Home and Migrant Identity in Dialogical Life Stories of Moroccan and Turkish Dutch Femke Stock, 2017-09-04

In Home and Migrant Identity in Dialogical Life Stories of Moroccan and Turkish Dutch Femke J Stock explores the multivoiced life stories of Dutch adults of Moroccan and Turkish descent. Focusing on stories about home, this book deals with social relationships and being oneself in countries and houses, discrimination and Islamophobia, family and religion, and how these feature in personal narratives. Through microanalysis of case study material using Dialogical Self Theory, this book formulates and substantiates clear insights into descendants of migrants' roots and routes, their sense of home, and their ambivalent processes of disidentification and belonging. Showing how religion plays a relatively marginal role in personal narratives, it provides an antidote to the widespread tendency to address and study Muslims almost exclusively in terms of their religious identity.

Stories of Therapy, Stories of Faith Lex McMillan, Sarah Penwarden, Siobhan Hunt, 2017-03-28 Stories of Therapy, Stories of Faith is a collection of stories from therapists who have amplified the theology already present in their work. In particular, these authors, a group of counseling practitioners and educators, bring forward a dialogue between their practices and a social Trinitarian theology that emphasizes the relational nature of God and humans. The resulting stories of practice give voice to the ethical hope that counseling practice is participation in the redemptive story of the Gospel. The authors write about their motivations for practice in initiatives as diverse as parenting, trauma work, opposing bullying in schools, reengaging orphaned African children with their heritage, providing hospitality for difference, and counselor education. Stories of Therapy, Stories of Faith will be of interest to counselors and counselor educators, particularly those drawn to developing their ethical and theological commitments within their therapeutic practices.
