Social Disintegration And Popular Resistance In The Ottoman Empire 1881 1908:

Social Disintegration and Popular Resistance in the Ottoman Empire, 1881-1908 Donald Quataert, 1983 Social Disintegration and popular resistance in the Ottoman Empire 1881-1908 Donald Quataert, 1983 Many Ways of Speaking about the Self Ralf Elger, Yavuz Köse, 2010 Contributions originally presented at a conference held in Munich in 2007 The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms Vaysman, 2025-11-04 Realism is an artistic practice that aims to faithfully represent reality Historically it has been practiced across different media from early pictorial art and epic oral narratives through literature and visual arts to film music and digital media However an understanding of what it means to faithfully represent reality is not universal rather it varies from culture to culture The Oxford Handbook of Global Realisms approaches realism as a transnational transhistorical and intermedial global phenomenon It brings the diversity of global realisms to the fore showcasing previously underrepresented and marginalized theories practices forms and media of realist cultural production The Urban Social History of the Middle East, 1750-1950 Peter Sluglett, 2008-12-08 The great cities of the Middle East and North Africa have long attracted the attention and interest of historians With the discovery and wider use over the last few decades of Islamic court records and Ottoman administrative documents our knowledge of Middle Eastern cities between the seventeenth and early twentieth centuries has vastly expanded Drawing upon a treasure trove of documents and using a variety of methodologies the contributors succeed in providing a significant overview of the ways in which Middle Eastern cities can be studied as well as an excellent introduction to current literature in the field Collective Trauma and the Armenian Genocide Pamela Steiner, 2021-02-25 In this pathbreaking study Pamela Steiner deconstructs the psychological obstacles that have prevented peaceful settlements to longstanding issues The book re-examines more than 100 years of destructive ethno-religious relations among Armenians Turks and Azerbaijanis through the novel lens of collective trauma The author argues that a focus on embedded transgenerational collective trauma is essential to achieving more trusting productive and stable relationships in this and similar contexts The book takes a deep dive into history analysing the traumatic events examining and positing how they motivated the actions of key players both victims and perpetrators and revealing how profoundly these traumas continue to manifest today among the three peoples stymying healing and inhibiting achievement of a basis for positive change The author then proposes a bold new approach to conflict resolution as a complement to other perspectives such as power based analyses and international human rights Addressing the psychological core of the conflict the author argues that a focus on embedded collective trauma is essential in this and similar arenas Printing Class R. Michael Bracy, 2010-12-16 Printing Class explores the manners and challenges in which alternating constructions of national identity were articulated in the writings of Isa al-Isa and his newspaper Filastin The analysis illuminates an expression of national identity in Palestine in which Isa struggled to combine multiple political realities that constituted Palestinian society as well as social class and ideological prejudices of contributing journalists After its initial publication in February 1911 Filastin quickly became the largest circulated newspaper in Palestine and remained under the singular guidance of its founder and editor Isa al Isa of Jaffa thereby allowing a unique look into an active and dynamic articulation of national identity from a newly forming middle class in Palestine that was meant for widespread dissemination among the Arab population The time period under consideration will be limited to Isa s work between 1911 and 1931 as this time marked a complex interaction of Ottoman Zionist Arabist and Mandatory influences that challenged the formation of national identity Filastin is often cited in the examination of various aspects of Palestine nationalism however it has not been systematically treated as a single text until now

Sovereign Debt and International Financial Control Ali

Co?kun Tunçer,2015-08-26 This book revisits an important chapter of financial history in the Middle East and the Balkans from 1870 1914 During this period capital flows in the form of sovereign debt increased rapidly throughout the region The spiral of heavy government borrowing eventually culminated in defaults on foreign obligations in the Ottoman Empire 1875 Egypt 1876 Greece 1893 and Serbia 1895 In all four cases introducing international financial control over the finances of the debtor states became the prevalent form of dealing with defaults The different cases of international financial control became increasingly refined and they marked important milestones in the evolution of the global governance of sovereign debt before 1914 For the defaulting states however the immediate impact of international financial control was infringement of sovereignty The extent of international financial control and the borrowing capacity of debtor states varied in each case as well as the degree of resistance towards it This book documents the characteristics of international financial control in a comparative perspective It relates sovereign debt default and international financial control to political and fiscal systems and raises questions about the tension between national sovereignty and global capital It sheds light on the impact of international financial control on the long term credibility and fiscal capacity of the debtor states in question The author demonstrates that the governments decisions to borrow internationally and their attitudes towards international financial control were heavily influenced by domestic political and fiscal factors
