The Art of the Scythians Esther Jacobson,2022-11-14 This volume considers the art of the Scythians of the northern littoral of the Black Sea as that art was expressed in gold silver bronze and bone Appearing by the seventh century B C at the edge of an expanding Hellenic world the history and art of the Scythians must be considered within a context that recognizes the sources of Scythian culture in the Eurasian Steppe as well as the historical contingency of West Asia and the Greek colonies By approaching the understanding of artistic traditions in terms of an evolving process rooted in an archaic steppe culture but ultimately shaped by the confrontation of Near Eastern Hellenic and Hellenistic tastes this discussion goes beyond the traditional location of Scythian art as a subset of Greek goldwork Particular consideration is given to the gradual transformation of object types and styles from their reflection of archaic zoomorphic representations in carved bone wood and bronze to traditions expressive of Hellenized tastes and sensibilities in gold and silver By examining in detail individual objects as well as classes of objects this volume articulates a specifically Scythian stylistic and iconographic tradition and a specifically Scythian contribution to the working of precious metals related to but ultimately distinguishable from the goldworking traditions of Achaemenid Iran late Classical Greece and the larger Hellenistic world This volume offers substantial bibliography relating to the extensive research on Scythian art archaeology and history published in the Russian and Ukrainian languages over the last 150 years Interpretation and paraphrased commentary. Blake the artist. Some references William Blake,1893 City Views in the Habsburg and Medici Courts Ryan E. Gregg,2018-12-10 In City Views in the Habsburg and Medici Courts Ryan E Gregg relates how Charles V Holy Roman Emperor and Duke Cosimo I of Tuscany employed city view artists such as Anton van den Wyngaerde and Giovanni Stradano to aid in constructing authority These artists produced a specific style of city view that shared affinity with Renaissance historiographic practice in its use of optical evidence and rhetorical techniques History has tended to see city views as accurate recordings of built environments Bringing together ancient and Renaissance texts archival material and fieldwork in the depicted locations Gregg demonstrates that a close knit school of city view artists instead manipulated settings to help persuade audiences of the truthfulness of their patrons official narratives A New and Complete Dictionary of Arts and Sciences ,1764 The Athenaeum ,1858 T. Declaration of Sentiments for the first women's rights convention held in Seneca Falls New York in 1848 she unleashed a powerful force in American society In A Sisterhood of Sculptors Melissa Dabakis outlines the conditions under which a group of American women artists adopted this egalitarian view of society and negotiated the gendered terrain of artistic production at home and abroad Between 1850 and 1876 a community of talented women sought creative refuge in Rome and developed successful professional careers as sculptors Some of these women have become well known in art historical circles Harriet Hosmer Edmonia Lewis Anne Whitney and Vinnie Ream The reputations of others have remained until now buried in the historical record Emma Stebbins Margaret Foley Sarah Fisher Ames and Louisa Lander At midcentury they were among the first women artists to attain professional stature in the American art world while achieving international fame in Rome London and other cosmopolitan European cities In their invention of modern womanhood they served as models for a younger generation of women who adopted artistic careers in unprecedented numbers in the years following the Civil War At its core A Sisterhood of Sculptors is concerned with the gendered nature of creativity and expatriation Taking guidance from feminist theory cultural geography and expatriate and postcolonial studies Dabakis provides a detailed investigation of the historical phenomenon of women's artistic lives in Rome in the mid nineteenth century As an interdisciplinary examination of femininity and creativity it provides models for viewing and interpreting nineteenth century sculpture and for analyzing the gendered status of the artistic profession together the finest research on aesthetics and the philosophy of art by stalwart critics and leading scholars in the field It discusses various themes such as the idea of aesthetic perception the nature of aesthetic experience attitude theory the relation of art to morality representation in art and the association of aesthetics with language studies in the Indian tradition It deliberates over the theories and views of Aristotle Freud Plato Immanuel Kant T S Eliot George Dickie Leo Tolstoy R G Collingwood Michael H Mitias Monroe C Beardsley and Abhinavagupta among others The book offers a comparative perspective on Indian and Western approaches to the study of art and aesthetics and enables readers to appreciate the similarities and differences between the conceptions of aesthetics and philosophy of art on a comparative scale detailing various aspects of both The first of its kind this key text will be useful for scholars and researchers of arts and aesthetics philosophy of art cultural studies comparative literature and philosophy in general It will also appeal to general readers interested in the philosophy of art The Baroque in Architectural Culture, 1880-1980 Andrew Leach, John

Macarthur, 2016-03-09 In his landmark volume Space Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion paired images of two iconic spirals Tatlin's Monument to the Third International and Borromini's dome for Sant Ivo alla Sapienza The values shared between the baroque age and the modern were thus encapsulated on a single page spread As Giedion put it writing of Sant Ivo Borromini accomplished the movement of the whole pattern from the ground to the lantern without entirely ending even there And yet he merely groped towards that which could be completely effected in modern architecture achieving the transition between inner and outer space The intellectual debt of modern architecture to modernist historians who were ostensibly preoccupied with the art and architecture of earlier epochs is now widely acknowledged This volume extends this work by contributing to the dual projects of the intellectual history of modern architecture and the history of architectural historiography It considers the varied ways that historians of art and architecture have historicized modern architecture through its interaction with the baroque a term of contested historical and conceptual significance that has often seemed to shadow a greater contest over the historicity of modernism Presenting research by an international community of scholars this book explores through a series of cross sections the traffic of ideas between practice and history that has shaped modern architecture and the academic discipline of architectural history across the long twentieth century The editors use the historiography of the baroque as a lens through which to follow the path of modern ideas that draw authority from history In doing so the volume defines a role for the baroque in the history of architectural historiography and in the history of modern architectural culture The Cyclopædia, Or, Universal Dictionary of Arts, Sciences, and Literature Abraham Rees, 1819
