

A promotional image for the TV series 'Stolen Life'. It features a man in a dark blue suit and white shirt standing between two women. The woman on the left is wearing a light pink off-the-shoulder dress, and the woman on the right is wearing a black off-the-shoulder dress with a pink floral design. They are all looking directly at the camera with serious expressions. The background is a blurred indoor setting. The title 'Stolen Life' is written in a large, white, serif font at the bottom of the image.

Stolen Life:

A Stolen Life Jaycee Dugard, 2011-07-12 A raw and powerful memoir of Jaycee Lee Dugard's own story of being kidnapped as an 11 year old and held captive for over 18 years On 10 June 1991 eleven year old Jaycee Dugard was abducted from a school bus stop within sight of her home in Tahoe California It was the last her family and friends saw of her for over eighteen years On 26 August 2009 Dugard her daughters and Phillip Craig Garrido appeared in the office of her kidnapper's parole officer in California Their unusual behaviour sparked an investigation that led to the positive identification of Jaycee Lee Dugard living in a tent behind Garrido's home During her time in captivity at the age of fourteen and seventeen she gave birth to two daughters both fathered by Garrido Dugard's memoir is written by the 30 year old herself and covers the period from the time of her abduction in 1991 up until the present In her stark utterly honest and unflinching narrative Jaycee opens up about what she experienced including how she feels now a year after being found Garrido and his wife Nancy have since pleaded guilty to their crimes

From the Iron House Deena Rymhs, 2014-01-07 In From the Iron House Imprisonment in First Nations Writing Deena Rymhs identifies continuities between the residential school and the prison offering ways of reading the carceral that is the different ways that incarceration is constituted and articulated in contemporary Aboriginal literature Addressing the work of writers like Tomson Highway and Basil Johnston along with that of lesser known authors writing in prison serials and underground publications this book emphasizes the literary and political strategies these authors use to resist the containment of their institutions The first part of the book considers a diverse sample of writing from prison serials prisoners anthologies and individual autobiographies including Stolen Life by Rudy Wiebe and Yvonne Johnson to show how these works serve as second hearings for their authors an opportunity to respond to the law's authority over their personal and public identities while making a plea to a wider audience The second part looks at residential school narratives and shows how the authors construct identities for themselves in ways that defy the institution's control The interactions between these two bodies of writing residential school accounts and prison narratives invite recognition of the ways that guilt is colonially constructed and how these authors use their writing to distance themselves from that guilt Offering new ways of reading Native writing From the Iron House is a pioneering study of prison literature in Canada and situates its readings within international criticism of prison writing Contributing to genre studies and theoretical understandings of life writing and covering a variety of social topics this work will be relevant to readers interested in indigenous studies Canadian cultural studies postcolonial studies auto biography studies law and public policy

For Pleasure Rachel Jane Carroll, 2023-12-12 For Pleasure argues that aesthetic pleasure and formal experimentalism hold the twinned capacity to maintain a global racial order and also to undo it

Pioneers in Machinima: The Grassroots of Virtual Production Tracy G. Harwood, Ben Grussi, 2021-09-07 This important new work focuses on the pioneers in machinima considered to be the grassroots and beginnings of virtual production Machinima's impacts are identified by the community supplemented by Harwood and Grussi's research and experience over a period of 25 years from game film and filmmaking to digital arts practice creative technologies developments and related research and theory Machinima is the first digital cultural practice to have emerged from the internet into a mainstream creative genre Its latest transformation is evident through the increasing convergence of games and film where real time virtual production as a professional creative practice is resulting in new forms of machine generated interactive experiences Using the most culturally significant machinima works machine cinema as lenses to trace its history and impacts Pioneers in Machinima The Grassroots of Virtual Production provides in depth testimony by filmmakers and others involved in its emergence The extensive reference to source materials and interviews bring the story of its impacts up to date through the critical reflections of the early pioneers This book will be of interest to machinima researchers and practitioners including game culture media theorists students of film studies and game studies digital artists and those interested in how creative technologies have influenced communities of practice over time Reading Practices, Postcolonial Literature, and Cultural Mediation in the Classroom Ingrid

Johnston, Jyoti Mangat, 2012-03-24 In this book Johnston and Mangat consider ways in which particular postcolonial and multicultural literary texts are able to provide a space of cultural mediation for readers from various backgrounds The studies described in the five chapters of the book explore the spaces of convergence of identity culture and literature with students and teachers in high school contexts and undergraduates in university settings In each study readers are responding to texts that are culturally distant from their own literary and experiential histories An objective of each study was to consider the nature of the cultural locations of the reader and the text and the interstitial spaces between these locations The book interrogates readers attempts to negotiate cultural difference in literary contexts and questions how this negotiation requires reading practices traditionally ignored in North American classrooms The book will offer educators at the secondary and post secondary levels rich material to draw upon for a rethinking of the school curriculum and will be of interest to scholars of postcolonial and literary studies Auto/biography in Canada Julie Rak, 2009-08-02 Auto biography in Canada Critical Directions widens the field of auto biography studies with its sophisticated multidisciplinary perspectives on the theory criticism and practice of self community and representation Rather than considering autobiography and biography as discrete genres with definable properties and rather than focusing on critical approaches the essays explore auto biography as a discourse about identity and representation in the context of numerous disciplinary shifts Auto biography in Canada looks at how life narratives are made in Canada Originating from literary studies history and social work the essays in this collection cover topics that range from queer Canadian autobiography autobiography and autism and newspaper death notices as biography to Canadian autobiography and the Holocaust Grey Owl and authenticity France Thoret and autofiction and a new reading of Stolen Life the collaborative text by Yvonne Johnson and Rudy Wiebe Julie Rak's useful big picture introduction traces the history of auto biography studies in Canada While the contributors chart disciplinary shifts

taking place in auto biography studies their essays are also part of the ongoing scholarship that is remaking ways to understand Canada

Percy Shelley for Our Times Omar F. Miranda, Kate Singer, 2024-03-14 Two centuries after Percy Shelley's death his writings continue to resonate in remarkable ways Shelley addressed climate change women's liberation nonbinary gender and political protest while speaking to Indigenous queer trans disabled displaced and working class communities He still inspires artists and social justice movements around the world today Yet Percy Shelley for Our Times reveals an even more farsighted writer one whose poetic methodology went beyond the didactic powers of prophetic art Not historicist presentist or transhistorical Shelley for our times conceives worlds outside himself his poetry and his era envisioning how audiences connect and collaborate across space and time This collection revitalizes a writer once considered an adolescent of idealist protest showing how his interwoven poetics of relationality continually revisits the meaning of community and the contemporary This title is part of the Flip it Open programme and may also be available Open Access Check our website Cambridge Core for details

The Unsociable Sociability of Women's Lifewriting A. Collett, L. D'Arcens, 2010-10-27 By investigating women lifewriters complex quest to distinguish themselves both within and from institutions and communities this volume uses Kant's concept of unsociable sociability to formulate a divided sense of self at the heart of women's lifewriting offering a provocative response to the notion of the relational female subject

Indigenous Women and Feminism Cheryl Suzack, Shari M. Huhndorf, Jeanne Perreault, Jean Barman, 2011-01-01 Can the specific concerns of Indigenous women be addressed within current mainstream feminist and post colonial discussions Indigenous Women and Feminism Politics Activism Culture proposes that a dynamic new line of inquiry Indigenous feminism is necessary to truly engage with the crucial issues of cultural identity nationalism and decolonization particular to Indigenous contexts Through the lenses of politics activism and culture the questions at the heart of this collection What is at stake in conceptualizing Indigenous feminism How does feminism relate to Indigenous claims to land and sovereignty What lessons can we learn from the past How do Indigenous women engage ongoing violence and social and political marginalization cross disciplinary national academic and activist boundaries to explore deeply the unique political and social positions of Indigenous women A vital and sophisticated discussion these timely essays will change the way we think about modern feminism and Indigenous women

Is Canada Postcolonial? Laura Moss, 2009-08-01 How can postcolonialism be applied to Canadian literature In all that has been written about postcolonialism surprisingly little has specifically addressed the position of Canada Canadian literature or Canadian culture Postcolonialism is a theory that has gained credence throughout the world it is be productive to ask if and how we as Canadians participate in postcolonial debates It is also vital to examine the ways in which Canada and Canadian culture fit into global discussions as our culture reflects how we interact with our neighbours allies and adversaries This collection wrestles with the problems of situating Canadian literature in the ongoing debates about culture identity and globalization and of applying the slippery term of postcolonialism to Canadian literature The topics range in focus from discussions of specific literary works to general theoretical contemplations The twenty three articles in this collection grapple with the recurrent issues of postcolonialism including hybridity collaboration marginality power resistance and historical revisionism from the vantage point of those working within Canada as writers and critics While some seek to confirm the legitimacy of including Canadian literature in the discussions of postcolonialism others challenge this very notion
