The Eternal Moment The Poetry Of Czeslaw Milosz:

The Eternal Moment Aleksander Fiut, 2023-11-10 Aleksander Fiut's study of the poetry of Nobel Laureate Czeslaw Milosz is the first comprehensive examination of the artistic and philosophical dimensions of this remarkable oeuvre. The author refutes such easy categorizations of Milosz as the poet of Poland, the poet of history, the poet of the Holocaust. He examines instead such crucial problems as Milosz's search for the essence of human nature irreducible to historical, social, and biological categories; Milosz's reflection on the erosion of the Christian imagination which has resulted in a fundamental gap between the individual's inner life and the image of humanity formed by scientific theories; his efforts to rebuild the anthropocentric vision of the world while acknowledging the elements that have undermined it; and finally his attempt to recreate in his poetry a language that is both poetic and philosophical. The Eternal Moment originally appeared in Polish in 1987. This version, which quotes extensively from Milosz's Collected Poems, is the first thorough introduction for English-speaking readers to this major poet. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1990.

Czesław Miłosz's Faith in the Flesh Stanley Bill, 2021-12-16 This book presents Czesław Miłosz's poetic philosophy of the body as an original defense of religious faith, transcendence, and the value of the human individual against what he viewed as dangerous modern forms of materialism. The Polish Nobel laureate saw the reductive biologization of human life as a root cause of the historical tragedies he had witnessed under Nazi German and Soviet regimes in twentieth-century Central and Eastern Europe. The book argues that his response was not merely to reconstitute spiritual or ideal forms of human identity, which no longer seemed plausible. Instead, he aimed to revalidate the flesh, elaborating his own non-reductive understandings of the self on the basis of the body's deeper meanings. Within the framework of a hesitant Christian faith, Miłosz's poetry and prose often suggest a paradoxical striving toward transcendence precisely through sensual experience. Yet his perspectives on bodily existence are not exclusively affirmative. The book traces his diverse representations of the body from dualist visions that demonize the flesh through to positive images of the body as the source of religious experience, the self, and his own creative faculty. It also examines the complex relations between masculine and feminine bodies or forms of subjectivity as Miłosz represents them. Finally, it elucidates his contention that poetry is the best vehicle for conveying these contradictions because it also combines disembodied symbolic meanings with the sensual meanings of sound and rhythm. For Miłosz, the double nature of poetic meaning reflects the fused duality of the human self.

Bethea, 2014-07-14 Joseph Brodsky one of the most prominent contemporary American poets is also among the finest living poets in the Russian language Nevertheless his poetry and the crucial bilingual dimension of his poetic world are still insufficiently understood by Western audiences How did the Russian born Brodsky arrive at his present status as an international man of letters and American poet laureate Has he been created by his bilingual experience or has he fashioned the bilingual self as a necessary precondition for writing poetry in the first place Here David Bethea suggests that the key to Brodsky perhaps the last of the great Russian poets in the bardic mode is in his relation to others or the Other Brodsky's master trope turns out to be triangular vision the tendency to mediate a prior model Dante with a closer model Mandelstam in the creation of a palimpsest like text in which the poet is implicated as a triangulated hybrid of these earlier incarnations In pursuing this theme Bethea compares and contrasts Brodsky to the poet's favorite models Donne Auden Mandelstam and Tsvetaeva and analyzes his fundamental differences with Nabokov the only Russian exile of Brodsky's stature to rival him as a bilingual phenomenon Various critical paradigms are used throughout the study as foils to Brodsky's thinking Originally published in 1994 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 New development in America Milosz's ambition for poetry may at first sound exotic but as the book says it is in the spirit of what John Adams wrote late in life to Thomas Jefferson The American revolution was in the mind of the people and in the union of the colonies both of which were accomplished before the hostilities commenced Though the book is also designed for those who already know and love Milosz it is primarily written for those looking for someone whose genius could similarly inspire Americans of both left and right to unite in restoring the badly broken politics of this country The book argues that Czeslaw Milosz is that genius as perhaps the only person who has been praised by intellectual leaders like Chris Hedges on the left and has also spoken at Hillsdale College the intellectual citadel of the American right Snapshots of the Soul Molly

Thomasy Blasing, 2021-07-15 Snapshots of the Soul considers how photography has shaped Russian poetry from the early twentieth century to the present day Drawing on theories of the lyric and the elegy the social history of technology and little known archival materials Molly Thomasy Blasing offers close readings of poems by Boris Pasternak Marina Tsvetaeva Joseph Brodsky and Bella Akhmadulina as well as by the late and post Soviet poets Andrei Sen Sen kov Arkadii Dragomoshchenko and Kirill Medvedev to understand their fascination with the visual language representational power and metaphorical possibilities offered by the camera and the photographic image Within the context of long standing anxieties about the threat that visual media pose to literary culture Blasing finds that these poets were attracted to the affinities and tensions that exist between the lyric or elegy and the snapshot Snapshots of the Soul reveals that at the core of each poet's approach to writing the photograph is the urge to demonstrate the superior ability of poetic language to capture and convey human experience
