George Gurdjieff the Enigma of Consciousness Taosho Buddha,2011-07-07 George Gurdjieff the Enigma of Consciousness Gurdjieff is like the ocean wherein the waters of all the rivers have merged. His work represents the essence of all the paths. It seems when he went in the company of the Sufi masters, it was there he got the awareness of different paths. Also, my own understanding is during his travels. Gurdjieff spent time in the company of these masters to understand various paths. What is more important is all that the man says and his methodology. I am only concerned about this. There are many issues about which questions that have been raised by the critics. Had Gurdjieff been alive, these criticisms would have certainly fallen on the deaf ears of Gurdjieff, just like water sliding from a lotus leaf without even moistening it. All those who are critical of Gurdjieff I want to ask one simple question have you tried any of his techniques He is the embodiment of divinity in human garb Certainly he may have human weakness but there can be no doubt about the totality of his awareness A master's time is very precious He does not allow the superfluous people around him In the beginning I have mentioned that Gurdjieff is an enigma Indeed he is If you really want to understand Gurdjieff and his methodology you need to know what Gurdjieff is What is his level of consciousness and what is his plane of operation for the process of transformation During these travels far and wide Gurdjieff spend time in the company of different masters GEORGE GURDJIEFF is the most unique master the world has ever seen but his uniqueness created a distance between him and the normal humanity All his methods were valid methods but the journey was long and he made it even longer by the way he propounded it In fact that was one of his devices to find the real seekers Are you ready to go to the very end of the world or are you just a curiosity monger You will go a little way to know what this man is all about waste his time and then you will be back in the world He would choose only those who are ready even to die if that is the only way to find the truth

Consciousness and the Aconscious in Psychoanalytic Theory Ahmed Fayek,2014-09-09 In the last few decades consciousness has become a major topic of interest for neurologists psychologists and a host of other professionals in various disciplines Their concerted efforts to define consciousness led them mostly to the same impasse the leap from the body to the mind or to the particular link that makes the mind an attribute of consciousness In 1895 Freud put together a project for a Psychology for the Neurologists It comprised the elements of a theory of consciousness as a manifestation of the continuous homeostatic pursuit of stability an aconscious condition Although he made a distinction between the aconscious and the unconscious in many of his important works he did not clearly define the ways in which the two could co exist in a unified theory In Consciousness and the Aconscious in Psychoanalytic Theory Ahmed Fayek summarizes current arguments and debates stemming from neurological and phenomenological perspectives He presents the notion that consciousness needs to be considered a human phenomenon and not simply a manifestation of brain activity which is an occurrence shared by all organisms Using Freud's theories as they relate to consciousness Fayek places his own theory of the aconscious within the context of Freudian thought
