

Stopping In The Woods On A Snowy Evening (Or, The Road I Should Not Have Taken) (With Apologies To Robert Frost)

Whose woods these are I do not know.
I wish he was here to help me, though;
He will not see me wand'ring here
To curse his woods fill up with snow.

My chosen course was wrong, I fear
Blizzard blows with no house near
Between these woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

My body numb and feels no ache
This shortcut home was some mistake.
My lonely shouts the storm does reap
In roaring wind and heavy flake.

This snowdrift's lovely, soft, and deep
And I pray the Lord my soul to keep
For right here I shall sleep,
Forever here I shall sleep.

Stop and Think Poetry Steven G. Taylor, 2011-02-04 poems about love faith music family friendship life injustice and hate Selected and New Poems H. D. Wagener, 2012-06-27 The poetry of H D Wagener has been written from several perspectives including the skeptical Western scientist an expatriate from the old South an emigrant to Maine and a long term student of a Hindu age Now he presents this new compilation sharing his best work from previous collections plus his inspiring new poems Including poems from The Entire Packet and Gleanings and Giftings Selected and New Poems follows Wagener's evolution as he travels the eastern seaboard and experiences eye opening life changes Using primarily free verse Wagener provides his wisdom on man and man's relation to physical and spiritual reality The collection is eclectic and follows a broad range of themes and subjects from academic or metaphysical to the fate of Jews in Nazi Germany In the midst of this he travels to his own memory of a 1954 Chevy and a lost love Intended to entertain and enliven Wagener's poems paint life in bright colors A Concordance to the Poems of John Keats Michael G. Becker, Robert J. Dilligan, Todd K.

Bender, 2016-05-05 First published in 1981 A Concordance to the Poems of John Keats intended to provide the user with a volume suitable to the varying and increasingly specialised interests of scholarship This title offers a high degree of inclusiveness that attends to the poems and plays the emended and authoritative headings and virtually all of the variant readings considered substantive in the riches of the Keats manuscript materials This title will be of interest to students of literature Vietnam and the Southern Imagination Owen W. Gilman, 1992 Much recent fiction from the American South has spotlighted the American ordeal in Vietnam and a generation of southern writers has been imaginatively preoccupied with ironic parallels that rise out of the Vietnam experience and their own region's tragic past This stimulating study of American cultural history discovers the powerful and intriguing links It shows how profoundly the Vietnam experience has penetrated the imaginations of some of America's most acclaimed writers and how their compulsive sense of southern history unites their vision with the history of the Vietnam War Set against the backdrop of their homeland Vietnam reveals striking parallels Works by a profusion of southern writers have disclosed this astonishing connection in their heritage James Webb Bobbie Ann Mason Jayne Anne Phillips Clyde Edgerton Madison Smartt Bell Barry Hannah Winston Groom Gustav Hasford Harry Crews Larry Brown Sydney Blair Pat Conroy David Huddle Yusef Komunyakaa and Walter McDonald have found in Vietnam many provocative echoes of fundamental issues that first came to a head in the American Civil War Out of the past the issue of race and the dedication to the land remain distinct themes in contemporary southern fiction about Vietnam This absorbing study of cultural echoes that have charged the creative imaginations of fifteen southern writers unites shades of the southern past with the reality of the American present Both periods have evinced an alarming impulse toward violence In this context James Dickey's Deliverance although not a novel about Vietnam becomes a paradigm of force and southern violence It serves to reveal the modern southern storyteller's imaginative vision of violence both past and present Whether writing of soldiers at war or of the tumult at home whether expressing the persisting anxiety about race relations or sustaining the community through storytelling southern writers have found in Vietnam a weirdly revelatory mirror of their own cultural heritage
