

What was
this area
like before Stonehenge?

Long before the first people built Stonehenge, this area was a busy place. It was a hub of activity, with people coming and going. The area was a meeting place for people from all over the region. It was a place where people came to trade goods and services. It was a place where people came to share their knowledge and experiences. It was a place where people came to build a better life for themselves and their families.

Over the years, the area has changed. The landscape has shifted. The climate has changed. But the area remains a place of interest and discovery. It is a place where we can learn about the lives of the people who lived there. It is a place where we can see the evidence of their lives. It is a place where we can imagine what it was like to live there.

Today, the area is a National Monument. It is a place where we can see the evidence of our ancestors. It is a place where we can learn about the lives of the people who lived there. It is a place where we can imagine what it was like to live there.

The area is a place of great interest and discovery. It is a place where we can learn about the lives of the people who lived there. It is a place where we can see the evidence of their lives.
