equality which ultimately turned many young francophone Africans away from France irrevocably Black France White Europe shows that the interconnected history of colonial and European youth initiatives is key to explaining why despite efforts to strengthen ties with its African colonies in the 1940s and 1950s France became more European during those years The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. H. Elliott, 2012-09-14 From the vantage point of nearly sixty years devoted to research and the writing of history J H Elliott steps back from his work to consider the progress of historical scholarship From his own experiences as a historian of Spain Europe and the Americas he provides a deft and sharp analysis of the work that historians do and how the field has changed since the 1950s The author begins by explaining the roots of his interest in Spain and its past then analyzes the challenges of writing the history of a country other than one's own In succeeding chapters he offers acute observations on such topics as the history of national and imperial decline political history biography and art and cultural history Elliott concludes with an assessment of changes in the approach to history over the past half century including the impact of digital technology and argues that a comprehensive vision of the past remains essential Professional historians students of history and those who read history for pleasure will find in Elliott's delightful book a new appreciation of what goes into the shaping of historical works and how those works in turn can shape the world of thought and action The White Book Service 2012, Volume 1 eBook ,
