Anti-Portraits: Poetics of the Face in Modern English, Polish and Russian Literature (1835-1965) Kamila Pawlikowska, 2015-10-05 Anti Portraits Poetics of the Face in Modern English Polish and Russian Literature 1835-1965 is a study of physiognomic descriptions of the face It demonstrates that writers such as George Eliot Leo Tolstoy Edgar Allan Poe Nicolay Gogol Virginia Woolf and Witold Gombrowicz vigorously resisted the belief that facial features reflect character While other studies tend to focus on descriptions which affirm physiognomy this book examines portraits which question popular face reading systems and contravene their common premise the surface depth principle Such portraits reveal that physiognomic formula is a cultural construct invented to abridge organise and regulate legibility of the human face Most importantly strange and unreadable fictional faces frequently expose the connection between physiognomic judgement and stereotyping prejudice and racism The Man who Invented God and Other Fantastic Tales William Emmett Studwell,2004

Art and the Transitional Object in Vernon Lee's Supernatural Tales Patricia Pulham,2008 Patricia Pulham combines psychoanalytic theory with socio historical criticism in her study of Vernon Lee s fantastic tales Using D W Winnicott s transitional object theory Pulham argues that the past in Lee s tales signifies not only an historical but a psychic past Thus the ghosts that haunt Lee s supernatural fiction held complex meanings for her that were fundamental to her intellectual development and allowed her to explore alternative identities that permit the expression of transgressive sexualities

Tales of the Goddesses Heather Ranier,2010-03-26 Every Tale has its beginning though this one begins in the middle In the World of the Nine Goddesses in the South Woods where the branches of the trees twist so tightly amongst themselves that light only bleeds through at the height of noons a strange girl is born fully grown and fully clothed At her side is a man whose touch burns her skin and a beast who appears and disappears like a shadow In her head is a voice that insists it is the real owner of both her body and her Tale She is led through the World by the man with the burning hands until he bursts into flames and falls to ashes A chat with the goddess of death assures her that he is not dead but still at large somewhere beginning her journey through the lands of the World But while every step changes her Tale her Tale begins to change the World for she is like nothing the World has ever seen Welcome to the World Travel the World of the Nine Goddesses the burning lands of the Greater and Lesser Deserts where the orthodox fire goddess s worshipers hunt and race and war among themselves Watch the barely clad bathing beauties of the water goddess by the lakes and on the shore of Kalilandrau the Great Salt Sea The stolid stone people carve their homes from the hearts of mountains and carve a trade track for ever moving Caravans across the World even unto the White Lands where the people of the Fallen Star go about ever in masks and create things too wondrous to be mere magic In the forests where the Twins reign their worshippers live in eternal twilight and bend their backs at hoeing grains and drive their herds through the dangerous swaths of highgrass where the Bane lie in wait to steal children and cut the throats of intruders to drink of their blood But should these dangers overcome you the grey people of the goddess of Death will be there to guide you to the Far Lands where good and bad go alike to live again And beyond it s strange geography and cultures the World is an even more foreign place Here men make Tales And Tales make men and thing far stranger than men In the World all Tales are true Come The World awaits THE THIRTY-NINE STEPS & Other Adventure Stories (7 Action-Packed Titles in One Volume)
