The English Country House And Its Furnishings:

The English Country House and Its Furnishings Michael I. Wilson, 1977 Consumption and the Country House Jon Stobart, Mark Rothey, 2016-05-20 This study explores the consumption practices of the landed aristocracy of Georgian England focussing on three families and drawing on detailed analysis of account books receipted bills household inventories diaries and correspondence Consumption and the Country House charts the spending patterns of this elite group during the so called consumer revolution of the eighteenth century Generally examined through the lens of middling families homes and motivations this book explores the ways in which the aristocracy were engaged in this wider transformation of English society Analysis centres on the goods that the aristocracy purchased both luxurious and mundane the extent to which they pursued fashionable modes and goods the role that family and friends played in shaping notions of taste the influence of gender on taste and refinement the geographical reach of provisioning and the networks that lay behind this consumer activity and the way this all contributed to the construction of the country house The country house thus emerges as much more than a repository of luxury and splendour it lay at the heart of complex networks of exchange sociability demand and supply Exploring these processes and relationships serves to reanimate the country house making it an active site of consumption rather than simply an expression of power and taste and drawing it into the mainstream of consumption histories At the same time the landed aristocracy are shown to be rounded consumers driven by values of thrift and restraint as much as extravagant desires and valuing the old as well as the new not least as markers of their pedigree and heritage

Comfort in the Eighteenth-Century Country House Jon Stobart, 2021-09-21 Country houses were grand statements of power and status but they were also places where people lived This book traces the changes in layout the new technologies and the innovations in furniture that made them more convenient and comfortable It argues that these material changes were just one aspect of comfort in the country house feeling comfortable was just as important as being comfortable Achieving this involved the comfort and solace to be found in daily routines religious faith and above all relationships with family and friends Such emotional comforts and the attachment to things and places that embodied and memorialized them made country houses into homes The British Country House in the Eighteenth Century Christopher Christie, 2000 This work explores the British country house between 1700 1830 and looks at the lives of the noblemen and the servants who inhabited them Reference is made to the whole of the British Isles and there is a discussion of their political significance

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature , 1917 England's Rural Realms Edward Bujak, 2007-10-24 The English countryside in the nineteenth century experienced the shifting power struggle from the great landed estates towards democratisation Challenging received scholarship that the landed estates declined in power and patronage Bujak places the Victorian globalisation of trade alongside the democratisation of the English countryside By doing so he reveals that the economic decline of the great landed estates was balanced by their continued social and political influence in the countryside up to the Great War With its focus on Suffolk a county at the forefront of agricultural improvement and thus hardest hit by the agricultural depression the patterns revealed by England s Rural Realm demonstrates the durability of the great estate system across the English countryside A Cultural History of Furniture in the Age of Empire and Industry Catherine L. Futter,Christina M. Anderson,2022-02-24 The 19th century in Western culture was a time of both confidence and turbulence Industrial development produced a growing middle class as well as efficiency convenience and innovation across a range of fields from engineering to architecture Alongside these improvements the century began with the extended period of the Napoleonic Wars and was further disrupted by rebellions and revolutions both within Europe and in India South America and other parts of the world Slavery was abolished and urbanization increased dramatically These myriad developments were reflected throughout the period in the proliferation of types of furniture along with their categorization as industrial art at the international exhibitions and world fairs and the increasingly adventurous range of materials that were sometimes used in their construction Nonetheless a strong antiquarian historicist strand also prompted interest in the revival of past styles in areas of art and design including furniture Drawing upon a wealth of visual and textual sources this volume of A Cultural History of Furniture presents essays that examine key characteristics of the furniture of the period on the themes of design and motifs makers making and materials types and uses the domestic setting the public setting exhibition and display furniture and architecture visual representations and verbal representations American Country Houses of Today ,1927 In the Country Style ,2000 Furnishing the Home of Good Taste Lucy Abbot Throop,2022-09-16 DigiCat Publishing presents to you this special edition of Furnishing the Home of Good Taste A Brief Sketch of the Period Styles in Interior Decoration with Suggestions as to Their Employment in the Homes of Today by Lucy Abbot Throop DigiCat Publishing considers every written word to be a legacy of humankind Every DigiCat book has been carefully reproduced for republishing in a new modern format The books are available in print as well as ebooks DigiCat hopes you will treat this work with the acknowledgment and passion it deserves as a classic of world literature A.L.A. Catalog, 1926 Isabella Mitchell Cooper,Marion Horton,1926 The Grand Rapids Furniture Record ,1914 Good Furniture Magazine of Furnishing & Decoration ,1921 Good Furniture Magazine ,1923 House & Garden's Second Book of Interiors Richardson Little Wright,Margaret McElroy,1926 Contains seven hundred illustrations of halls living rooms libraries dining rooms bed chambers and other rooms of the house together with their color schemes Faded and Threadbare Historic Textiles and their Role in Houses Open to the Public Margaret Ponsonby,2016-04-15 Many historic houses that open to the public in England and Wales particularly those owned by the National Trust preserve their contents rather than restore them to a particular period The former owners of these houses often retained objects from various periods and this layering of history produces interiors that look aged and patinated Although the reason for this preservation and lack of fashionable renewable can be attributed to declining economic fortunes in the twentieth century there are many examples of families practising this method of homemaking over a much longer period Taking National Trust properties as its central focus this book examines three interlocking themes to examine the role of historic textiles Firstly it looks at houses with preserved contents together with the reasons for individual families choosing this lifestyle secondly the role of the National Trust as both guardian and interpreter of these houses and their collections and finally and most importantly the influence of textiles to contribute to the appearance of interiors and their physical attributes that carry historical resonances of the past The importance of preserved textiles in establishing the visual character of historic houses is a neglected area and therefore the prominence given to textiles in this project constitutes an original contribution to the study of these houses Drawing upon a range of primary sources including literature produced by the National Trust for their sites and documentary sources for the families and their houses such as diaries letters and household accounts the study takes a broad approach that will be of interest to all those with an interest in material culture heritage collecting studies and cultural history

The Country House Revisited Tereza Topolovská ,2017-08-01 This monograph provides an insight into English country house fiction by twentieth and twenty first century authors with a focus on the works of E M Forster Evelyn Waugh Iris Murdoch Alan Hollinghurst and Sarah Waters The country house is explored within the wider social and cultural contexts of the period including contemporary architectural development The variety of literary depictions of the country house reflects the physical diversification of buildings which can be classified as such from smaller variants to formerly grand residences on the brink of physical collapse Within the scope of contemporary fiction architecture and poetics of space the country house given its uniquely integrating and exceptionally evocative qualities accentuates different conceptions of dwelling Consequently literary portrayals of the country house can be seen as both prefiguring and reflecting the contemporary practice of living

Art in England Sara N. James,2016-10-31 Art in England fills a void in the scholarship of both English and medieval art by offering the first single volume overview of artistic movements in Medieval and Early Renaissance England Grounded in history and using the chronology of the reign of monarchs as a structure it is contextual and comprehensive revealing unobserved threads of continuity patterns of intention and unique qualities that run through English art of the medieval millennium By placing the English movement in a European context this book brings to light many ingenious innovations that focused studies tend not to recognize and offers a fresh look at the movement as a whole The media studied include architecture and related sculpture both ecclesiastical and secular tomb monuments murals panel paintings altarpieces and portraits manuscript illuminations textiles and art by English artists and by foreign artists commissioned by English patrons

European Furniture in The Metropolitan Museum of Art Daniëlle O. Kisluk-Grosheide,,Wolfram Koeppe,William

Rieder,2006-05-30 This beautifully produced volume is the first to survey the Metropolitan Museum s world renowned collection of European furniture One hundred and three superb examples from the Museum s vast holdings are featured They originated in workshops in England France Germany Italy the Netherlands Austria Russia or Spain and date from the Renaissance to the late nineteenth century A number of them belonged to such important historical figures as Pope Urban VIII Louis XIV Madame de Pompadour and Napoleon The selection includes chairs tables beds cabinets commodes settees and sofas bookcases and standing shelves desks fire screens ath niennes coffers chests mirrors and frames showcases and lighting equipment There is also one purely decorative piece a superb vase made for a Russian noble family who according to one awestruck viewer owned all the malachite mines in the world The makers of some of the objects are unknown but most of the pieces can be identified by label documentation or style as the work of an outstanding European designer craftsman such as Andr Charles Boulle Thomas Chippendale David Roentgen or Karl Friedrich Schinkel
