Bullock,2011-07-23 Learning to teach is complex Teacher candidates begin a preservice program with powerful tacit assumptions about how teachers teach based on lengthy apprenticeships of observation over many years as students Virtually all teacher education programs provide a mixture of coursework and classroom experience Much has been written about the theory into practice approach in teacher education an approach that assumes teacher candidates who have been provided with instructions about how to teach will be able to recall and apply them in a school setting In reality teacher candidates report considerable difficulty enacting theory in practice to the point that many question the value of coursework This book takes an in depth look at five future teachers in one teacher education program analyzing and interpreting how they and their teacher educators learn from experience during both coursework and practicum experiences Many assumptions about the complex challenges of teaching teachers are called into question Is the role of a teacher educator to synthesize research based best practices for candidates to take to their field placements Does the preservice practicum experience challenge or reinforce a lifetime of socialized experiences in schools Must methods courses always be seen by most teacher candidates as little more than sites for collecting resources Where and how do candidates construct professional knowledge of teaching The data illustrate clearly that methods courses can be sites for powerful learning that challenges tacit assumptions about how and why we teach Outlook Alfred Emanuel Smith, Francis Walton, 1872 Abbas Kiarostami Monika Raesch, 2023-04-21 The cinephile community knows Abbas Kiarostami 1940 2016 as one of the most important filmmakers of the previous decades This volume illustrates why the Iranian filmmaker achieved critical acclaim around the globe and details his many contributions to the art of filmmaking Kiarostami began his illustrious career in his

His films defy established conventions placing audiences as active viewers who must make decisions about actions and characters while watching the narratives unfold. He asks viewers to question the genre construct Close Up and challenges them to determine how to watch and imagine a narrative. Taste of Cherry In recognition for his approach to the craft Kiarostami was awarded many honors during his lifetime including the top prize at the Cannes Film Festival in 1997 for Taste of Cherry. In Abbas Kiarostami Interviews editor Monika Raesch collects eighteen interviews several translated into English for the first time lectures and other materials that span Kiarostami's career in the film industry. Suffering in Silence Donna Mac LCPC, 2015-09-29 Selective mutism is an anxiety disorder and its currently one of the most misunderstood under diagnosed and undertreated mental health conditions. When children with selective mutism feel expected or pressured to speak in social situations they become terrified. Therefore their level of anxiety significantly increases but by remaining silent their anxiety level slightly decreases obtaining some relief for themselves. For these children remaining silent is actually an ineffective coping mechanism or a maladapted solution to create a sense of safety within themselves. Hence their mouths freeze and they are silent. This is temporary relief but longitudinally these children suffer in silence. Due to the fact that many children will display normative shy behavior or even socially anxious behavior at times it can be challenging to discern if the child's behavior falls within normal limits or if the child actually demonstrates clinically significant behavior signifying a selective mutism diagnosis. This can be confusing for parents teachers and even clinicians. This manual is meant to help clarify this distinction and will also assist you in figuring out how to seek help ask the right questions and what you can expect from early intervention services school based services and holistic therapeutic and psychiatric services.
