The European Health Report 2005 Public Health Action For Healthier Children And Populations:

The European Health Report 2005 World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe, 2005 This report sets out a current review of the health situation in the 52 countries in the WHO Europe region focusing particularly on child and adolescent health and development issues It examines the major causes of the burden of disease and key preventable risk factors as well as considering effective policy responses The report also includes statistical tables used as the basis of its conclusions as well as definitions of terms used Public Health Action for Healthier Children and Populations, 2005

The European Health Report 2009, 2009 This report provides member states with essential public health information It provides a picture of the health status and health determinants in the European Region and identifies areas for public health action for the member states and the European public health community EBOOK: European Child Health Services and Systems: Lessons without Borders Ingrid Wolfe, Martin McKee, 2014-02-16 The book will focus on three key aspects of delivery of child health services service integration and coordination public health measures and enhancing the quality of care for children Taking a child centric view on understanding how health services and systems work the book aims to contribute towards improving children's health through deepening the understanding of children's health services Focusing primarily on the western European countries the book draws on research conducted with child health leaders in ten countries Austria Britain Finland France Israel Italy Netherlands Norway Poland and Sweden The chapters include clinical scenarios designed to help identify and describe the various ways in which children and their families negotiate health services when dealing with twelve different conditions Using clinical scenarios in this way allows the book authors to capture the diverse aspects of each health system as well as assessment and analysis of the challenges involved in each and their successes and failures Care for health de Hollander, Melde, van Oers, 2007-02-13 RIVM rapport Care for health

Responsibilities in the Efficient Use of Medicinal Products José Luis Valverde, 2006 The emphasis of this book is on the problem of the efficient use of medicinal products It is known that this is a subject that is neither new nor unknown Hundreds of articles have been and will continue to be written about it Yet it has not been resolved The lines of consensus to tackle it have not even been defined and there are many opinions about different aspects What is needed is overall consideration and then to try to act on common agreed bases But first the problem must be analysed and so the book raises the problem in the form of a Forum The different actors have to be heard and the governments too of course which express themselves through the legal system We are far from providing an adequate response in any national legal system The debate is still open but society is waiting for replies from those who have responsibilities There is no one right answer Many actors are jointly responsible in this situation Children and Young People's Nursing at a Glance Alan Glasper, Jane Coad, Jim Richardson, 2018-04-03 Children and Young People's Nursing at a Glance is the perfect companion for study and revision for pre registration children's nursing students from the publishers of the market leading at a Glance series Divided into seven sections it explores assessment and screening working with families the newborn infant the developing child child health policy nursing the sick child and young person and chronic and life limiting conditions This comprehensive book is an invaluable resource for pre registration nursing students as well as newly qualified nurses wanting to consolidate and expand their knowledge of children and young people s nursing Breaks down complex aspects of child health care in an accessible and un intimidating way The perfect revision and consolidation textbook Linked closely with the NMC standards for pre registration nursing education and the essential skills clusters framework Highly visual colour presentation with approximately 130 illustrations Includes boxes summary boxes key points and recommendations for practice to improve the learning experience Supported by a companion website featuring over 500 interactive multiple choice questions www.ataglanceseries.com/nursing/children Available in a range of digital formats perfect for on the go study and revision

EBOOK: Caring for People with Chronic Conditions: A Health System Perspective Ellen Nolte, Martin McKee, 2008-09-16

Overall the book walks a delicate balance between evidence and advocacy regarding the care of people with chronic conditions Nolte and McKee conclude the volume with the following A first step is to recognize that something must be done A second which we hope will be facilitated by the evidence provided in this book is to realize that something actually can be done and that they can do it p 240 The overarching desire to match the need for evidence with the reality that advocates including policy makers need a reasoned voice makes the book well suited to health policy deliberations International Journal of Integrated Care The complex nature of many chronic diseases which affect people many different ways requires a multifaceted response that will meet the needs of the individual patient Yet while everyone agrees that the traditional relationship between an individual patient and a single doctor is inappropriate there is much less agreement about what should replace it Many countries are now experimenting with new approaches to delivering care in ways that do meet the complex needs of people with chronic disorders redesigning delivery systems to coordinate activities across the continuum of care Yet while integration and coordination have an intuitive appeal policy makers have had little to help them decide how to move forward The book systematically examines some of the key issues involved in the care of those with chronic diseases It synthesises the evidence on what we know works or does not in different circumstances From an international perspective it addresses the prerequisites for effective policies and management of chronic disease Taking a whole systems approach the book Describes the burden of chronic disease in Europe Explores the economic case for investing in chronic disease management Examines key challenges posed by the growing complexity in healthcare including prevention the role of self management the healthcare workforce and decision support Examines systems for financing chronic care Analyses the prerequisites for effective policies for chronic care Caring for People with Chronic Conditions is key reading for health policy makers and health care professionals as well as postgraduate students studying health policy health services research health economics public policy and management Contributors Reinhard Busse Elisabeth Chan Anna Dixon Carl Ardy Dubois Isabelle

Developing Nursing Practice with Children and Young People Jane Hughes, Geraldine Lyte, 2015-09-08 Developing Nursing Practice with Children and Young People explores the context of children s nursing in light of recent policy changes and looks at contemporary issues and emerging roles within the field Divided into four parts Part One focuses on the emergence of children s nursing in healthcare detailing events and developments that have shaped the role of children s nurses Part Two examines many aspects of practice for registered practitioners in nursing ranging from acute care settings to children s nurses developing roles in primary care mental health and with children and young people with special health and social needs Part Three then provides a detailed analysis of advanced practice in children s nursing The advanced skills portfolio is presented in depth augmented by exemplars of a number of advanced practice roles which have already been established Finally Part Four builds on the previous three parts by offering several case studies from practice including accounts from children young people and families as well as assistant practitioners and student nurses The text concludes by focusing on the longer term scope for children s nurses

Nutrition and Physical Activity Nicole Wolfram, Michael Rigby, Michael Sjöström, Rosa G. Frazzica, Wilhelm Kirch, 2008-09-23 One important reason for the multitude of research activities in this field is because physical inactivity and nutrition are significant risk factors for many common non communicable diseases During the past decades physical inactivity and high dietary fat intakes have become increasingly prevalent in people s daily lives in industrialised countries To prevent and to tackle these major diseases there is a need for a much better understanding of the basic biological and underlying patho physiological processes as well as more relevant baseline data describing food intakes and physical activity habits amongst the general population Being aware of the importance of nutrition and physical activity for health status a multitude of projects with different scopes and methodologies has arisen This variety makes it necessary to bring the results of these activities into a coordinated framework

Health in the European Union Philipa Mladovsky, 2009 Good health is a fundamental resource for social and economic prosperity and Europe has seen improvements over the past few decades in both health status and living and working conditions But this study investigates differences in health status within and between European countries and examines some of the challenges faced by those seeking a healthier and more equitable society Within the context of the European Union the range of living conditions has widened tremendously in recent years as the Union has gone through an enlargement process This diversity has translated into varied patterns of health across the region Inequalities in income education housing and employment have directly or indirectly affected public health In addition certain diseases and causes of death are more likely to affect young people whereas most are associated with older ages All these factors need to be taken into account and this study addresses some of the complexities involved This book discusses and analyzes the relationship between living conditions socioeconomic factors and health with the objective of framing a debate and policy action to create a healthier and fairer society across Europe This study will stimulate focused discussion by offering an essential overview of key issues affecting European nations and the health and well being of their peoples

Health and Economic Development in

South-eastern Europe Council of Europe Development Bank,2006 The economic benefits to be gained from investment in public health are increasingly being recognised as well as its importance for social cohesion and these objectives play a central role in the European Union s Lisbon agenda This study seeks to demonstrate the economic importance of the health sector for the countries of south eastern Europe by examining trends and patterns of disease burden and socioeconomic inequalities in health the development of health systems and health policies as well as options for policy development in order to meet future health challenges in the region

The European Tobacco Control Report

World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe,2007 This report describes tobacco control policies in the WHO European Region as of late 2006 It reviews progress following the adoption of the European Strategy for Tobacco Control ESTC in 2002 and establishes a baseline for monitoring implementation of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control FCTC in the Region It presents an overview of the situation regarding tobacco use and related harm in the WHO European Region during the period 2002 06 and the policy responses of Member States The report also examines the status of these policies in the light of the requirements of the WHO FCTC Several short national regional and subregional case studies illustrate the lessons learned and challenges faced during the policy making process
