Major social, economic and spatial divisions are apparent in terms of income and wealth, health, crime, housing and employment. This text offers an introduction to current processes of urban restructuring, geographies of division and contemporary conditions within the city. The geography of Britain's cities is the outcome of interaction between a host of public and private economic, social and political forces operating at a variety of spatial scales from the global to the local. A deeper understanding of the nature of urban division and of the problems of and prospects for local people and places in urban Britain must be grounded in an appreciation of the structural forces, processes and contextual factors which condition local urban geographies. This book combines structural and local level perspectives to illuminate the complex geography of socio-spatial division within urban Britain. It combines conceptual and empirical analyses from researchers in the field. Contemporary Issues Here and Abroad Helen Huus, 2016-11-11 This book is a volume in the Penn Press Anniversary Collection. Spanning an entire century the Anniversary Collection offers peer-reviewed scholarship in a wide range of subject areas. Maritime Heritage in Crisis Richard M. Hutchings, 2016-12-08 Grounded in critical heritage studies and drawing on a Pacific Northwest Coast case study, Maritime Heritage in Crisis explores the causes and consequences of the contemporary destruction of Indigenous heritage sites in maritime settings. Maritime heritage landscapes are undergoing a period of unprecedented crisis; these areas are severely impacted by coastal development, continued population growth and climate change. Indigenous heritage sites are thought to be particularly vulnerable to these changes and cultural resource management is frequently positioned as a community's first line of defense yet there is increasing evidence that this archaeological technique is an ineffective means of protection Exploring themes of colonial dislocation and displacement Hutchings positions North American archaeology as neoliberal statecraft a tool of government designed to promote and permit the systematic clearance of Indigenous heritage landscapes in advance of economic development Presenting the institution of archaeology and cultural resource management as a grave threat to Indigenous maritime heritage Maritime Heritage in Crisis offers an important lesson on the relationship between neoliberal heritage regimes and global ecological breakdown
