The Encyclopedia of Film Composers Thomas S. Hischak,2015-04-16 For more than a century original music has been composed for the cinema From the early days when live music accompanied silent films to the present in which a composer can draw upon a full orchestra or a lone synthesizer to embody a composition music has been an integral element of most films By the late 1930s movie studios had established music departments and some of the greatest names in film music emerged during Hollywood s Golden Age including Alfred Newman Max Steiner Dimitri Tiomkin and Bernard Herrmann Over the decades other creators of screen music offered additional memorable scores and some composers such as Henry Mancini Randy Newman and John Williams have become household names The Encyclopedia of Film Composers features entries on more than 250 movie composers from around the world It not only provides facts about these artists but also explains what makes each composer notable and discusses his or her music in detail Each entry includes Biographical material Important dates Career highlights Analysis of the composer's musical style Complete list of movie credits This book brings recognition to the many men and women who have written music for movies over the past one hundred years In addition to composers from the United States and Great Britain artists from dozens of other countries are also represented A rich resource of movie music history The Encyclopedia of Film Composers will be of interest to fans of cinema in general as well as those who want to learn more about the many talented individuals who have created memorable scores The Talent Delusion Tomas

While the viewer's eyes are trained on the actors the production design sets the mood for the film The design also subtly comments on the action and the characters moves the plot forward and adds to its symbolic content The production design of 23 films of the 1980s and 1990s is analyzed here The films are divided into five areas realistic films set in the present day stylized films including horror set in the present day period films period films that move through several decades and science fiction and fantasy films Among the movies analyzed are The Silence of the Lambs She's Gotta Have It The Fisher King Ragtime Barton Fink Goodfellas and Alien The quality of the designs is assessed by a careful reading of the mise en scene Often the designers own words are used to describe the effects and the process involved in achieving them
