Culture and Rhetoric Ivo Strecker, Stephen Tyler, 2009-07-01 While some scholars have said that there is no such thing as culture and have urged to abandon the concept altogether the contributors to this volume overcome this impasse by understanding cultures and their representations for what they ultimately are rhetorical constructs These senior international scholars explore the complex relationships between culture and rhetoric arguing that just as rhetoric is founded in culture culture is founded in rhetoric This intersection constitutes the central theme of the first part of the book while the second is dedicated to the study of figuration as a common ground of rhetoric and anthropology The book offers a compelling range of theoretical reflections historical vistas and empirical investigations which aim to show how people talk themselves and others into particular modalities of thought and action and how rhetoric and culture in this way are co emergent It thus turns a new page in the history of academic discourse by bringing two disciplines anthropology and rhetoric together in a way that has never been done before The Transformative Materiality of Meaning-Making David Parkin, 2021-08-18 This book explores verbal and non verbal communication from a social anthropological viewpoint drawing on ethnographic data from fieldwork in East Africa It gives an overview of developments since the 1960s in the anthropology of language use and how these have influenced the author's thinking The volume makes the argument that language and other forms of communication involve semiotic transactions between interlocutors that such communicative exchanges do more than convey information and that they give identity to the recipients of such transactions who reciprocate by defining speakers The density and situational totality of such semiotic exchange can moreover be regarded as a kind of materiality both in terms of their impact on social interaction and in how interlocuters interact bodily as well as verbally among themselves Cognition and Figurative Language Richard P. Honeck, Robert R. Hoffman, 2018-10-31 Originally published in 1980 this is a book about the psychology of figurative language It is however eclectic and therefore should be of interest to professionals and students in education linguistics philosophy sociolinguistics and other concerned with meaning and cognition The editors felt there was a pressing need to bring together the growing empirical efforts of this topic In a sense recognition of the theoretical importance of figurative language symbolized the transition from the psycholinguistics of the 1960s to that of the late 1970s that is from a linguistic semantics to a more comprehensive psychological semantics with a healthy respect for context inference world knowledge and above all creative imagination The organization of the volume reflects the more basic general concerns with cognition from historical and philosophical background through problems of mental representation and semantic theory to developmental trends and to applications in problem solving Psychology Library Editions: Speech and Language Disorders Various, 2019-03-14 Psychology Library Editions Speech and Language Disorders 8 Volume set presents titles originally published between 1942 and 1993 covering a variety of areas from auditory processing difficulties to stuttering The titles show the progression of knowledge and treatment through the twentieth century From Primitives to Primates David Van Reybrouck, 2012 Where do our images about early hominids come from In this fascinating in depth study David Van Reybrouck demonstrates how input from ethnography and primatology has deeply influenced our visions about the past from the 19th century to this day often far beyond the available evidence Victorian scholars were keen to look at contemporary Australian and Tasmanian aboriginals to understand the enigmatic Neanderthal fossils Likewise today s primatologists debate to what extent bonobos baboons or chimps may be regarded as stand ins for early human ancestors The belief that the contemporary world provides living links still goes strong Such primate models Van Reybrouck argues continue the highly problematic comparative method of the Victorian times He goes on to show how the field of ethnoarchaeology has succeeded in circumventing the major pitfalls of such analogical reasoning A truly interdisciplinary study this work shows how scholars working in different fields can effectively improve their methods for interpreting the deep past by understanding the historical challenges of adjacent disciplines Overviewing two centuries of intellectual debate in fields as diverse as archaeology ethnography and primatology Van Reybrouck s book is one long plea for trying to understand the past on its own terms rather than as facile projections from the present David Van Reybrouck Bruges 1971 was trained as an archaeologist at the universities of Leuven Cambridge and Leiden Before becoming a highly successful literary author The Plague Mission Congo he worked as a historian of ideas For more than twelve years he was co editor of Archaeological Dialogues In 2011 12 he held the prestigious Cleveringa Chair at the University of Leiden Theorizing Rituals, Volume 1: Issues, Topics, Approaches, Concepts Jens Kreinath, J.A.M. form or meaning The book begins by considering the indeterminate nature of the evil eye complex Migliore proposes that this indeterminacy allows people to create myriad alternative meanings and messages to define and make sense of their personal experiences He then examines how the evil eye relates to Sicilian Canadian conceptions of health and illness and discusses treatment and prevention strategies Throughout the study the author blends context setting case studies personal recollection and interpretation to provide readers with an accessible alternative look at the multifaceted nature of this folk tradition His position as both an anthropologist and a community insider affords him a unique perspective on the subject This study will be essential reading for students of medical anthropology religion and ethnic studies
