Reading and Rebellion in Catholic Germany, 1770-1914

Jeffrey T. Zalar, 2019 Interrogates the belief that the clergy defined German Catholic reading habits showing that readers frequently rebelled against their church's rules Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies The Return of Theory in Early Modern English Studies, Volume II P. Cefalu, G. Kuchar, B. Reynolds, 2014-10-14 This companion volume to The Return of Theory in Early Modern English Studies Tarrying with the Subjunctive exemplifies the new directions in which the field is going as well as the value of crossing disciplinary boundaries within and beyond the humanities Topics studied include posthumanism ecological studies and historical phenomenology

Farocki/Godard Volker Pantenburg, 2025-10-01 There is a tension between the requirements of theoretical abstraction and the capacities of the film medium where everything that we see on screen is concrete A train arriving at a station a tree bodies faces Since the complex theories of montage in Soviet cinema however there have continuously been attempts to express theoretical issues by combining shots thus creating a visual form of thinking This book brings together two major filmmakers French New Wave master Jean Luc Godard and German avant gardist Harun Farocki to explore the fundamental tension between theoretical abstraction and the capacities of film itself a medium where everything seen onscreen is necessarily concrete Volker Pantenburg shows how these two filmmakers explored the potential of combined shots and montage to create film as theory Feverland Alex Lemon, 2017-09-11 Alex Lemon is a brave headlong writer and he captures the life of the body with vivid and memorable intensity Mark Doty Brain surgery Assault weapons in the bed of a pickup truck Sophia Loren at the Oscars Rilke Rodin and the craters of the moon Recovery and disintegration Monkeys stealing an egg outside a temple in Kathmandu Brushing teeth bloody on long car rides under blue skies Pain ours and what we bring to others Wildfires in southern California Rats in Texas Childhood abuse Dreams of tigers and blackout nights The sweetness of mangoes A son born into a shadowy hospital room Love Joy In Feverland Alex Lemon has created a fragmented exploration of what it means to be a man in the tumult of twenty first century America and a harrowing associative memoir about how we live with the beauties and horrors of our pasts How to move forward Lemon asks when trapped between the demons of one's history and the angels of one's better nature How to live in kindness to become a caring partner and parent when one can muster very little such tenderness for oneself How to be here now How to be here good Immersed in darkness but shot through with light Feverland is a thrillingly experimental memoir from one of our most heartfelt and inventive writers The Individual without Passions Elena Pulcini, 2012-08-09 The Individual without Passions Modern Individualism and the Loss of the Social Bond offers an innovative look at an extremely timely and important issue individualism from the point of view of a theory of passions This book underlines the importance of the problem of the passions in both forming individual identity and building the social bond Drawing inspiration from classic authors that represent fundamental milestones along the route of modern individualism from Montaigne to Hobbes from Locke to Smith from Rousseau to Tocqueville The Individual without Passions puts forward new hypotheses that contrast with the consolidated views of contemporary reflection both modern and postmodern Elena Pulcini argues that passions are crucial not only when they are strong homo oeconomicus but also when absent or weak homo democraticus in both cases producing pathological effects on the Self and the social bond Finally this book underlines that the image of the modern individual does not end with the egoistical passions and that it is possible to reactivate empathetic and solidaristic passions furthermore it proposes the hypothesis that the solidaristic passions go to fight the egoistical passions This hypothesis seems confirmed and is most evident in the phenomenon of the gift as interpreted by Marcel Mauss and his contemporary heirs the hidden testimony of a desire for belonging which enables us to propose a new figure of the individual homo reciprocus Essaying Montaigne

John O'Neill, 2001-05-01 John O'Neill reads Montaigne's Essays from their central principle of friendship as a communicative and pedagogical practice operative in society literature and politics The friendship between Montaigne and La Boetie was ruled neither by plenitude nor lack but by a capacity for recognition and transitivity As an essayist Montaigne is an exemplary practitioner of a technique of difference and recognition that puts all certainties of history philosophy and culture in the balance of weighted comparison The essayist reveals how every absolute subjectivity or authority is shaken by its internal weakness once we move inside the contrastive structure of domination in politics gender and race O'Neill's reading of the Essays strives to be faithful to the phenomenology of their embodied practices of reading to write to re-read and re-write From this standpoint he engages the principal critical readings of the Essays over the last century that have examined with great brilliance their history structure and psychology Whether the structure is evolutionary structuralist Marxist or psychoanalytical O'Neill provides close readings of Montaigne's literary critics By bringing to bear the ethico-critical practice of essaying to resist the subjection of the Essays to dominant criticism O'Neill reminds readers that Montaigne's appeal is in how he survived bloody cultural war with a balance of modesty and tolerance invoking compromise where others practice violence

Self-Made Tara Isabella Burton, 2023-06-27 An exploration into the curation of the self in Western civilization from Da Vinci to Kim Kardashian In a technologically saturated era where nearly everything can be effortlessly and digitally reproduced we're all hungry to carve out our own unique personalities our own bespoke personae to stand out and be seen As the forces of social media and capitalism collide and individualism becomes more important than ever across a wide array of industries branding ourselves or actively defining our selves for others has become the norm Yet this phenomenon is not new In Self-Made Tara Isabella Burton shows us how we arrived at this moment of fervent personal branding As attitudes towards religion politics and society evolved our sense of self did as well moving from a collective to individual mindset Through a series of chronological biographical essays on famous and infamous self creators in the modern Western world from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment to modern capitalism and finally to our present moment of mass media Burton examines the theories and forces behind our never ending need to curate ourselves Through a vivid cast of characters and an engaging mix of cultural and historical commentary we learn how the personal brand has come to be A Small Treatise on the Great Virtues André Comte-Sponville,2002-09-01 An utterly original exploration of the timeless human virtues and how they apply to the way we live now from a bold and dynamic French writer In this graceful incisive book writer philosopher Andr Comte Sponville reexamines the classic human virtues to help us understand what we should do who we should be and how we should live In the process he gives us an entirely new perspective on the value the relevance and even the charm of the Western ethical tradition Drawing on thinkers from Aristotle to Simone Weil by way of Aquinas Kant Rilke Nietzsche Spinoza and Rawls among others Comte Sponville elaborates on the qualities that constitute the essence and excellence of humankind Starting with politeness almost a virtue and ending with love which transcends all morality A Small Treatise on the Great Virtues takes us on a tour of the eighteen essential virtues fidelity prudence temperance courage justice generosity compassion mercy gratitude humility simplicity tolerance purity gentleness good faith and even surprisingly humor Sophisticated and lucid full of wit and vivacity this modestly titled yet immensely important work provides an indispensable guide to finding what is right and good in everyday life Essays of Montaigne - Volume 2 Michel de Michel de Montaigne,2017-07-29 How is this book unique Font adjustments one sees the birds outside desperate to get in and those inside desperate to get out The Oxford Handbook of Virginia Woolf Anne E.
