The Evolving Female Carol Landau Heckerman,1980 Experts outline the ways that society s changed perceptions of women have altered the approach to women s mental health problems and the treatment techniques of psychotherapy

Social and Psychological Problems of Women Annette U. Rickel,Meg Gerrard,Ira Iscoe,1984 This book in its diversity of topics reflects the re emergence of concern with women s issues in the last decade and the vigor and pioneering quality of scholarship in the area Such extensive albeit uneven development says something about the state of our society as well for organized scholarship is a form of problem solving part of the process of working through issues that come to the attention of observers of and commentators on the social world Be we can go further By recognizing that the contemporary women s movement is not new but is in keeping with a stream of feminism at least 150 years old we can encourage the current rekindling of interest and consciousness to reflect contemporary events as well xiii foreword The Dynamics of Feminist

Therapy Doris Howard,1986 Valuable information on feminist issues is provided in this book which focuses on particular groups of women that are frequently overlooked in feminist literature A Guide to Dynamics of Feminist Therapy takes an exciting look at the power effectiveness and forcefulness of psychotherapy designed for women a therapy of change and enrichment The effectiveness of therapy and its liberating feeling is fully explored The authors focus on the feminist therapy process that deals with the equality assertiveness and empowerment of women with the elevation of consciousness about sex roles and sex typing Special emphasis is placed on matters important to women of color and other groups other than Caucasian Social Work Education Bibliography ,1983 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1983 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Bibliographie Internationale de Sociologie 1980 ,1982 Each

Out of the Ruins Robert H. Haworth,John M. Elmore,2017-07-01 Contemporary educational practices and policies across the world are heeding the calls of Wall Street for more corporate control privatization and standardized accountability There are definite shifts and movements towards more capitalist interventions of efficiency and an adherence to market fundamentalist values within the sphere of public education In many cases educational policies are created to uphold and serve particular social political and economic ends Schools in a sense have been tools to reproduce hierarchical authoritarian and hyper individualistic models of social order From the industrial era to our recent expansion of the knowledge economy education has been at the forefront of manufacturing and exploiting particular populations within our society The important news is that emancipatory educational practices are emerging Many are emanating outside the constraints of our dominant institutions and are influenced by more participatory and collective actions In many cases these alternatives have been undervalued or even excluded within the educational research From an international perspective some of these radical informal learning spaces are seen as a threat by many failed states and corporate entities Out of the Ruins sets out to explore and discuss the emergence of alternative learning spaces that directly challenge the pairing of public education with particular dominant capitalist and statist structures The authors construct philosophical political economic and social arguments that focus on radical informal learning as a way to contest efforts to commodify and privatize our everyday educational experiences The major themes include the politics of learning in our formal settings constructing new theories on our informal practices collective examples of how radical informal learning practices and experiences operate and how individuals and collectives struggle to share these narratives within and outside of institutions Contributors include David Gabbard Rhiannon Firth Andrew Robinson Farhang Rouhani Petar Jandri Ana Kuzmani Sarah Amsler Dana Williams Andre Pusey Jeff Shantz Sandra Jeppesen Joanna Adamiak Erin Dyke Eli Meyerhoff David I Backer Matthew Bissen Jacques Laroche Aleksandra Perisic and Jason Wozniak
