New Formalisms and Literary Theory V. Theile, L.

Tredennick, 2013-04-11 Bringing together scholars who have critically followed New Formalism's journey through time space and learning environment this collection of essays both solidifies and consolidates New Formalism as a burgeoning field of literary criticism and explicates its potential as a varied but viable methodology of contemporary critical theory

In-between Places Diane Glancy, 2005 There is a map you decide to call a book A book of the territories you've traveled A map is a meaning you hold against the unknowing The places you speak in many directions For Diane Glancy there are books that you open like a map In between Places is such a book a collection of eleven essays unified by a common concern with landscape and its relation both to our spiritual life and to the craft of writing Taking readers on a trip to New Mexico a voyage across the sea of middle America even a journey to China Glancy has crafted a sustained meditation on the nature and workings of language stories and poems on travel and motion as metaphors for life and literature and on the relationships between Native American and Judeo Christian ways of thinking and being in the world Reflecting on strip mines in Missouri as long as there is anything left to take human industry will take it and hog barns in Iowa writing about them from the hogs perspective Glancy speaks in the margins of cross cultural issues and from the places in between as she explores the middle ground between places that we handle with the potholder of language She leaves in her wake a dance of words and the structures left after the collision of cultures A writer who has often examined her native heritage Glancy also asks here what it means to be part white What does whiteness look like viewed from the other especially when that other is also within oneself And in considering the legacy of Christianity she ponders how it is when the Holy Ghost enters your life like a brother in law you know is going to be there a while Insightful and provocative In between Places is a book for anyone interested in a sense of place and in the relationship between religion and our stance toward nature It is also a book for anyone who loves thoughtful writing and wishes to learn from a modern master of language

Modernism, Middlebrow and the Literary Canon Lise Jaillant, 2015-10-06 In the 1920s and 1930s the Modern Library series began to bring out cheap editions of modernist works Jaillant provides a thorough analysis of the series mix of highbrow and popular literature and argues that the availability and low cost of modernist works helped to expand modernism's influence as a literary movement

Inscribed Objects and the Development of Literature in Early Japan Joshua Frydman, 2023-06-26 The introduction of writing enables new forms of literature but these can be invisible in works that survive as manuscripts Through looking at inscriptions of poetry on garbage and as graffiti we can glimpse how literature spread along with writing This study uses these lesser studied sources including inscriptions on pottery architecture and especially wooden tablets known as mokkan to uncover how poetry and literature more broadly was used shared and thrown away in early Japan

Through looking at these disposable and informal sources we explore the development of early Japanese literature and even propose parallels to similar developments in other societies across space and time

Bulgarian Literature as World Literature Mihaela P. Harper, Dimitar Kambourov, 2020-11-12 Bulgarian Literature as World Literature examines key aspects and manifestations of 20th and 21st century Bulgarian literature by way of the global literary landscape The first volume to bring together in English the perspectives of prominent writers translators and scholars of Bulgarian literature and culture this long overdue collection identifies correlations between national and world aesthetic ideologies and literary traditions It situates Bulgarian literature within an array of contexts and foregrounds a complex interplay of changing internal and external forces These forces shaped not only the first collaborative efforts at the turn of the 20th century to insert Bulgarian literature into the world's literary repository but also the work of contemporary Bulgarian diaspora authors Mapping histories geographies economies and genetics the contributors assess the magnitudes and directions of such forces in order to articulate how a distinctly national minor literature produced for internal use and nearly invisible globally until the last decade transforms into world literature today

The Institution of English Literature Barbara Schaff, Johannes Schlegel, Carola Surkamp, 2016-11-07 The contributions investigate the ways in which numerous institutions of English literature shape the literary field While they cover an extensive historical field ranging from the Early Modern period to the 18th century to the contemporary they focus not only on literary texts but also on extra literary ones including literary prizes literary histories and anthologies and highlight the various ways in which these negotiate the processes that constitute the literary field All contributions assert that there is no such thing as literature outside of institutions Great emphasis is therefore put on different acts of mediation

The Obsolete Empire Philip Tsang, 2021-11-02 Modernist literature at the end of the British empire challenges conventional notions of homeland heritage and community Finalist of the MSA First Book Prize by The Modernist Studies Association The waning British empire left behind an abundance of material relics and an inventory of feelings not easily relinquished In The Obsolete Empire Philip Tsang brings together an unusual constellation of writers Henry James James Joyce Doris Lessing and V S Naipaul to trace an aesthetics of frustrated attachment that emerged in the wake of imperial decline Caught between an expansive Britishness and an exclusive Englishness these writers explored what it meant to belong to an empire that did not belong to them Thanks to their voracious reading of English fiction and poetry in their formative years all of these writers experienced a richly textured world with which they deeply identified but from which they felt excluded The literary England they imagined frozen in time and out of place with the realities of imperial decline in turn figures in their writings as a repository of unconsummated attachments contradictory desires and belated exchanges Their works arrest the linear progression from colonial to postcolonial from empire to nation and from subject to citizen Drawing on a rich body of scholarship on affect and temporality Tsang demonstrates how the British empire endures as a structure of desire that outlived its political lifespan By showing how literary reading sets in motion a tense interplay of intimacy and exclusion Tsang investigates a unique mode of belonging arising from the predicament of being conscripted into a global empire but not desired as its proper citizen Ultimately The Obsolete Empire asks What does it mean to be inside or outside any given culture How do large scale geopolitical changes play out at the level of cultural attachment and political belonging How does literary reading establish or unsettle narratives of who we are These questions preoccupied writers across Britain's former empire and continue to resonate today Encyclopedia of Feminist Literary Theory Elizabeth Kowaleski-Wallace, 2009-03-23 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company
