Thomas Arthur Leonard and the Co-operative Holidays Association Douglas George Hope,2016-12-14 This book focuses on Thomas Arthur Leonard a Congregational minister in Colne Lancashire in the 1890s and the Co operative Holidays Association which he founded in 1893 The Co operative Holidays Association which was re named the Countrywide Holidays Association in 1964 but was always affectionately known as the CHA operated as an independent provider of outdoor holidays until 2002 Leonard left the CHA in 1913 to establish the Holiday Fellowship an organisation with similar ideals to the CHA which continues to trade as HF Holidays Leonard was also instrumental in the establishment of the Youth Hostels Association in 1930 and the formation of the Ramblers Association in 1935 of which he was the first President He strongly supported the National Trust founded in 1895 and was a stalwart of the campaign for national parks during the 1930s He was a founder member of the Friends of the Lake District in 1934 and was connected with a number of other outdoor holiday organisations This book details the life and achievements of this extraordinary man who rebelled against the conventionality of the 1880s and 1890s and was appalled by the dull and grim lives of artisans and textile workers in the industrial north of England It also tells the story of the CHA which pioneered walking holidays in the outdoors for working people from its foundation in 1893 to its demise in 2004 The book describes how the CHA faced the challenges of changing social economic and cultural conditions during the twentieth century such as increasing affluence and consumer choice changing cultural attitudes and expectations the popularisation of outdoor recreation and the proliferation of outdoor holiday providers It shows how the CHA drifted away from its original ideals in an attempt to remain viable in the face of increasing consumerism but nevertheless continued to provide holidays for thousands of people based on healthy recreation and quiet enjoyment and the principles of friendship and fellowship Giants of Tourism Richard W. Butler, Roslyn Russell, 2010 This book presents individuals who have made an important contribution to tourism Most are entrepreneurs in the classic sense but others are individuals who have had unintentional subsequent effects on tourism through their actions The book is arranged in four parts i giants of hospitality chapters 1 5 ii giants of travel chapters 6 10 iii giants of activities chapters 11 14 and iv giants of development chapters 15 19 Working-Class Organisations and Popular Tourism, 1840-1970 Susan Barton, 2005-05-20 Today many people take the idea of holidays for granted and regard the provision of paid time off as a right This book argues that popular tourism has its roots in collective organisation and charts the development of the working class holiday over two centuries This study recounts how short unpaid and often unauthorised periods of leave from work became organised and legitimised through legislation culminating with the Holidays with Pay Act of 1938 Moreover this study finds that it was through collective activity by workers through savings clubs friendly societies and union activity that the working class were originally able to take holidays and it was as a result of collective bargaining and campaigning that paid holidays were eventually secured for all Travel and Tourism in Britain, 1700-1914 Vol 4 Susan Barton, Allan Brodie, 2021-12-16 The British led the way in holidaymaking This four volume primary resource collection brings together a diverse range of texts on the various forms of transport used by tourists the destinations they visited the role of entertainments and accommodation and how these affected the way that tourism evolved over two centuries Volume 4 Seaside Resorts The final volume presents case studies of four major seaside resorts Scarborough Margate Brighton and Blackpool Scarborough evolved from a spa town to a seaside resort Margate became a coastal resort from scratch and became one of the earliest sites of mass tourism Brighton had sea bathers by the 1730s and its early development followed a similar path to that of Margate but its royal connections allowed its rapid growth into a large town with high quality accommodation When the railway arrived at Blackpool in 1846 it was a large village Thirty years later it had two piers and a large hotel Its steady growth was due to the stream of working class visitors from the local hinterland of major industrial towns and cities The Cambridge Urban History of Britain Peter Clark, David Michael Palliser, Martin J. Daunton, 2000 The process of urbanisation and suburbanisation in Britain from the Victorian period to the twentieth century Travel and Tourism in Britain, 1700-1914 Vol 1 Susan Barton, Allan Brodie, 2021-12-24 The British led the way in holidaymaking This four volume primary resource collection brings together a diverse range of texts on the various forms of transport used by tourists the destinations they visited the role of entertainments and accommodation and how these affected the way that tourism evolved over two centuries Volume 1 Travel and Destinations Texts in this volume draw on accounts by early

The Emotional Economy of Holidaymaking Yaara Benger Alaluf, 2021-03-04 It is often taken for granted that holiday resorts sell intangible commodities such as freedom enjoyment pleasure and relaxation But how did the desire for a happy holiday emerge how was the right to rest legitimized and how are emotions produced by commercial enterprises To answer these questions The Emotional Economy of Holidaymaking explores the rise of popular holidaymaking in late nineteenth century Britain which is generally considered to be the birthplace of mass tourism Drawing on a wide range of texts including medical literature parliamentary debates advertisements travel guides popular stories and personal accounts the book unravels the role emotions played in British spa and seaside holiday cultures Introducing the concept of an emotional economy Yaara Benger Alaluf traces the overlapping impact that psychological and economic thought had on moral ideals and performative practices of work and leisure Through a vivid account of changing attitudes toward health pleasure social class and gender in late Victorian and Edwardian Britain she explains why the democratization of holidaymaking went hand in hand with its emotionalization Combining the history of emotions with the sociology of commodification the book offers an innovative approach to the study of the leisure and entertainment industries and a better understanding of how medicalized conceptions of emotions influenced people's dispositions desires consumption habits and civil rights Looking ahead to the central place of tourism in twenty first century societies and its relation to stress and burnout The Emotional Economy of Holidaymaking calls on future research of past and present leisure cultures to take emotions seriously and to rethink notions of rationality authenticity and agency
