sensibilities theological intelligibilities and ethical cultural and ecclesiastical backgrounds have affirmed that this worldwide quagmire constitutes a global health problem and social malady which does not have a well defined geographically limited spread The global nature of HIV AIDS as seen in the statistics does not however undermine the fact that the effects of this sickness are not felt proportionally from one nation to another This book proposes to situate the local as a veritable site of empowerment for communities dealing with HIV AIDS as it is the case with the African continent The author of this book over and above the way the problem of HIV AIDS has been constructed projected and reviewed decided to situate this epidemic of the 20th Century within the socio cultural and political context of the Nigerian nation with particular reference to the Igbo people The task of contextualizing this problem reveal the identity of the author as an Igbo and as a theologian who engages the indigenous ethical principles unsophisticated traditional wisdom cultural and religious values of his people in offering solutions that resonate the cultural identity of his people in dialogue with modern and post modern constructs
