French Eggs in an English Basket. [A Collection of Tales] Émile Souvestre, 1872 The Literature of the Indian Diaspora Vijay Mishra, 2007-09-12 The Literature of the Indian Diaspora constitutes a major study of the literature and other cultural texts of the Indian diaspora It is also an important contribution to diaspora theory in general Examining both the old Indian diaspora of early capitalism following the abolition of slavery and the new diaspora linked to movements of late capital Mishra argues that a full understanding of the Indian diaspora can only be achieved if attention is paid to the particular locations of both the old and the new in nation states Applying a theoretical framework based on trauma mourning impossible mourning spectres identity travel translation and recognition Mishra uses the term imaginary to refer to any ethnic enclave in a nation state that defines itself consciously or unconsciously as a group in displacement He examines the works of key writers many now based across the globe in Canada Australia America and the UK V S Naipaul Salman Rushdie M G Vassanji Shani Mootoo Bharati Mukherjee David Dabydeen Rohinton Mistry and Hanif Kureishi among them to show how they exemplify both the diasporic imaginary and the respective traumas of the old and new Indian diasporas

Encyclopedic Dictionary of Diasporic

Indian English Writing Manju Jaidka, Tej N. Dhar, Natasha Vashisht, 2025-05-15 The Handbook of Diasporic Indian Writing in English is an essential reference to Indian literature. It features alphabetical entries of Indian writers who have bridged the gap between cultures and redefined language boundaries. As the field of diasporic writing continues to expand and intersect with various branches of English and Cultural studies, it anticipates a growing market. It offers a unique and compelling perspective on the global tapestry of literature. It draws on various interdisciplinary approaches including postcolonial theory, cultural studies, and digital humanities to offer fresh and innovative perspectives on the literature. It is an indispensable resource for research scholars of literary studies and related disciplines like cultural studies and postcolonial studies. The Watchman-examiner, 1917

Between the Bocas Jak Peake, 2017 Situated opposite the mouth of the Orinoco River, western Trinidad has long been considered an entrepot to mainland South America. Trinidad's geographic position, seen as strategic by various imperial governments, led to many heterogeneous peoples from across the region and globe settling or being relocated there. The calm waters around the Gulf of Paria, on the western fringes of Trinidad, induced settlers to construct a harbour, Port of Spain, around which the modern capital has been formed. From its colonial roots into the postcolonial era, western Trinidad therefore has played an especial part in the shaping of the island's literature. Viewed from one perspective, western Trinidad might be deemed as narrating the heart of the modern state's national literature. Alternatively, the political threats posed around San Fernando in Trinidad's southwest in the 1930s and from within the capital in the 1970s present a different picture of western Trinidad, one in which the fractures of Trinidad and Tobago's projected nationalism are prevalent. While sugar remains a dominant narrative in Caribbean literary studies, this book offers a unique literary perspective on matters too often perceived as the sole preserve of sociological, anthropological, or geographical studies. The legacy of the oil industry and the development of the suburban commuter belt of East West Corridor therefore form considerable discursive nodes alongside other key Trinidadian sites such as Woodford Square, colonial houses, and the urban yards of Port of Spain. This study places works by well-known authors such as V. S. Naipaul and Samuel Selvon alongside writing by Michel Maxwell, Philip Marcella, Fanny Wilkins, E. L. Joseph, Earl Lovelace, Ismith Khan, Monique Roffey, Arthur Calder Marshall, Zenga Longmore, and the largely neglected novelist Yseult Bridges, who is almost entirely forgotten today. Using fiction, calypso, history, memoir, legal accounts, poetry, essays, and journalism, this study opens with an analysis of Trinidad's nineteenth-century literature and offers twentieth-century and more contemporary readings of the island in successive chapters. Chapters are roughly arranged in chronological order around particular sites and topoi, while literature from a variety of authors of British Caribbean, Irish, and Jewish descent is represented. Catholic World, 1883
