The European Community And The Developing World The Role Of The Lome Convention:

The European Community and the Developing World Marjorie Lister, 1988 The European Community and the Third World Ellen Frey-Wouters, 1980 The European Community and the Developing Countries Enzo R. Grilli, 1993 The European Community has long been the largest trading bloc in the world It is also on the way to becoming the world's largest integrated economic zone Its trade aid and development cooperation policies are therefore of great importance to developing countries At the same time the developing countries have continued to be of interest to the Community both as outlets for its exports and capital investments and as sources of raw materials This 1993 book analyses and evaluates European Community trade aid and industrial policies towards developing countries their origin main features logic evolution and effectiveness in reaching the goals assigned to them The author sums up the state of Europe's development policies by describing them as regional in scope colonial in geographical emphasis discriminatory in their effects and lacking in overall cogency This incisive re evaluation illustrates the different strategies the EC countries might pursue in their relations with the outside world as they progress towards fuller economic integration The European Union and Developing Countries C. Cosgrove-Sacks, 1999-05-17 This book examines the ways in which EU policies towards developing countries are changing in response to the new challenges of globalization and the end of the Cold War It analyses the patchwork of relationships between the fifteen Member States and more than 140 countries throughout Africa Asia Latin America and the Mediterranean Encyclopedia of the Developing World Thomas M. Leonard, 2013-10-18 A RUSA 2007 Outstanding Reference Title The Encyclopedia of the Developing World is a comprehensive work on the historical and current status of developing countries Containing more than 750 entries the Encyclopedia encompasses primarily the years since 1945 and defines development broadly addressing not only economics but also civil society and social progress Entries cover the most important theories and measurements of development relate historical events movements and concepts to development both internationally and regionally where applicable examine the contributions of the most important persons and organizations and detail the progress made within geographic regions and by individual countries The European Union and the Developing Countries Olufemi Babarinde, Gerrit Faber, 2005-02-01 The relationships between the European Union and developing countries in Africa the Caribbean and the Pacific or ACP countries have been called a model for North South development cooperation The Lome Conventions were the embodiment of this model After 25 years the European Union and the ACP group signed a new partnership agreement the Cotonou Agreement Given the disappointing results of the former conventions this book investigates the innovations in the EU ACP relationship Authors from different backgrounds including law political science and economics analyze the forces that gave rise to the new agreement as well as the negotiating process of the new agreement and the negotiations that are taking place to produce the planned Economic Partnership Agreements EPA that are to replace the existing non reciprocal trade preferences that are incompatible with WTO law The potential benefits of EPAs are discussed as is the alternative in the shape of an improved and general preferential system The amended mechanism for aid delivery the increased stress on political dialogue between the partners and the introduction of more civil society participation in the cooperation are extensively analyzed and discussed The effects of the introduction of the Euro and the effect of the planned stimuli on Direct Foreign Investment in ACP economies make this volume very complete in coverage of the ACP EU relations Its relevance extends far beyond the ACP EU relationship as it shows and discusses particular solutions for problems that occur in North South relations in general European Union and New Regionalism Mario Telò, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2001 This is a collection of papers that look at the structure of the global economy and its changing paradigms over the years The contributors look at how the classic concept of state autonomous sovereign and freed of all constraint never really reflected the reality of the international scene despite the role it has played in realist and neo realist theory for many decades Instead they consider that the political social and economic characteristics originally attributed to states seem increasingly to be expressed through regional constructs The papers in this volume show that even within regionalism there are a variety of different models that exist and examine five of those models the European Union Mercosul Mercosur the North American Free Trade Area NAFTA the Association of South East Asian Nations ASEAN and the South African Development Community SADC The European Union and Africa William Brown, 2001-11-22 This book is an in depth study of one of the most important agreements in the recent history of EU developing world relations the Lome convention the principles upon which all relations between the states of the European union and ACP African Caribbean and Pacific countries are based Over the course of its 25 year life the Convention has been altered to suit the changing relationship of those states involved This historical study not only charts the course of that vital relationship between haves and have nots but also in its changing focus and shifting concerns reflects recent broader changes at the global level in the international relations EU development cooperation Karin Arts, Anna Dickson, Anna K. Dickson, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license It is increasingly recognised that EU development cooperation policy has failed to meet its stated aims In this book Arts and Dickson ask the obvious and important question if the policy doesn't work why bother with it The authors assess why EU development policy has become largely ineffective citing among the external causal factors the liberalisation of trade and the growing influence of US and international actors such as the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund upon EU policy It also considers contributing factors within the EU such as the enlargement of its membership and the resulting shifts in priorities It is this analysis of internal and external factors affecting the decline of EU development policy that makes this study both innovative and unique It brings together an impressive range of contributors from different disciplines resulting in a thorough and intelligent assessment of the debate This study will appeal to advanced level undergraduates and academics of European politics in general EU integration development studies and International Relations The

The European Union's Africa Policies Daniela Sicurelli, 2016-12-05 The European Union EU is a key partner for African regional organizations and a major promoter of economic and political integration in the region Several studies have interpreted the EU's role in Africa as either a self-interested hegemonic actor or as a value-oriented normative power. In this volume Daniela Sicurelli challenges these views by taking a closer look at Europe's policies towards Sub-Saharan Africa in the area of peacekeeping, trade and development and environmental protection. Using fresh empirical evidence including interviews with both European and African officials, she argues that the EU is far from becoming a unitary player in Africa. Lacking a clear strategy and coherent normative framework, the EU should be considered a multi-level actor where national and supranational institutions have different interests and push forward contrasting views of what role Europe should play in Africa. The ability of single institutions to frame an issue as requiring either intergovernmental or supranational procedures appears crucial for shaping the content of European Africa policies. An original contribution to the growing literature on the EU as an international actor, this book is extremely useful to scholars, researchers and policy makers demanding critical work in the field of EU Africa policy.

The SAGE Handbook of European Foreign Policy Knud Erik Jorgensen, Aasne Kalland Aarstad, Edith Drieskens, Katie Laatikainen, Ben Tonra, 2015-04-30. During the last two decades the study of European foreign policy has experienced remarkable growth, presumably reflecting a more significant international role of the European Union. The Union has significantly expanded its policy portfolio and though empty symbolic politics still exists, the Union's international relations have become more substantial and its foreign policy more focused. European foreign policy has become a dynamic policy area being adapted to changing challenges and environments such as the Arab Spring, new emerging economies, powers, the crisis of multilateralism and much more. The SAGE Handbook of European Foreign Policy Two Volume set is a major reference work for Foreign Policy Programmes around the world. The Handbook is designed to be accessible to graduate and postgraduate students in a wide variety of disciplines across the humanities and social sciences. Both volumes are structured to address areas of critical concern to scholars at the cutting edge of all major dimensions of foreign policy. The volumes are composed of original chapters written specifically to the following themes: Research traditions and historical experience; Theoretical perspectives; EU actors; State actors; Societal actors; The politics of European foreign policy; Bilateral relations; Relations with multilateral institutions; Individual policies; Transnational challenges. The Handbook will be an essential reference for both advanced students and scholars.
