Humanity's Rise to Superdominance, the Global Ecological Crisis, and the Way Forward for Education Adam C. Scarfe, 2022-12-01 This book pinpoints the evolutionary connection between the global ecological crisis and transgenerational learning and education As Julian Huxley 1887 1975 described the cumulative passing down of knowledge skills and ideas by one generation to the next over eons of time which has been afforded by the advent of complex languages in the evolutionary past is chiefly responsible for humanity's planetary superdominance However given that the drive of the human species to increase its control over the natural world has today run up against ecological limits there is an evolutionary existential choice to be made in relation to the ultimate purposes of formal education Should humanity double down on the anthropocentric humanist project of superdominance including the goals of unlimited economic growth development and scientific and technological progress Alternatively should a biocentric anti humanist and or postmodernist deconstruction of formal education take place Or should a holistic organicist orientation emphasizing biological wisdom help to shape its future As this book shows the answers to these philosophical questions on the parts of educators prospective teachers and learners will going forward play a key role in deciding the evolutionary trajectories of all life forms on the planet
