Viral Infections of Humans Richard A. Kaslow, Lawrence R. Stanberry, James W. Le Duc, 2014-09-27 Striking changes have occurred in the world since the publication of the last edition of Viral Infections of Humans The global population is rapidly approaching 8 billion climate change is leading to the introduction of new hosts vectors and virus diseases heretofore never seen in many parts of the world technological advances have revolutionized the ability to recognize and characterize viruses new and old vaccines are altering the epidemiological landscape of the diseases they target in some cases raising the hope of their eradication and remarkably powerful computational tools are enabling not only detection of outbreaks of disease much sooner than in the past but also through complex mathematical modeling more accurate prediction of their potential impact The new Fifth Edition of Viral Infections of Humans captures the both the excitement and frustration of the dynamic struggle between humankind and the viruses that continue to cause immense suffering It presents the latest concepts methods and technologies in epidemiology detection investigation modeling and intervention Updated and entirely new chapters by dozens of experts across the field provide analytic summaries of current knowledge of viruses and prions causing acute syndromes chronic illnesses and or malignancies In sum this ambitiously expanded volume offers a uniquely comprehensive perspective on viruses in humans from agents of classic diseases e g hepatitis measles polio rabies and yellow fever to those with greatest pandemic impact e g influenza and human immunodeficiency virus to those discovered relatively recently e g henipavirus metapneumovirus and norovirus The new Fifth Edition of Viral Infections of Humans is an invaluable reference for students fellows and established professionals in the fields of microbiology public health and infectious disease epidemiology medicine and health policy Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the District of Columbia,1974 Bibliography of the History of Medicine ,1993 Expectations of Life H.O. Lancaster,2012-12-06 Destined to become a classic epidemiological study EXPECTATIONS OF LIFE surveys world mortality describing and explaining the declines of mortality which have become especially evident in this century Public Health Reports ,1978 Smallpox Eradication in Bangladesh Bangladesh. Svāsthya Mantraṇālaṃ,1977 A History of Global Health Randall M. Packard,2016-09-15 A sweeping history explores why people living in resource poor areas lack access to basic health care after billions of dollars have been invested in international health assistance Over the past century hundreds of billions of dollars have been invested in programs aimed at improving health on a global scale Given the enormous scale and complexity of these lifesaving operations why do millions of people in low income countries continue to live without access to basic health services sanitation or clean water And why are deadly diseases like Ebola able to spread so quickly among populations In A History of Global Health Randall M Packard argues that global health initiatives have saved millions of lives but have had limited impact on the overall health of people living in underdeveloped areas where health care workers are poorly paid infrastructure and basic supplies such as disposable gloves syringes and bandages are lacking and little effort has been made to address the underlying social and economic determinants of ill health Global health campaigns have relied on the application of biomedical technologies vaccines insecticide treated nets vitamin A capsules to attack specific health problems but have failed to invest in building lasting infrastructure for managing the ongoing health problems of local populations Designed to be read and taught the book offers a critical historical view providing historians policy makers researchers program managers and students with an essential new perspective on the formation and implementation of global health policies and practices
