Mastro,2012-12-19 Three of Aesop's fables The Tortoise and the Hare The Friends and the Bear The Crow and the Pitcher are told from the perspective of a child observing the world and learning from it In this truly unique series Aesop is that child He comes to life as an inquisitive confident young raccoon who goes on a daily adventure and experiences each fable as it unfolds Aesop's grandmother encourages him to go on these adventures so that he may find the answer to his many questions Upon his return Aesop shares what he has learned with his grandmother who validates his conclusions One of the most powerful forms of learning occurs through real life experience and self motivation Learning begins with curiosity and succeeds only with perseverance Unfortunately as children grow their curiosity and freedom of expression wanes This book endeavors to strengthen a child's unbounded curiosity so that they feel empowered and never stop asking why

Fictional Traces: Receptions of the Ancient Novel Volume 1 Marília Futre Pinheiro, S. J. Harrison, 2011 The study of the reception of the ancient novel and of its literary and cultural heritage is one of the most appealing issues in the story of this literary genre In no other genre has the vitality of classical tradition manifested itself in such a lasting and versatile manner as in the novel However this unifying centripetal quality also worked in an opposite direction spreading to and contaminating future literatures Over the centuries from Antiquity to the present time there have been many authors who drew inspiration from the Greek and Roman novels or used them as models from Cervantes to Shakespeare Sydney or Racine not to mention the profound influence these texts exercised on for instance sixteenth to eighteenth century Italian Portuguese and Spanish literature Volume I is divided into sections that follow a chronological order while Volume II deals with the reception of the ancient novel in literature and art The first volume brings together an international group of scholars whose main aim is to analyse the survival of the ancient novel in the ancient world and in the Middle Ages in the Renaissance in the 17th and 18th centuries and in the modern era The contributors to the second volume have undertaken the task of discussing the survival of the ancient novel in the visual arts in literature and in the performative arts The papers assembled in these two volumes on reception are at the forefront of scholarship in the field and will stimulate scholarly research on the ancient novel and its influence over the centuries up to modern times thus enriching not only Classics but also modern languages and literatures cultural history literary theory and comparative literature
