The Excavation of the Roman Villa at La Befra, Italy John J. Dobbins, 1983      Roman Villas in Central Italy

Annalisa Marzano, 2007-08-31 This volume which was awarded Honorable Mention and a Silver Medal from the Premio Romanistico Internazionale G. B. Boulvert investigates the socio-economic role of elite villas in Roman Central Italy drawing on both documentary sources and material evidence Through the composite picture emerging from the juxtaposition of literary texts and archaeological evidence the book traces elite ideological attitudes and economic behavior caught between what was morally acceptable and the desire to invest capital intelligently The analysis of the biases affecting the application of modern historiographical models to the interpretation of the archaeology frames the discussion on the identification of slave quarters in villas and the putative second century crisis of the Italian economy The book brings an innovative perspective to the debate on the villa system and the decline of villas in the imperial period      The Excavations of San Giovanni Di Ruoti: The small finds Alastair Small, C. J. Simpson, Richard Reece, Christopher John Simpson, J. J. Rossiter, 1994-01-01 Between 1977 and 1984 the excavations of a Canadian archaeological team at San Giovanni di Ruoti in southern Italy uncovered a series of three Roman villas dating from the first to the sixth centuries AD The multi-volume report on the excavation will provide the first comprehensive overview of the social and economic life of a Roman villa in southern Italy Volume II constitutes a catalogue raisonné of the small finds covering all categories of non-ceramic personal domestic and industrial artifacts recovered from the site C. J. Simpson has been a member of the Canadian excavation team since 1979 He provides detailed descriptions of the individual artifacts their dates of manufacture and their use and discusses the evidence they yield for domestic and daily life The artifacts range from hairpins and brooches to iron knives used for slicing and chopping Coins and lamps found at the site are evaluated in separate contributions by R. Reece and J. J. Rossiter The book includes several useful appendices notably one by Vito Volterra on the analysis of millstones The 400 items listed in the catalogue are illustrated by drawings or photographs This volume presents one of very few accounts of the household artifacts found at an estate centre remote from urban Rome It provides an important resource for specialists seeking to date similar objects and adds much interesting detail to our picture of the rural economy of Italy in late antiquity

Roman Art in the Private Sphere Elaine K. Gazda, Anne E. Haeckl, 1991 This is a stimulating book and should be compulsory reading for all students of Roman art Classical Review For all the authors' attention to the ensemble a sense of the relation between the formal and the iconographic and the desire to historicize their material contribute to making this anthology unusual in its rigorous and creative attention to the way that art and architecture participate in the construction of the image of the Roman elite Art Bulletin Roman Art in the Private Sphere presents an impressive case for the social and art-historical importance of the paintings, mosaics and sculptures that filled the private houses of the Roman elite The six essays in this volume range from the first century B.C.E. to the fourth century C.E. and from the Italian peninsula to the Eastern

Empire and North African provinces The essays treat works of art that belonged to every major Roman housing type the single family atrium houses and the insula apartment blocks in Italian cities the dramatically sited villas of the Campanian coast and countryside and the palatial mansions of late antique provincial aristocrats In a complementary fashion the essays consider domestic art in relation to questions of decorum status wealth social privilege and obligation Patrons emerge as actively interested in the character of their surroundings artists appear as responsive to the desire of their patrons The evidence in private art of homosexual conduct in high society is also set forth Originality of subject matter sophisticated appreciation of stylistic and compositional nuance and philosophical perceptions of the relationship of humanity and nature are among the themes that the essays explore Together they demonstrate that Roman domestic art must be viewed on its own terms Elaine K Gazda is Professor of the History of Art and Curator of Hellenistic and Roman Antiquities at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology University of Michigan

Finding the Limits of the Limes Philip Verhagen, Jamie Joyce, Mark R. Groenhuizen, 2019-02-08 This open access book demonstrates the application of simulation modelling and network analysis techniques in the field of Roman studies It summarizes and discusses the results of a 5 year research project carried out by the editors that aimed to apply spatial dynamical modelling to reconstruct and understand the socio economic development of the Dutch part of the Roman frontier limes zone in particular the agrarian economy and the related development of settlement patterns and transport networks in the area The project papers are accompanied by invited chapters presenting case studies and reflections from other parts of the Roman Empire focusing on the themes of subsistence economy demography transport and mobility and socio economic networks in the Roman period The book shows the added value of state of the art computer modelling techniques and bridges computational and conventional approaches Topics that will be of particular interest to archaeologists are the question of forced surplus production the demographic and economic effects of the Roman occupation on the local population and the structuring of transport networks and settlement patterns For modellers issues of sensitivity analysis and validation of modelling results are specifically addressed This book will appeal to students and researchers working in the computational humanities and social sciences in particular archaeology and ancient history
