Project Report from the year 2024 in the subject Health Public Health grade 1 2 course Biostatistics language English

abstract This research investigates the intricate relationship between air pollution and respiratory health by integrating real time air quality data with longitudinal health records Using sophisticated statistical techniques including multivariate regression and machine learning algorithms we analyze the impact of key pollutants such as PM_{2.5} PM₁₀ NO_x and SO₂ on the prevalence and severity of respiratory conditions Our study not only identifies significant pollutant health associations but also introduces a novel predictive model that assesses individual risk based on dynamic air quality metrics and personal health data The model's predictive accuracy offers a proactive tool for public health interventions allowing for targeted health advisories and personalized prevention strategies The findings enhance our understanding of air pollution's multifaceted effects on respiratory health providing crucial evidence to guide effective policy measures and improve health outcomes in affected populations

Air Pollution Anca Moldoveanu, 2011-09-06 Today an important issue is environmental pollution especially air pollution Due to pollutants present in air human health as well as animal health and vegetation may suffer The book can be divided in two parts The first half presents how the environmental modifications induced by air pollution can have an impact on human health by inducing modifications in different organs and systems and leading to human pathology This part also presents how environmental modifications induced by air pollution can influence human health during pregnancy The second half of the book presents the influence of environmental pollution on animal health and vegetation and how this impact can be assessed the use of the micronucleus tests on TRADESCANTIA to evaluate the genotoxic effects of air pollution the use of transplanted lichen PSEUDEVERNIA FURFURACEA for biomonitoring the presence of heavy metals the monitoring of epiphytic lichen biodiversity to detect environmental quality and air pollution etc The book is recommended to professionals interested in health and environmental issues

Clinical Handbook of Air Pollution-Related Diseases Fabio Capello, Antonio Vittorino Gaddi, 2018-02-21 This book examines in detail the clinical implications of those diseases that either are primarily triggered by air pollution or represent direct consequences of air pollutants The aim is to provide medical practitioners with practical solutions to issues in diagnosis and treatment while simultaneously furnishing other interested parties with crucial information on the field The book introduces the concept that air pollution related diseases constitute a new class of pathologies A wide range of conditions mainly attributable to air pollution are discussed covering different body systems and pollution impacts in subsets of the population In addition to presenting state of the art overviews of clinical aspects the book carefully examines the implications of current knowledge for social and public health strategies aimed at disease prevention and prophylaxis The Clinical Handbook of Air Pollution

Related Diseases will greatly assist doctors and healthcare workers when dealing with the consequences of air pollution in their everyday practice and will provide researchers industry and policymakers with valuable facts and insights

Respiratory Diseases in the Elderly V. Bellia,R. Antonelli Incalzi,2009-03-01 The world population is rapidly ageing As a consequence the portion of the elderly burdened with polipathology and disability will grow while economic resources to support it will shrink due to the contraction of the working force This will require a long term preventive political strategy but there are also selected healthcare interventions that can be easily implemented to decrease the negative impact of this demographic trend on the well being of our societies Examples are strategies that slow functional decline and preserve personal capabilities in geriatric populations Instrumental Lung Diseases and Cancer Miguel Angel Martinez-Garcia,Mina Gaga,Kwun M. Fong,2022-12-01 The coexistence of lung disease and cancer in the same person is a frequent occurrence Evidence suggests that this coexistence sometimes goes beyond chance in fact both disease types are associated and the presence of one can be a risk factor or a protective factor for the other In this Monograph the Guest Editors bring together renowned clinical and scientific experts to provide an exhaustive review of the bidirectional relationship between respiratory diseases and cancer not just lung cancer The chapters explore the common causal pathways of cancer and lung disease consider the diseases from an epidemiological clinical and therapeutic point of view and discuss the many ways in which they interact to influence patient management The result is a book that will generate a better understanding of this relationship giving rise to a greater awareness of the possible development of lung disease in people with cancer and of the different types of cancer that are frequently seen in those with lung diseases
