Not Hockey Angie Abdou, Jamie Dopp, 2023-08-29 In this carefully curated collection of essays editors Jamie Dopp and Angie Abdou go beyond their first collection Writing the Body in Motion to engage with the meaning of sport found in Canadian sport literature How does sport differ from physically risky recreational activities that require strength and skill Does sport demand that someone win At what point does a sport become an art With the aim of prompting reflections on and discussions of the boundaries of sport contributors explore how literature engages with sport as a metaphor as a language and as bodily expression Instead of a focus on what is often described as Canada's national pastime contributors examine sports in Canadian literature that are decidedly not hockey. From skateboarding and parkour to fly fishing and curling these essays engage with Canadian histories and broader societal understandings through sports on the margin. Nearly 400 articles examine historical and cultural aspects of leagues, teams, institutions, major competitions, the media and other related industries as well as legal and social issues, economic factors, ethnic and racial participation and the growth of institutions and venues. Also included are biographical entries on notable individuals, not just outstanding athletes but owners and promoters, journalists and broadcasters and innovators of other kinds along with in-depth entries on the history of major and minor sports from air racing and archery to wrestling and yachting. A detailed chronology, master bibliography and directory of institutions, organizations and governing bodies plus more than 100 vintage and contemporary photographs round out the coverage.
