The Red Harlequin - Book 1 of Masks and Chromes Roberto Ricci,2012-06 Every society honors its live conformists and its dead troublemakers In an ancient world divided by colors where everyone wears masks superstitions abound and mysterious creatures called the Harlequins exist Here a clever teen of the Black Chromes named Asheva loses everything he s ever known and embarks on a treacherous and exciting journey that takes him through the wild forests of the Black Nation to the vast plains of Ayas a Blue Chrome city of astounding beauty where further danger lies But the journey will also result in an astounding truth when Asheva ultimately discovers that beneath the masks all Chromes wear nothing is what it seems

When the Bad Bleeds Imke Pannen,2010 Mantic elements are manifold in the English drama of the Renaissance period they are supernatural manifestations and have a prophetic future determining function within the dramatic plot which can be difficult to discern Addressing contemporaries of Shakespeare this study interprets a representative number of revenge tragedies among them The Spanish Tragedy The White Devil and The Revenger s Tragedy to draw general conclusions about the use of mantic elements in this genre The analysis of the cultural context and the functionalisation of mantic elements in revenge tragedy of the Elizabethan Jacobean and Caroline era show their essential function in the construction of the plot Mantic elements create and stimulate audience expectations They are not only rhetoric decorum but structural elements and convey knowledge about the genre the fate of which is determined by retaliation An interpretation of revenge tragedy is only possible if mantic providentialism is taken into account Masks of the Prophet Karl GRIMSTAD,1982-12-15 When the name Hitler is mentioned nothing occurs to me so said Karl Kraus For this leading Viennese Jewish critic and intellectual the touchstone of art was ethics How could he be speechless in the face of a threat to all that ethics means To answer this question the author makes a detailed chronological study of Kraus s intellectual activity as reflected in his work on the theatre The results are presented in five chapters each dealing with a different mask adopted by Kraus during the period 1892 1936 Grimstad considers not only theatre and drama criticism in Die Fackel and Kraus s dramatic writings but also biographical data to help uncover the rationale of his work That rationale is the logic of the theatrical mode in which he lived and wrote The stage was not only his subject matter it determined what he would see and say Grimstad argues that when Kraus wrote his words were the speech of an actor who was often infatuated with himself and obsessed with the need to overwhelm his rival actors When Hitler s storm troopers began their march he could say nothing for the world in which his thought took shape had become a world of theatrics not Realpolitik Kraus criticized plays without reading them and performances without seeing them obsessed with the belief that his was the voice of all that was true good and beautiful Grimstad observes that he was a prophet who confused the divine inspiration with the Thespian urge playing to an audience
