The Asiapacific Security Lexicon Ibues In Southeast Asian Security:

The Asia-Pacific Security Lexicon David H. Capie, Paul M. Evans, 2002 In the turbulent decade since the ending of the Cold War in Europe a new element of the international relations of Asia and the Pacific has been the emergence of multilateral security dialogues Both in governmental arenas such as the ASEAN Regional Forum and numerous track two channels including the Council for Security Co operation in Asia Pacific it has been a decade of creative interaction and new thinking The Asia Pacific Security Lexicon identifies the key phrases and ideas that have been the foundation of these dialogues looking at their origins in international diplomacy and tracing their specific adaptation and modification to the conditions of a trans Pacific setting Of interest to both theoreticians and practitioners the Lexicon is at once a handbook for regional diplomacy and an assessment of the factors that have shaped regional discussions

The Asia-Pacific Security Lexicon David H. Capie, Paul M. Evans, 2002 Focuses on the vocabulary of Asia Pacific security mainly as it developed in the creative decade of the 1990s The goal is to dissect thirty four ideas and concepts that have been at the core of debates about multilateral security co operation The study of multilateral institution building in the Asia Pacific has usually focused on material determinants especially the relationship between the balance of power and regional institutions By contrast the focus here is on ideas Introduction

Asia-Pacific Security Lexicon (Upated 2nd Edition) David Capie, 2003-08-01 The ending of the Cold War opened a new debate across the Pacific about the meaning of security and the new regional multilateral institutions that were beginning to emerge The first edition of the The Asia Pacific Security Lexicon published in 2002 identified and defined the key concepts and ideas central to security discourse in the region This second edition updates all of the entries and examines the origins and meanings of some of the new terms in common usage in a different historical setting among them e terrorisme e pre emptione e preventive ware e a la carte multilateralisme e coalition of the willinge and China s e peaceful risee And it looks at how concepts such as e human securitye and e non traditional securitye have evolved and found new adherents Both a diplomatic handbook and theoretical exploration the Lexicon is based on the analysis of more than 3 000 books articles conference reports and speeches It does not aim to resolve the disagreements about how words are used Rather it makes their evolution clearer for academics and practitioners seeking consensual knowledge

Asia-Pacific Security Joanne Wallis, Andrew Carr, 2016-10-01 This new textbook gathers an international roster of top security studies scholars to provide an overview of Asia Pacific s international relations and pressing contemporary security issues It is a suitable introduction for undergraduate and masters students use in international relations and security studies courses Merging a strong theoretical component with rich contemporary and historical empirical examples Asia Pacific Security examines the region s key players and challenges as well as a spectrum of proposed solutions for improving regional stability Major topics include in depth looks at the United States relationship with China Security concerns presented by small and microstates the region s largest group of nations threats posed by terrorism and insurgency the region's accelerating arms race and the potential for an Asian war the possible roles of multilateralism security communities and human security as part of solutions to regional problems Regional Security in Southeast Asia Mely

Caballero-Anthony, 2003-08-01 The book examines ASEAN's mechanisms in managing challenges and threats to regional security Its extensive analyses of the ASEAN story of managing regional security cover the different phases of ASEAN's development as a regional organization and explore the perceptible changes that have occurred in regional mechanisms of conflict management The book also examines the roles of relevant actors beyond the states of ASEAN and the key interactions that have evolved over time which have been instrumental in moving regional mechanisms beyond the ASEAN way The book argues that the ASEAN way has not been impervious to change As the association finds its way through periods of crises and continues to confront the many challenges ahead ASEAN and its mechanisms are already being transformed beyond the narrow confines of the modalities associated with the ASEAN way The changes in the political and security landscape of the region as well as the democratic transitions taking place in some member states have set the stage for a much more dynamic set of regional actors and processes that bring into question the kind of regionalism that is now taking place in the region This book therefore attempts to capture these evolving dynamics and examines the way regionalism is changing in Southeast Asia The Asia-Pacific Security Lexicon David H. Capie, Paul M. Evans, 2002

Multilateral Asian Security Architecture See Seng Tan, 2015-07-16 This book provides a comparative assessment of the material and ideational contributions of five countries to the regional architecture of post Cold War Asia In contrast to the usual emphasis placed on the role and centrality of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN in Asia's multilateral architecture and its component institutions this book argues that the four non ASEAN countries of interest here 3 4 Australia Japan China and the United States 3 4 and Indonesia have played and continue to play an influential part in determining the shape and substance of Asian multilateralism from its pre inception to the present The work does not contend that existing scholarship overstates ASEAN's significance to the successes and failures of Asia's multilateral enterprise Rather it claims that the impact of non ASEAN stakeholders in innovating multilateral architecture in Asia has been understated Whether ASEAN has fared well or poorly as a custodian of Asia's regional architecture the fact remains that the countries considered here notwithstanding their present discontent over the state of that architecture are key to understanding the evolution of Asian multilateralism This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics international organisations security studies and IR more generally Think Tanks and Non-Traditional Security Erin Zimmerman, 2016-02-09 Asian security institutions have struggled to adapt to the so called non traditional security issues that characterise the strategic landscape of the 21st century The resulting gaps in governance have increasingly been filled by think tanks which have arguably begun to change the way that Asian security is governed Environmental Discourses in Public and International Law Brad Jessup, Kim Rubenstein, 2012-02-02 How do dominant views and arguments about environmental problems traverse and connect international and public law Institutionalizing East Asia Alice Ba, Cheng-Chwee Kuik, Sueo Sudo, 2016-03-10 Institutional activities have remarkably transformed East Asia a region once known for the absence of regionalism and regime building efforts Yet the dynamics of this Asian institutionalization have remained an understudied area of research This book offers one of the first scholarly attempts to clarify what constitutes institutionalization in East Asia and to systematically trace the origins discern the features and analyze the prospects of ongoing institutionalization processes in the world's most dynamic region Institutionalizing East Asia comprises eight essays grouped thematically into three sections Part I considers East and Southeast Asia as focal points of inter state exchanges and traces the institutionalization of inter state cooperation first among the Southeast Asian states and then among those of the wider East Asia Part II examines the institutionalization of regional collaboration in four domains economy security natural disaster relief and ethnic conflict management Part III discusses the institutionalization dynamics at the sub regional and inter regional levels The essays in this book offer a useful source of reference for scholars and researchers specializing in East Asia regional architecture and institution building in international relations They will also be of interest to postgraduate and research students interested in ASEAN the drivers and limits of international cooperation as well as the role of regional multilateralism in the Asia Pacific region Asia Pacific Security Jawhar Hassan, 2004 Asian Security Order Muthiah Alagappa, 2003 More than a decade has passed since the end of the Cold War but Asia still faces serious security challenges These include the current security environment in the Korean peninsula across the Taiwan Strait and over Kashmir the danger of nuclear and missile proliferation and the concern with the rising power of China and with American dominance Indeed some experts see Asia as a dangerous and unstable place Alagappa disagrees maintaining that Asia is a far more stable predictable and prosperous region than it was in the postindependence period This volume also takes account of the changed security environment in Asia since September 11 2001 Unlike many areas studies approaches Alagappa's work makes a strong case for taking regional politics and security dynamics seriously from both theoretical and empirical approaches The first part of this volume develops an analytical framework for the study of order the salience of the different pathways to order is examined in the second part the third investigates the management of specific security issues and the final part discusses the nature of security order in Asia Challenges to Global Security Hussein Solomon, 2008 Ours is an age of great upheaval where change sometimes appears to be the only constant Three of the most important forces driving such change are globalization regionalization and democratization This substantial work makes a concerted attempt to understand these forces and to show how they impact on the vitally important question of global security The volume brings together a wide range of scholars who hold diverse views and who collectively make a very significant contribution to current discourses within international relations and contemporary geopolitics Such is the book's breadth that it covers every region of the world addressing in turn security problems in the USA Latin America South Asia South East Asia Europe Russia and environs the Middle East and Africa Each discourse receives substantial coverage from economics and politics to religion religious fundamentalism and human rights Challenges to Global Security offers one of the richest comparative volumes yet to be published on the subject and will have strong appeal to students scholars and policymakers in the fields of international relations ethics and politics

ASEAN's Cooperative Security Enterprise Hiro Katsumata, 2009 ASEANs Security Enterprise explores the significance of ASEANs cooperative security enterprise the questions of whether and in what sense this enterprise matters

Asia in the New Millennium Lai To Lee, Amitav Acharya, 2004 Some 120 participants attended the inaugural Congress of the Asian Political and International Studies Association APISA in Singapore on 28 30 November 2003 Asians from universities and institutes in many countries accounted for about 70 per cent of the participants The First Congress had been two years in the making In November 2001 30 academics from research institutes think tanks and universities introduced the idea of launching an Asian based academic organisation dedicated to the advancement of political and international studies It was the general consensus of the meeting that Asian scholars had been marginalised from the decision making processes of the Western based associations of a similar nature Asian schools of thought had been stifled as a consequence of the American hegemony in the social sciences and that the state of Asian studies in general was underdeveloped In the light of these concerns the APISA was established Drawn from academia and think tanks from across Asia and the Pacific the political and security specialists sociologists historians and economists exchanged ideas and charted new intellectual terrain on the theme Asia in the New Millennium Development Democracy and Security The keynote speaker at the Congress was Dr Surin Pitiswan former Foreign Minister of Thailand and Member of the Commission for Human Security who focused on the need to pursue prominence in Asian scholarship Panels at the APISA Congress transcended disciplinary contours national and regional boundaries and historical confines The panels themes ranged from globalisation identity and community in Asia to electronic government and theory and modernity Offering more regional lenses were panels that discussed understanding and explaining Asia Pacific security and the welfare state in Southeast Asia China and her neighbours Among the many panels that engaged other disciplines were the discussions on state vs market the historical contributions in the panel on defining Southeast Asia as a region and sociological inclinations in the panel on culture politics and cooperation

READERSHIP Policy makers researchers tertiary students and all those interested in politics and international relations

China's International Relations in Asia: China and non-traditional security in Asia Mingjiang Li, 2010 This new Major Work is fully indexed and includes a comprehensive index newly written by the editor which places the collected material in its historical and intellectual context It is destined to be valued by scholars students and researchers

Regional Cooperation in South Asia and Southeast Asia Kripa Sridharan, T. C. A. Srinivasa-Raghavan, 2007 The general view about regionalism seems to be that it is better to have regionalized and faltered than never to have regionalized at all Taking this as its point of departure this study provides a comparative sketch of regionalism in South and Southeast Asia The book argues that regionalism is here to stay and both imitation and innovation are the preferred strategies for sustaining the process It points out that economic integration requires certain prior conditions to be fulfilled and does not happen merely because governments wish it to happen

ASEAN Regional Forum ,2002 Power, Identity and Multilateralism David H. Capie,2002 A New Agenda for the Issues & Studies ,2003
