest to scholars of African literature, literary history, and Igbo studies.

Religion and Politics in a Mediatized Society Charles A. Ebelebe, Olunifesi A. Suraj, Bellarmine A. Ezumah, 2023-05-30 Religion and Politics in a Mediatized Society: Critical Analyses and Spheres of Interinfluence in Nigeria and Beyond, edited by Bellarmine A. Ezumah, Charles A. Ebelebe, and Olunifesi A. Suraj, contextualizes the hegemonic relationship of religion and politics in Nigeria and beyond. The dynamics of religion and religious practices are examined using various communication theories and paradigms to extrapolate how religion is designed, packaged, disseminated, and interpreted among Nigerians. Contributors trace the evolution and development of this problem to colonialism. The contributors measure the impact of religious media messages from three perspectives: the impact of the messages themselves, the impact of the medium used in transmitting the message as in the McLuhan philosophy (the medium is the message), and the impact from the power of the source: the religious or political leaders, opinion leaders who exert influence on opinion followers. In this book, the contributors examine how religion is considered a propagandistic venture whereby capitalism and monetary gain are the norms minimizing core religious values traditional teachings and methods of worship
