The Envoi Messages:

The Envoi Messages Louis Phillips, 1985 Louis Phillips may be one of the great undiscovered playwrights of our day The imagination humor and variety of his many plays is truly astonishing THE ENVOI MESSAGES is a perfect example of his great talent Set in the Midwest during the Depression this play is about a twelve year old girl who works for Western Union delivering messages both real and imaginary As Stanley Kramer has written in a special foreward for this edition The problem with Louis Phillips is that he is an obscure poet and brilliant playwright In most ordinary people one or the other of these blessings is possible not both Book and Text in France, 1400-1600 Malcolm Quainton, 2016-12-05 In recent years literary scholars have come increasingly to acknowledge that an adequate understanding of texts requires the study of books the material objects through which the meanings of texts are constructed Focusing on French poetry in the period 1400 1600 contributors to this volume analyze layout illustration graphology paratext typography anthologization and other such elements in works by a variety of writers among them Charles d Orl ans Jean Bouchet Pierre de Ronsard and Louise Lab They demonstrate how those elements play a crucial role in shaping the relationships between authors texts contexts and readers and how these relationships change as the nature of the book evolves An introduction to the volume outlines the methodological implications of studying the materiality of literature in this period situates the various papers in relation to each other and to the field as a whole and indicates possible future directions of research in the field By engaging with issues of major current methodological concern this volume appeals to all scholars interested in the materiality of the literary text including the burgeoning field of text image studies not only in French but also in other national literatures In addition it enables fruitful connections to be made between late medieval and Renaissance literature areas still often studied in isolation from each other Amerindian Images and the Legacy of Columbus ,1992 The Audience Book of Theater

Heartland Lucy Hounsom, 2017-08-24 She came to protect a people but she needs to preserve a world Kyndra has saved and damned the people of Mariar Her star born powers healed a land in turmoil but destroyed an ancient magic which once concealed them from invaders Now Kyndra must head into enemy territory to secure peace She finds the Sartyan Empire unstable but as warlike as ever It s plagued by dissident factions yet its emperor still has the strength to crush her homeland The Khronostians assassins who dance through time could help Kyndra or they might be her undoing And deep within the desert Char Lesko struggles to control his own emerging powers He s been raised by a mercenary whose secrets could change everything including the future and the past But when Kyndra and Char meet will their goals align Kyndra must harness the full glory of the stars and Char has to channel his rage or two continents will be lost

Deconstructing Communication Briankle G. Chang, 1996 Through a detailed examination of the basis of the idea of communication with its semantic core of commonality or the transcendence of difference Chang argues against the tendency of theorists to value understanding over misunderstanding clarity over ambiguity order over disorder To this end the author revisits the thought of Derrida and considers deconstruction in general Specifically he uses the critique of the phenomenological tradition emerging from poststructuralism to clarify the commitments and assumptions inherent in models of communication A seminal work Deconstructing Communication will serve as the guiding framework for a constructive debate about the future direction of communication theory Situated at the intersection of current debates regarding meaning and representation Deconstructing Communication casts doubt on the seeming innocence of the activity of communication Using poststructuralist literary theory and philosophy Briankle G Chang argues that modern theories fail to provide an adequate explanation for how communication is possible

Mobile Phones: The New Talking Drums of Everyday Africa Mirjam de Bruijn, Francis Nyamnjoh, 2009-03-15 We cannot imagine life now without a mobile phone is a frequent comment when Africans are asked about mobile phones They have become part and parcel of the communication landscape in many urban and rural areas of Africa and the growth of mobile telephony is amazing from 1 in 50 people being users in 2000 to 1 in 3 in 2008 Such growth is impressive but it does not even begin to tell us about the many ways in which mobile phones are being appropriated by Africans and how they are transforming or are being transformed by society in Africa This volume ventures into such appropriation and mutual shaping Rich in theoretical innovation and empirical substantiation it brings together reflections on developments around the mobile phone by scholars of six African countries Burkina Faso Cameroon Ghana Mali Sudan and Tanzania who explore the economic social and cultural contexts in which the mobile phone is being adopted adapted and harnessed by mobile Africa Treaty Series; Publication of Treaties and International Engagements Registered with the Secretariat of the League League of Nations,1922
