The English in Rome, 1362-1420 Margaret Harvey, 2000-01-20 Centred on a study of the early archives of the Venerabile Collegio Inglese in Rome the predecessor of the English College of today this book is more than a study of the beginnings of English institutions in Rome It attempts to place the English community there between 1362 when the first English hospice for poor people and pilgrims was founded and 1420 in its political commercial and religious setting It includes a portrait of a group of English merchants with their wives and widows as well as members of the papal curia in Rome from 1376 including a study of Cardinal Adam Easton a well known scholar and opponent of John Wycliffe The book also uncovers a notable although unsuccessful attempt to forward English participation in commerce with Rome before 1420 revealing important links between the English laity in Rome and the city of London

The Local Paul Jennings, 2021-06-25 Paul Jennings traces the history of the British pub and looks at how it evolved from the eighteenth century s coaching inns and humble alehouses back street beer houses and fine flaring gin palaces to the drinking establishments of the twenty first century Covering all aspects of pub life this fascinating history looks at pubs in cities and rural areas seaports and industrial towns It identifies trends and discusses architectural and internal design the brewing and distilling industries and the cultural significance of drink in society Looking at everything from music and games to opening times and how they have affected anti social behaviour The Local is a must read for every self respecting pub goer from landlady to lager lout

From Taverns to Gastropubs Christel Lane, 2018 The pub is a prominent social institution integral to British identity This book charts the social historical development of the English public house culminating in the contemporary gastropub It explores issues of class gender and national identification through the lens of taverns inns and pubs through time

Old Taverns of New York William Harrison Bayles, 1915 The Pub in Literature Steven Earnshaw, 2000 Steven Earnshaw traces the many roles of the drinking house in literature from Chaucer s time to the end of the 20th century taking in the better known hostelrys such as Hal's and Falstaff's Boar's Head in Henry IV and the inns of Dickens      Walking English

David Crystal, 2009-09-29 From an acclaimed linguist part travelogue part memoir and part meditation on the intellectual and emotional underpinnings of language Priceless Booklist In this discursive jaunt through the groves and thickets of the English language David Crystal creates an entertaining narrative account of his encounters with the language and its speakers Woven from personal reflections historical allusions and observations of travelers this fascinating journey through the language we use every day will have readers thinking twice about each word they speak Starting in Wales and moving from England to San Francisco by way of yes Poland Crystal encounters numerous linguistic side roads that he cannot resist exploring from pubs to trains to Tolkien Walking English is a captivating exploration of language by one of England's greatest living language commentators The New Statesman In a conversational style that includes plenty of quirky facts Crystal captures the exploratory seductive teasing quirky tantalizing nature of language study and in doing so illuminates the fascinating world of words in which we live Publishers Weekly An informative transformative trip into the mysterious mutating magical thicket of English Kirkus Reviews Like passing the afternoon with a knowledgeable uncle The Wall Street Journal The Dr Johnson of our age The Sunday Herald The book reads like a donnish Bill Bryson a Bryson possessed with a maniacal passion for the Cambridge Encyclopedia of the English Language A compelling guide Independent Crystal proves an entertaining companion It is pleasant to ramble with him along the byways of language The Tablet      English
Wayfaring Life in the Middle Ages (XIVth Century) Jean Jules Jusserand, 1920      The World of the Tavern Beat Kümin, B. Ann Tlusty, 2017-07-05 The subject of drink received a great deal of attention from early modern Europeans Preachers physicians authorities artists and travellers all addressed it from a range of different perspectives At the same time inns taverns and alehouses served as multifunctional centres in towns and villages throughout Europe This combination resulted in a wealth of sources both institutional and cultural which are only now beginning to be explored This anthology features new research on public houses in England Russia and the German lands In a series of general thematic and regional studies contributors engage with broader debates in early modern history shedding light on such key issues as consumption travel and communication state building confessional identity fiscal practice gender and household relations and the use of public spaces The result is a volume that should appeal to anybody with an interest in early modern cultural history      Pub
Philip Howell, 2025-01-09 Object Lessons is a series of short beautifully designed books about the hidden lives of ordinary things The pub is an English institution Yet its history has been obscured by myth and nostalgia In this unique book Philip Howell takes the public house as an object or rather as a series of objects he takes the pub apart and examines its constituent elements from pub signs to the bar staff to the calling of time But Pub also explores the hidden features of the pub such as corporate control cultural acceptance and exclusion and the role of the pub in communities
