Present Day Impressions of the Far East and Prominent and Progressive Chinese at Home and Abroad W. H. Morton Cameron, W. Feldwick, 1917 Representing China on the Historical London Stage Dongshin Chang, 2015-02-11 This book provides a critical study of how China was represented on the historical London stage in selected examples from the late seventeenth century to the early twentieth century which corresponds with the Qing Dynasty 1644 1911 China's last monarchy The examples show that during this historical period the stage representations of the country were influenced in turn by Jesuit writings on China Britain's expanding material interest in China the presence of British imperial power in Asia and the establishment of diasporic Chinese communities abroad While finding that many of these works may be read as gendered and feminized Chang emphasizes that the Jesuits depiction of China as a country of high culture and in perennial conflict with the Tartars gradually lost prominence in dramatic imaginations to depictions of China's material and visual attractions Central to the book's argument is that the stage representations of China were inherently intercultural and open to new influences manifested by the evolving combinations of Chinese and English British traits Through the dramatization of the Chinese Other the representations questioned satirized and put in sharp relief the ontological and epistemological bases of the English British Self Shakespeare in China Xiaoyang Zhang,Hsiao Yang Zhang,1996-05 The value of the book is not limited to the scope of Shakespeare studies and comparative literature With the combination of the literary criticism and sociological approach it describes and investigates a variety of social and psychological phenomena in the process of cultural exchange between the West and the East The book also provides a brief view of the social political and historical changes in modern China for Western readers The Cambridge Guide to Asian Theatre James R. Brandon,Martin

Drama in the People's Republic of China Constantine Tung, Colin Mackerras, 1987-07-01

This is the first book ever published in the West on drama in the People's Republic of China The plays playwrights theories and performances range from the play that inflamed the Cultural Revolution to a post Mao satiric drama that upset party leaders from Jiang Qing's drama theory for her model plays to the discovery of Bertolt Brecht from the problems and dilemmas that confront theater reform in the post Mao era to the performance of Ibsen's Peer Gynt and Viennese operettas and from a historical play glorifying Mao's supremacy to a playwright calling for individualism and women's rights This book not only depicts aspects of drama in the People's Republic of China it also provides analyses of the political and social conditions that shaped and are represented in this drama

Translating China as Cross-Identity Performance James St. André, 2018-05-31

James St André applies the perspective of cross identity performance to the translation of a wide variety of Chinese texts into English and French from the eighteenth to the twentieth centuries Drawing on scholarship in cultural studies queer studies and anthropology the author argues that many cross identity performance techniques including blackface passing drag mimicry and masquerade provide insights into the history of translation practice He makes a strong case for situating translation in its historical social and cultural milieu reading translated texts alongside a wide variety of other materials that helped shape the image of John Chinaman A reading of the life and works of George Psalmanazar whose cross identity performance as a native of Formosa enlivened early eighteenth century salons opens the volume and provides a bridge between the book's theoretical framework and its examination of Chinese European interactions The core of the book consists of a chronological series of cases each of which illustrates the use of a different type of cross identity performance to better understand translation practice St André provides close readings of early pseudotranslations including Marana's Turkish Spy 1691 and Goldsmith's Citizen of the World 1762 as well as adaptations of Hatchett's The Chinese Orphan 1741 and Voltaire's Orphelin de la Chine 1756 Later chapters explore Davis's translation of Sorrows of Han 1829 and genuine translations of nonfictional material mainly by employees of the East India Company The focus then shifts to oral aural aspects of early translation practice in the nineteenth century using the concept of mimicry to examine interactions between Pidgin English and translation in the popular press Finally the work of two early modern Chinese translators Gu Hongming and Lin Yutang is examined as masquerade Offering an original and innovative study of genres of writing that are traditionally examined in isolation St Andr s work provides a fascinating examination of the way three cultures interacted through the shifting encounters of fiction translation and nonfiction and in the process helped establish and shape the way Chinese were represented The book represents a major contribution to translation studies Chinese cultural studies postcolonial studies and gender criticism The China Review, Or, Notes and Queries on the Far East ,1872 The Vision of China in the English Literature of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries Adrian Hsia,1998 The Vision of China is the first book on China as it came to be reflected in English literature As such it also offers the first comprehensive study of the image of China in Western literature Featuring essays by prominent Chinese scholars such as Qian Zongshu Fan Cunzhong and Chen Shouyi it complements such works as Pierre Martino s L Orient dans la litterature francaise au XVIIe et au XVIIIe siecle 1906 Ursula Aurich s China im Spiegel der deutschen Literature des 18 Jahrhunderts 1935 and E Horst Tscharners China in der deutschen Dichtung bis zur Klassik 1939 Together with William W Appleton s A Cycle of Cathay The Chinese Vogue in England during the 17th and 18th Centuries 1951 and Raymond Dawson s The Chinese Chameleon An Analysis of European Conceptions of Chinese Civilization 1967 the book studies the last phase of the Chinese mode in England Some of the articles collected here actually inspired Appleton s study at least in part As a contemporary volume on the construct of China The Vision of China can readily be considered the companion study to Edward Said s envisioned Orient in Orientalism 1979 to Tzvetan Todorov s Africa in Nous et les autres la reflection francaise sur la diversite humaine 1989 and Gauri Viswanathan s Masks of Conquest Literary Study and British Rule in India 1989 The China Review, Or, Notes and Queries on the Far East Nicholas Belfield Dennys,Ernest John Eitel,William C. Barlow,James Dyer Ball,1889 The Chinese Origin of Physiocracy Tan Min,2025-05-05 This book by way of a comparative analysis of the main economic viewpoints of the Chinese and Western traditions shows that the theories of the Physiocrats originated in a significant way from ancient Chinese economic thought Resorting to a large number of relevant Chinese and foreign materials the author argues convincingly for the great role ancient Chinese thought played in the birth of Western modern economics The book is funded and published by the Shanghai Marxist Academic Publications Foundation It systematically and convincingly demonstrates the Physiocrats basic economic views and their origins in ancient Chinese thought This is a very innovative unique and exciting research Many scholars in China have regarded the work as a breakthrough in the study of the history of economics because of which the author has won the second prize of outstanding achievement in Shanghai s philosophy and social sciences The Spectre of Tradition and the Aesthetic-Political Movement of Theatre and Performance Min Tian,2022-10-25 This book interrogates anew the phenomenon of tradition in a dialogical debate with a host of Western thinkers and critical minds In contrast to the predominantly Western approaches which look at traditions Western and non Western from a predominantly Western modernist perspective this book interrogates from an intercultural perspective the transnational and transcultural consecration translation re invention and displacement of traditions theatrical and cultural in the aesthetic political movement of twentieth century theatre and performance as exemplified in the case studies of this book It looks at the question of traditions and modernities at the centre of this aesthetic political space as modernities interculturally evoke and are haunted by traditions and as traditions are interculturally refracted reconstituted refunctioned and reinvented It also looks at the applicability of its intercultural perspective on tradition to the historical avant garde in general postmodern postcolonial and postdramatic theatre and performance and to the twentieth century classical intercultural theatre and the twenty first century new interculturalisms in theatre and performance To conclude it looks at the future of tradition in the ecology of our globalized theatrum mundi and considers two important interrelated concepts future tradition and intercultural tradition This book will be of great interest to students and scholars in performance studies
